Dear mothers and soon-to-be mothers,

This GN can of course be read by all of you, dear Family, but I'm specifically addressing it to you mothers and soon-to-be mothers, because I know that it's going to be the most interesting and encouraging for you. You're the ones who are probably going to want to read it, study it, mark it, and review it—whether you're a veteran mother, or you're new to motherhood, or you foresee the Lord bringing children into your life in the future.

2. As you know, there are a number of families in our WS Homes, and the Lord is continuing to give us many babies. At the time of putting together this GN, we have five pregnant women in our different units. So the Lord is certainly blessing us and filling our "quivers" full of children, for which we are so thankful (Psa.127:4-5)! Our children in our WS Homes are such a joy to those who live with them, just as I know that the children in your Homes are a special gift of the Lord's love to you too, and a big part of your witness and testimony.

3. The reason I'm mentioning our children in WS is because the Lord has given a lot of counsel and encouragement to our women during their pregnancies over the last few years, as well as in preparation for their deliveries, and the Lord has laid it on my heart to share some of these messages with you. Although the messages were received for others, you can apply the Lord's counsel and promises in your life too. What He has promised for others, He can do for you, and you too can find comfort and strength in His Words.

4. I admire you, dear mothers, for the faith that you exhibit in bearing children.

I know that it requires a great deal of faith every single time you get pregnant, go through those nine months—which are many times enhanced with lots of excitement, unexpected happenings, trials, battles, etc.—endure the labor and delivery, and then adjust to having a new little one to care for. It doesn't matter whether it's your first pregnancy or your 14th—each one requires yieldedness on your part, as well as great faith. I'm proud of you, dear mothers, and I know that Jesus is proud of you too!

5. I have a lot of prophecies to share with you on the topic of pregnancy and childbirth, so there will probably be a couple of GNs in this series. I'll start with some counsel and encouragement from the Lord regarding pregnancy and all that it entails in this first GN. Then in the next GN we'll probably delve into some specific counsel and promises that the Lord has given regarding labor and delivery. I think that you will find all of those messages particularly encouraging, and you'll be able to come back to them and reread them any time you are preparing for the birth of a new baby.

6. Of course, you can also receive the Lord's counsel for yourself, and that's highly recommended. But it's always faith-building, and a special blessing, to be able to read messages the Lord has already given for others. I'll also be publishing some new key promises and faith-building statements to use while in labor, which I pray you will find helpful.

7. I'm praying for all of you, dear ones, who are presently pregnant and awaiting the birth of your new baby! I know that our Husband is going to take good care of you and the baby growing within you, and bring him or her safely into the world in His perfect time—while giving you the strength, faith, spiritual stamina, and fortitude that you need.

Much love in our wonderful Creator of new life,

Mama

I love to give children to the Family!

8. (Jesus:) My dear wife, thank you for your love and trust in Me, and for having the faith to have a child. A lot of people these days don't have children—whether it is because they are selfish and don't want to have to care for a child for so many years to come, or because they are fearful of how it will change their life, or because they think it will cost too much. That's why I give children very freely to those who choose to give Me that opportunity! I just love to give children to the Family and other strong Christians, because I know that they will be raised in My nurture and admonition and will get a good start in life, with a good foundation, no matter what decisions they end up making later in life. So thank you for being willing to be one of My mothers. You're going to do just fine.

9. I know that you worry about a few aspects of raising your children, because you realize that with the joy of parenting also comes a lot of sacrifice and just plain hard work. You wonder if you will be able to cope with getting little sleep at night, or how you'll manage if the baby is fussy and colicky, and things like that. Yes, there will be challenges. You're going to miss sleep, and it's going to be trying at times—especially trying for your patience, or when the baby interferes in some way with something you're doing or you want to do. But as long as you face each test with faith and ask Me for the grace and patience, you'll do just fine. The love you will have for your little one will overpower the negative feelings, and you will know it's worth it all.

10. So, really, you don't need to worry about all that in advance. It's good to be prepared and to count the cost, which I know you've done. But then leave it in My hands. I'll choose the tests and battles that I know will be best for you and that will help to accomplish My purpose, but I'll never give you more than you are able to bear. I will give you grace and endurance for each test.

Pregnancy: The moving of My Spirit in your life!

11. (Jesus:) “The wind bloweth where it listeth and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh or whither it goeth.” And so it is with this pregnancy, the work of My Spirit. It is the moving of My Spirit in your life. So be at peace with this, for it is a gentle breeze, a warm breeze which I blow upon you, not a cold and harsh one. Let the kisses of My wind caress you and rest in the arms of My love.

12. This time of pregnancy is not meant as a chastening, or as something harsh, something that you must bear, but it is a time of rejoicing, a time of warmth and love, a time of knowing and feeling My care for you, of feeling the breath of My Spirit softly blowing upon the back of your neck and lovingly caressing you. It is not meant to be a difficult time for you, but it is meant to be a time that you feel the touches of My love. This pregnancy is a gift, a token of My love, and you should receive it as such.

Don't worry about the future

13. (Dad:) Now, Honey, don't you go on worrying about the future. It's definitely in the Lord's hands. You just have to leave it there and take it a day at a time. His grace is sufficient. His strength is made perfect in your weakness (2Cor.12:9). So just let Him do this work through you.

14. Don't let the Enemy rob you of one little bit of joy that the Lord has for you during your pregnancy. Sure, the road might not look too easy. You might have a few bumps along the path, but you have the greatest Guide Who's leading you along, holding you by the hand. And He knows just where to tell you to put your feet down.

15. And when you get weary of walking and following in His footsteps, don't worry about it, because He'll carry you. He'll carry you through the rough spots when you're not sure where to put your foot. So just keep trusting Him. You've trusted Him this far and He's done pretty well, hasn't He? He's taken good care of you, and He's going to continue to do so, far beyond your wildest dreams.

16. Remember, He's your Lover, your Friend, your Husband, and you're His bride; and He's certainly not going to neglect you or fail to supply all of your needs. He'll watch over you and care for you and protect you and keep you every step of your way. Just don't let go of His hand. Hold on tight and He'll bring you through. So don't go fretting your pretty head about the future. Just leave it where it belongs—in the Lord's hands.

Be not weary in well doing

17. (Jesus:) My dear one, My precious queen, My chosen vessel whom I have called and chosen to bear this love gift from Me—through this gift of My love you will see the manifestation of My love for you. You will receive such joy and such happiness through the love and smiles of this child that I have given you, this precious one—the touch of My love, My hand moving in your life. For this is My will, this is My gift. This is because of your faith and your obedience.

18. This one will be born not because of the will of man, nor because of the will of flesh, but because of My will. Because of your faith and your obedience I have chosen you to bear this touch of My love, who will bring joy not only to you but to many, for they will see the miracle of My creation and My love. The sufferings that you go through now are nothing compared to the joy and happiness that you will receive.

19. I have allowed the circumstances to be a bit unsettled; nevertheless, as you keep your eyes stayed on Me, you will have peace and rest. As you look to Me, you will have the reassurance that I am in control and that I do all things well. So when the waves are high, when the winds are strong, and when the storm beats against your vessel, see Me standing above it all, looking on you with eyes of love and faith. As we gaze into each other's eyes, your surroundings will fade away as unimportant. As our eyes lock with cords of love, this love will overcome all the circumstances about you.

20. Thank you, My precious one, for receiving My love, for being a yielded vessel, for being the mother I have chosen to bear this one who is special in My sight, who is unique. You will receive much joy and happiness and fulfillment, knowing that you have performed My will. So worry not, fear not, for you will see the touch of My hand in your life and My love manifested through this creation of a new life. Be not weary in well doing, for in due season you will reap if you faint not.

Use praise and prayer to combat worry and fear

21. (Jesus:) I am pleased that you're welcoming this baby into your life with open arms. It always brings Me joy to be able to bless My children with little ones, and I eagerly search for those who will embrace this change and welcome it into their lives.

22. I know it can be quite an adjustment to get used to the many new aspects of pregnancy; your body just doesn't feel the same, and you have to learn to adjust certain parts of your life to be able to give your body the proper care. But know that I reward your efforts, and they aid Me in the creation of this little one. I work with you in the development of this baby. Even though many of your efforts may not have obvious, immediate fruit, they bear long-lasting fruit in the proper development of your little one.

23. There are so many new sensations in your body—some just unusual, and others that can cause you to worry about the baby. You need to trust Me, My love, in the development of your baby. Fight to stay positive even when you experience an unusual pain or discomfort. It's not uncommon to have these little discomforts, and you shouldn't allow yourself to immediately fear that something's wrong.

24. I'm talking here about the minor aches and pains that are par for the course in pregnancy. However, if you should have any pains that seem abnormal or that concern you, then please seek Me about them. Sometimes I use pains to let you know that something is wrong, and to nudge you to get medical attention. Sometimes pains can indicate something serious, and in those situations you wouldn't want to just praise Me and ignore it, if I'm trying to check you to do something about it. Praise Me, yes. But be wise and prayerful and attuned to My nudges.

25. Remember, I'm in control of this whole beautiful creation! I am doing a great work within you, and it's in My best interests to keep you and the baby healthy. Dispel your fears with praise. Whenever you feel a little anxious about some new pain or discomfort, stop to praise Me for all that I've done so far in the creation of this little one. You'll find that as you utter these praises to Me, the fears will vanish and your heart will be filled with peace.

26. It's easy to worry about aspects of your pregnancy; it's something a lot of women face. But you don't have to give in to those thoughts, even if they are common. You can rise above; you can keep your eyes stayed on Me, and you can fight to hold on to Me. Don't give place in your heart or mind to negative or worrisome thoughts; defuse them instantly with praise, and you'll experience an immediate surge and increase to your spirit. Your faith will be renewed.

27. You also should avoid reading about things that could go wrong in a pregnancy. It's very easy to want to pick up a book on pregnancy or search the Web to find out what the possible causes are for certain pains, but don't give in to that temptation—unless I have specifically given you the go-ahead. It'll only hurt your faith, and you'll find that you'll start to harbor more worries and fears.

28. The point isn't to never look at a pregnancy book or research things online. There are many good pregnancy books that you can benefit from, and some good websites that contain helpful information too. But if you find yourself looking to the System books and the Internet as your first course of action, or the thing you default to when you worry about something, this is not My will. I want you to first of all seek Me and My counsel and peace.

29. Your best recourse is to use praise and prayer to combat worry and fear. Keep a positive mindset, and praise Me when you feel like fearing, and that will help to keep your mind focusing on the good and the beautiful. I have begun a good work in you, and I'm going to perform that good work to completion, so trust Me. I am more concerned about the little life within you than you are, so trust Me in My care of that child and you.

I bring what each person needs into their life

30. (Mama:) Most of the following prophecies on the topic of early pregnancy sickness were received by or for a woman who experienced all-day sickness for quite a few months in the beginning of her pregnancy. So if you go through similar difficulties in the beginnings of your pregnancies, or if you are currently battling bad sickness, then I pray that these messages will be an encouragement to you. Or, even if you battle with light sickness, I'm sure the Lord's words will be a comfort to you and you will be able to cling to His promises.

31. Also, as you will see, the Lord talks to this mother quite a bit about her work in the following messages. This was because during the time that she was sick, she was hardly able to do anything. So her main battles were associated with not being able to do her desk job, seeing the work stack up, and not being able to do anything about it—except to trust the Lord for it—and that's what He talked to her about and the angle He was coming from.

32. But you dear mothers who don't work in a service-type ministry, but who lead very busy Home lives, might have different concerns. If you're sick, you might be discouraged because you aren't able to take care of your children as well, or you aren't able to fundraise or get out witnessing as much, or you might have to depend on others to carry more of the load in the Home while you can't, and that can be humbling. Or maybe in some cases if you're living in a very small Home, you won't even have anyone to fill in for you, and you'll have to continue on the best you can through your sickness, trusting that the Lord will give you the grace and strength you need! I know He will!

33. Thank the Lord that He has blessed so many of you dear Family women with relatively easy pregnancies! But if and when the tough times do hit, know that the Lord has the solutions for you. If you're too sick to do much of anything, He will help your Home to take care of the essentials miraculously. Or, if there is no one else who can help to carry your load, then He will heal you, or at least cause your sickness to be very minimal. The point is that He knows what each person needs and will not give you more than you are able to bear. And when it comes to the work—whether you're in a service ministry or a busy Home—He is more concerned about it than you are, and will not let His work suffer.

34. Also, remember that if you are sick, this time of sickness isn't a punishment, but a gift. Know that the Lord has a plan in allowing you to go through the time of sickness, no matter how difficult it might be for you—and in His perfect time, He will bring you through.

35. (Jesus:) My love, because of the chemical make-up of your body, you do get sicker than most women do when you're pregnant. That's just the way I have made you. And although I could override that if it were necessary for a very good reason, I don't normally because I let nature run its course. If there was a serious emergency, or if you were in a situation where you couldn't take the time to rest, when you couldn't afford to be sick, if it would hurt the work, then I would do such a miracle. But right now there is no such dire situation, so I'm letting your body go through this.

36. I know you wonder why, if I love you so much, I would let you feel so sick all day. Well, My love, it's a small price that you have to pay in order to show Me that you really want this baby, and that you're willing to do whatever is necessary for it.

37. I know that some women—in fact, many of the women you know—have very easy early pregnancies in comparison to yours. Some women feel just a little sick; others don't feel sick at all. But don't compare with other women, My love. Know that they all go through something in their pregnancy that makes it difficult for them.

38. Every woman pays a price, but the price is different in each pregnancy. For example, some girls can't have sex throughout their whole pregnancy for various reasons, and this is a price, because it can be a strain on their marriage. Others have discomforts later in pregnancy that you won't have. Others run on little sleep their entire pregnancy. So trust that I know what I'm doing, and I bring what each person needs into their life. I won't allow this sickness to last longer than it needs to.

39. As far as the discouragement you're feeling as a result of not being able to get as much work done because of your sickness, and even when you do work, it's much slower, I want to remind you that this is indeed the best time for you to get pregnant. You would feel this way no matter when you were to get pregnant. There's no such thing as a perfect time for getting pregnant—a perfect time would be when there's no work to be done. But since there's always work to be done for Me and My Kingdom, and more than you can ever get done, of course it will be a trial for you no matter when it happens. You're never going to think it's the "right time." But if it weren't the right time for you to be pregnant, then I wouldn't have allowed it. So trust Me for this. Trust Me for the work.

40. Just do what you can when you're feeling well. Even if you can only do a few hours of good, solid work a day, that's better than nothing.

That's progress. So praise Me for the good. Praise Me for what you are able to get done, and don't focus on what you're not getting to, or what you wish you could accomplish. Right now you're accomplishing more than your accomplishments on the work front. You're helping Me to create a baby, and that's pretty important. So don't belittle it. Look at it as part of your work, because it is. You're a mother, so having children is part of your work.

41. There are many reasons why I have allowed this pregnancy sickness, My love. But trust Me that it will not last longer than I know is necessary. In time, you will be back at the top of your game.

Sickness is not a punishment

42. (Jesus:) I'm a smart shepherd, and I use whatever I can in your life to keep you desperate, to keep you close to Me, to give you an opportunity to use your spiritual weapons in combat. So this time of pregnancy sickness is not a punishment but a blessing. You need things from time to time in your life that force you to use your weapons, and since you haven't had too many major battles that have forced you to do so in a while, I'm using this pregnancy as a means to train you further, to tone you up spiritually, to give you a tune-up in the spirit.

43. I know that you have wondered why I allow you to get so sick. You look at other pregnant women who seem to breeze through their pregnancies without much, if any, sickness at all, and you wonder why I don't give you that kind of luxury. Well, there's more to other people's lives than you realize. Maybe I'm using other things to keep them close to Me, to sharpen their new weapons skills, and to give them their spiritual tune-ups. So maybe they don't need a time of sickness to strengthen them spiritually. I know that they're already getting what they need through other avenues, so I lighten up on the sickness for them.

44. You shouldn't look at the sickness of pregnancy as a punishment. I don't make the brides that I am displeased with sick and give good health to those I favor. That's absolutely not the way that I work. It's all a matter of what you need in your life, what I know you can handle, the lessons I wish to teach you, and all the rest. So this sickness is not a punishment; it's a time that I want to use to draw you close to Me, to help you to feel My love, to allow you to rest in My arms, to show you the strength of weakness, to force you to use your spiritual weapons more vigorously.

45. This sickness will pass; it will not last forever. But the important thing is that you allow Me to work in your life in the way that I want to through this time. You can do some work, yes, but don't let that be the gauge of your success during these weeks. Let the gauge of your success be whether or not you are at peace, whether or not you are praiseful, whether or not you are getting the rest that your body needs, whether or not you are eating as well as you can, whether or not you are drawing nigh to Me. The work you will always have with you, but you won't always have this time when I wish to pour into you.

46. You might as well enjoy this time, My love. If you're not trying to push yourself, it will be an easier Jordan to cross. Just do what you can, work when you can, and then trust Me for the rest. Remember that success during this time is not gauged by success in your work. Making it through this pregnancy victoriously, and being stronger spiritually for it, is the success I'm looking for.

47. I love you, My darling. Remember that I have engineered this: the pregnancy as well as the surrounding circumstances. So just continue yielding to it. Continue praising Me even when you are sick, throwing up, and bedridden. Praise Me for what I'm doing in your life, even if you don't feel any change. Praise Me that I know what I'm doing and that I have My hand in your life. Praise Me in all things, and I will bring you through.

Anything that is worth something costs something

48. (Jesus:) My precious bride, how I love you and hold you to My bosom! Your love for Me is so pure and strong, and I return My love to you in the same measure—for it is strong and hot and passionate, and I'd do anything for you.

49. I'm sorry you're having to endure this time of sickness, but fear not, for it will soon be over. This will pass, and the end is near. Then comes the fun of the baby growing and developing and being born, becoming a brand-new child of God for My Kingdom that I am placing in your care.

50. These children I have given you are treasures from Heaven, and has it not been said that sometimes you have to go through a little bit of difficulty to mine the treasures? Anything that is worth something costs something. And in this case, you're having to sacrifice a little in order to gain the most precious treasure on Earth.

51. Hang on to Me, My love, through this sickness! Call on the keys of faith and the ability to rise above. For although this morning sickness is a natural thing, and I have My purposes and reasons for it, you are able to rise above it through the power of the keys. That is the amazing thing about the keys—the keys can do the impossible, and what you were unable to do before. So hang on to them and claim their rise-above power, and see how easily you make it through the rest of this time.

52. My darling love, this child I have given you will bring joy to your heart, and to the heart of your husband! You know how precious your first child is to you, and how he has changed your life for the good, and brought such happiness into your lives. Well, this child will do the same, and even more, and will be a special little one to you. Because of your great love for Me and your willingness to lay down your life for Me and the Family and the sheep, I am bestowing these beautiful gifts upon you to brighten and lighten your life in so many ways.

53. I do caution you, in My great love for you, to take good care of yourself during this time when the baby is forming, and while I am perfecting all that concerns it. Eat well, and do whatever I show you is best for the little one and its welfare. Don't let the Enemy discourage you from taking care of yourself as you need to. I know you won't, My love, for I know you want what's best for the child. You're such a wonderful mother, and that's why I can give you these beautiful children to care for.

54. Sweet loving bride, thank you for being willing to bear these little ones for Me. It makes Me so happy! Remember to claim the rise-above key so that this time of sickness may go more easily and quickly. The discomfort will pass soon, My love, as you keep hanging on to Me and those powerful, magical, never-failing keys!

Let Me work in the way I want to work in your life

55. (Jesus:) I love you so much! You are very dear to My heart and always have been. I've been guiding your life from the time you were little, and with each right decision you made, I was able to give you new blessings, new opportunities, new challenges, and use you to fulfill My highest will. I'm still in control of your life—in perfect control. You must believe that and trust Me, even through this difficult time of sickness in pregnancy and the domino effect that you see happening as a result.

56. You're worried about the work. It's natural to be concerned, because you see that things are slowing down in your work output and you are having to slow down in order to cope with morning sickness. But what you have to be careful about, My love, is that you're not pushing for the work to get done even more than I am. It's okay to be concerned about doing your job, about being productive, etc., but if that's the only focus you have, and the only thing you think needs to happen and the only victory, and that being on the ball and productive is My only will—then you're taking control, when I am supposed to be in control.

57. Obviously, I want you pregnant, and I've also made it so that your pregnancy involves more sickness than it does for lots of other women. So what does that mean to you—that something is completely wrong with this picture, and that you, of all people, can't be so sick, because, after all, you have an important job to do? That's right, you do have an important job to do, but the important job you think you have to do right now isn't the one I'm thinking that you have to do. You could make things a lot easier on your mind and spirit and general happiness by accepting the fact that the baby you are creating is a major big deal to Me, and it's one of the most important jobs that you have to do right now.

58. Something has to give when you get pregnant, and it can't be the baby, or your health, or your marriage and the father of your baby, so what does that leave?—Your job. You have to face the facts like every other pregnant woman, that you can't expect to do as much and you can't keep rolling along like you did before you got pregnant. This shouldn't be difficult for you to yield to Me, unless you're letting your pride get the best of you and it's standing in the way of you accepting what I'm doing in your life. This is My plan, My love, both for you and for My work's sake. It's not a mistake or a roadblock to anything. The work is going to slow down, but I'm okay with that.

59. This is where you need to get on board and let Me work in the way that I want to work in your life by giving you this baby. I'm in control of the work of My Kingdom. I'm sorry to have to put it to you so straight, but it hurts Me to see you struggle so and be in such conflict over the work that you aren't able to do for Me. Trust Me even if you can't carry your full load, and allow Me to slow you down while you make a baby. It's a test of your patience and faith to slow down, to trust Me for the work that you can't be a part of, to even trust Me for who will have to do the things that you normally do.

But these things are good for you, My love, and as you yield to Me and trust Me and put it all in My hands, you will be strengthened and relieved of this stress and worry.

60. I know it's humbling for you to be out of the center of action and the mainstream of the work and to have to let others make some decisions and do some of the things that you used to do, but that's okay too. Humbling is always a good thing. You might as well relax and enjoy this process of making a baby, of slowing down, of trusting Me, of letting others do more work than you, and you do that by praising Me for it all. It's not good enough to praise Me for the baby and how happy you are for him; you need to praise Me for it all—the sickness, giving up some of your workload, having to take it easier—all of it. That's the way to find peace of mind and the center of My will. You could be in a lot worse situations—not that this is a bad situation, but to your way of thinking it is. I'm not saying that it's easy; I know it's not easy for you to be sick, but I want to tell you that you can either make it easier or harder on yourself by your attitude.

61. If you hold on to what you want and how you would like things to be, instead of accepting and yielding to what I'm doing—that's the hard way. But if you flow with it, accept it, and praise your way through the times of sickness and call on the keys of grace and faith and patience and humility to let Me work in your life—this will be the much easier way. Even if you're still sick, at least your spirit will be at peace and you won't be torn between trying to accomplish what you want and Me trying to accomplish what I want.

62. I'm only saying these things to you, My darling, because I love you very much and I want to help you. I don't want you to struggle through your pregnancy battling with these feelings about your job and your work on top of dealing with sickness. You've got to know that it's okay to let your work go and that it doesn't mean you will be out of a job or lose your job or that someone else will take your place. Yes, you will have to let others make some decisions and you can't be involved in all that you used to do, but that's okay, right? Yes, someone else will have to pick up the slack, but that's hardly taking your place. The work will be there for you when you're ready to do it. That's one thing you can count on—there will always be more work than you can ever get done.

63. You know I could heal you, right? So if I'm not healing you right now, there is a good reason for it. I'm using this to accomplish something important in your life. Trust Me. Know that I'm in control and nothing will happen to you, or to your job, that's not My will nor the very best. Pray for the faith and humility and patience and all that you need to let Me work and to yield to My will. Praise Me through it all. Really practice the art of praise and use this time to learn to become an expert praise weapon wielder.

64. I love you very much, My darling. I'm taking care of you each minute of the day. I will not fail you, I promise. This time will soon be past, and if you've been faithful to give Me all the glory and credit and praise for what I'm doing, you'll look back at this time as a very precious experience in your life.

Practical tips for morning sickness

65. (Jesus:) A key is to not let yourself get hungry. The times when you feel sickest are the times when you have had a completely empty stomach—in the morning when you wake up, after your breakfast has digested, then before dinner. So be sure that you always have something in your stomach. See what works for you to eat between meals. And also try eating crackers first thing, before you get out of bed. That will hopefully make the first hour of your day a bit more pleasant.

66. You'll learn more as you go along with this pregnancy. A key is to really listen to your body. If you're hungry, eat something. If you're tired, have a little nap. If you just need to rest, then rest. And when you feel well, then work hard and get a lot accomplished. Also, try to go to bed at a reasonable hour. Getting good rest will help you to feel better overall. And light exercise is also wise, and will help to keep you in good shape. Even if it takes extra effort when you're not feeling well, it's good for you.

67. I love you, My darling, and will try to make this time as easy as possible for you. I'll keep the discomforts to a minimum, and shorten the period of morning sickness for you. And when you get weary of the sickness, remember that it's simply what I use in some women's lives in order to create a strong and healthy baby. It means you have a lot of hormones running through your body, and I'm working hard to create that new little life within you. The end goal will be worth it.

This time of suffering is bringing you closer to Me!

68. (Jesus:) This time of pregnancy sickness is but for a moment and will soon be gone, and you will rejoice in the beautiful fruit that this time of suffering will bring forth.—Not only the beautiful fruit of the baby to come, but the fruit that I will bear in you as you turn to Me, and seek Me, and give Me your will and your desires.

69. Of course, I know that at this time your main desire is to feel better physically, but your soul also cries out for the peace and fulfillment that only closeness to Me can bring. This time of suffering is bringing you closer to Me. As you cry out to Me for deliverance, I hear your cry, and I reward you with that which you desire even more than physical strength and health. I reward you with sweet peace and contentment and faith that I will carry you all the way through this pregnancy.

70. I have given you this great reward of a new baby, as I have counted you worthy as one of My queen mothers. Your yieldedness and faith to bring forth more fruit for Me in your body is a great joy to Me. You will never be sorry that you have given yourself to Me in this way.

71. Look forward with joy to the day that is to come when you will hold your little one in your arms, and see Me smiling at you through his eyes. A gift, a reward!—What more can I give you than one of My most precious gifts, a newborn soul for My Kingdom? Keep your eyes on Me, and no matter what the future may bring, know that you are My precious bride and I will always care for you. With love, your Husband forever, Jesus.

It's just your body that's sick, not your spirit!

72. (Jesus:) Even though you're sick, My love, it's just your body that's sick, not your spirit. Your spirit is growing and blossoming more than ever. You can't see it, and maybe it's even hard for you to believe it right now while you're so sick, but I see it and I know it. I'm true to My promises, and when I take something from you—and in your case, it's your physical health right now—I always give you something in its place. Your body may be weak and weary, and maybe you even feel weary in spirit from battling so much sickness, but trust Me, your spirit is strong and growing even stronger.

73. I have to strengthen your spirit, otherwise you wouldn't be able to bear it. And so I am. I'm anointing you and strengthening you to fight this battle. You're yielding to Me, and each time you fight with your last ounce of strength, I bless you for it. You might not realize it, but each time you fight to even hang on one more day, to be praiseful and to trust Me for the healing and for the outcome you desire, you are being healed. You open yourself up to receive My healing power.

74. I know you don't "feel" the healing at all yet, and you're very sick and discouraged, but as I said, it's only your body that's sick, not your spirit. In the spirit you are doing beautifully. In the spirit you are My shining warrior, a real fighter, a top visionary. You're going through a bit of martyrdom right now, but like all who have gone through something like this and have yielded to Me in spite of the test, you will receive the special anointing of the battles you have won.

75. At the end of the road, and once the baby is delivered and you hold him in your arms, you will feel very different about the battles you have fought and you will truly be able to say, “It was worth it.” It’s not that you won’t remember these battles, but they will seem different to you and not so “damaging” to your body. You’ll be able to say, “That was hard, but I’m so glad the Lord gave me the strength to make it.”

76. I want you to know, My love, that it won’t be this difficult throughout your entire pregnancy. I will give you rest and relief from the extreme sickness. Trust Me to help you and to deliver you in My time.

77. Here are some new personal key promises that you can claim to strengthen your faith. Most of all, know that I will not fail you or leave you comfortless. I’m here for you and I am helping you. I’m sorry that this is a difficult battle, but it’s well worth it, and when the victory is won you will receive the blessing and the shine for a battle well fought.

78. When you feel like you can’t possibly make it one more minute, call on the keys of encouragement to give you the strength and faith you need to tackle even the most difficult task, and to do it well.

79. When you feel like you’re about to throw up, call on the keys of grace and they will make it as easy as possible.

80. I can reverse any condition in your body, and even if you don’t see immediate results, keep claiming the keys of miracles and you will eventually see good changes come to pass.

81. If I have asked it of you, then trust that I will also give you the physical and spiritual strength and anointing to perform My will through calling on the keys.

Always make the healthier choice

82. (Jesus:) When it comes to your diet, the best thing is to always make the healthier choice first and to stay away from empty calories that aren’t going to do you or your baby any good. It’s okay to have occasional sweet things, but really, they should be occasional, as that’s not going to help you so much. Your plate should be balanced in such a way that you’re giving priority to eating the things that are most important.

83. Then, as far as your baby’s development, the best counsel I can give you is not to worry, but to pray for your baby. Pray for its health and strength. Pray for My perfect will. Commit your baby to Me. Dedicate your baby to Me. Put your baby in My hands, and you will be doing the best thing that you can do for his little life.

There is nothing to be anxious about

84. (Jesus:) There is nothing to fear, My love, there is nothing to be anxious about. The baby is fine and doing well, and happy to be coming into the world soon, coming to you, to be part of your family. All is well. She will bring much happiness and love into your lives, much joy, much delight and warmth. Be not afraid, therefore, but trust and be at peace.

85. It’s important that you have peace and trust during this time, because the baby can sense when you’re uneasy or fearful, and it can be unpleasant and even a bit unsettling for her. It’s important that these last couple of months in the womb are free from as much stress and turmoil as possible, so that she is able to continue to grow and fully develop.

86. So cast your cares and concerns upon Me, knowing that I care for you and your little one. I have blessed her and will bring her into your arms safe and sound in My good time, I promise. I love you.

I'm taking care of everything

87. (Mama:) The following prophecy was received by a mother who was concerned about the health of her unborn baby. Although she had been trying her best to eat well and ensure that her baby was healthy, she had been very sick during the beginning months of her pregnancy, which caused her to worry that her baby wasn't getting all of the nutrients it needed. She had also regularly been eating something that she later found out was artificially sweetened, which isn't recommended during pregnancy.

88. So she took her concerns to the Lord—which is what you should do anytime there is anything regarding your pregnancy that is worrying you or causing you to not be at peace—and He gave her the following words of comfort regarding the health of her baby.

89. (Jesus:) As long as you are doing your part when it comes to giving your baby the nutrients and good food that it needs, then I will do My part. You can trust Me completely on this point, My love, and have no need to worry or be concerned. Now, if you were being disobedient to My health rules, and if you weren't trying to eat as well as you could for the sake of the baby, and if you were disregarding My counsel and the advice of others, then you wouldn't be able to have such peace in your heart. The perfect peace of knowing that I am in complete control comes when you are doing what you can, when you are being obedient, which I know you are.

90. I'm not saying that if you ever eat anything that is considered unsafe for pregnancy, that you have to worry and be concerned. There are so many things that you can do unknowingly, or so many "bad" things that you can eat without even realizing it, and I protect you and your baby from the negative effects of such things. But that's very different from knowingly eating things that are unsafe on a regular basis, or drinking a lot of alcohol when you know you shouldn't. I wouldn't be able to protect you and your baby as fully if you were knowingly disobeying and regularly doing things that you shouldn't.

91. There is so much that the Enemy can convince you to worry about when you're pregnant, that if you give in to his devices, you can end up spending your entire pregnancy as a nervous wreck. He can make you feel condemned about things you ate, or did, or alcohol you drank before you found out you were pregnant. He can make you feel worried about the days when you were sick and couldn't keep so much food down. He will try to make you concerned when you don't quite reach your quota of protein on a given day—even though you generally do eat enough. He can make you very discouraged about things you eat and then later find out are not recommended for pregnancy.

92. He can make you worried about the aches and pains of pregnancy that you feel, telling you that there must be something horribly wrong. He can make you fearful when you don't feel your baby move as much, but then can also tempt you to be worried when it seems to be overactive—thinking that maybe there's something wrong with that too. The list of things that the Enemy can make you worry about when you're pregnant is endless, and if you listen to him, your pregnancy will be a very unpleasant one.

93. How much better to just have faith and trust Me that everything is in My hands, that everything is within My control, and that I am taking care of you and the new life that is growing within you. This is the only fact you need—that I'm taking care of everything!

94. You can't throw all caution to the wind and expect that I'm going to make everything perfect regardless of what you do. But as long as you're doing your best to eat right, sleep right, exercise right, and pray right—for your pregnancy and your baby and all of her needs—then I will do what you can't do. I'm the Creator of the baby. You're not. You're just the vehicle that I'm using, and you've got to fuel your vehicle and take proper care of it, especially when there's a baby on the way. But as far as the baby itself goes, I'm the One Who is ensuring that it is being formed to perfection. If you are doing what you can do, you don't need to worry about a thing. I am doing the hidden work of creating the miracle of new life within you.

95. Don't let the Enemy steal your joy or your faith through his temptations to worry. If something is bothering you, ask Me. If you ate something that maybe you shouldn't have, but didn't realize it, ask Me to tell you if everything is okay. Don't just listen to the Enemy, who is more than happy to tell you anytime you'll listen to him that things are not okay, that the baby might not be growing perfectly, and blah, blah, blah. Listen to Me! Look to Me. Put your faith in Me. I am even more concerned about the health and well-being of your little baby than you are. Your baby is My baby. We are joint partners in this endeavor, and I will see to My end of the bargain as you see to yours.

96. It is My joy and My pleasure to create healthy, well-formed, strong babies to be raised in My Kingdom. Thank you, My love, for being willing to bear one for Me, and for having faith and trusting that all is well—for it is!

97. (Question:) Jesus, You said, “It is My joy and My pleasure to create healthy, well-formed, strong babies to be raised in My Kingdom.” So what about the babies that You have created, babies that You have blessed women in the Family with, who were not born “healthy,” “well-formed” or “strong”?

98. (Jesus:) I have carefully created each baby that I have blessed My Family with. There is not one baby that was a mistake! Even though I have given you some babies that were born with health problems or deformities, each one of them was created perfectly in spirit.

99. Each baby was formed just the way I wanted them to be for their special mission on Earth, for the special place that they would fill in your hearts and lives, for the purpose that I created them for. Some of the babies that I have blessed the Family with may not seem perfect in the physical sense, but they are perfect in My eyes, because they were perfectly created by Me.

100. So if I should ever bless you with a special child, do not fear and do not be condemned. Know that such children are extra-special blessings from My hand, and bring with them gifts of the spirit and rewards that you will never want to trade in for anything. Trust Me. I create each baby as healthy, well-formed, and strong as I need them to be for their role on Earth, to be raised in My Kingdom, and to fulfill the job that they and I agree on in Heaven before they enter your world!

101. There's no such thing as a mistake when it comes to the children born within the Family. Each one is handpicked and created uniquely by Me for you to love and care for and raise for My glory! (End of message.)

Learn to actively wield your weapon of prayer

102. (Jesus:) You'd find that if you were to faithfully commit your concerns to Me in prayer, things would go so much smoother. You'd worry less about how things would turn out. It'd be easier for you to function because you'd be trusting Me for the outcome.

103. These are the days when you need to learn to actively wield your weapon of prayer. It doesn't really matter if you feel like it, but if you'll just ask Me to help you commit things to prayer more, and then make the effort yourself when I do check you, then you'll be progressing so much more quickly. You'll be less entangled in the worries or concerns that can sometimes limit your faith. I want you to step out on the limb of prayer more, and through committing things to Me more diligently in prayer, you'll be better able to trust Me and have faith for the outcome.

104. You are faithful to pray for the little one within you. Every time you find yourself facing something a little uncomfortable, or a slight pain or stretching that you're not accustomed to, when you say a prayer for the baby and yourself, you find that the discomfort fades easily, and you're also less beset by worry about the baby. This is a good example of how it should be in every aspect of your life—whenever that first little “uh-oh” thought crosses your mind, you can snuff out any fretting from the very beginning by committing it to Me in prayer.

105. It really is a winning formula: I take your concerns, and through your prayers bring you both peace of mind and also answer your prayer and do that which you cannot do. Fortify your prayers by praising Me, loving Me intimately, calling on the keys, and claiming My promises. As you do, you'll feel greater empowerment through your prayers, because you'll know that you will be doing your part, and I in turn will step in and do what you cannot do; I will bring the miracles you need.

Put a little time and prayer into caring for yourself

106. (Jesus:) There is a balance, particularly at this time with the little life I've blessed you with. You need to be doing your part to care for your body so that you're giving your baby all that it needs to grow healthy and strong. That should be one of your priorities, and should not be neglected. But you also need to find the balance so that you don't get lethargic or let other areas of your life take a hit.

107. Naturally you're going to have to spend more time sleeping and eating, because those are both things your body needs at this point. But you'll be surprised at how much you can also fill those times with in a positive way so that you're not neglecting your spirit. For example, you could use time when you're preparing something to eat to take a little praise time or prayer vigil; the same can be done when you're working on getting out of bed. Use those moments to love Me, and you'll find yourself much more inspired to greet the rest of the day.

108. You also need to plan certain aspects of your day a little better, so that you're eating the right foods and eating at the right times. Be sure that your diet is balanced. At mealtimes you need to eat smaller portions, as your body is not capable of processing such large meals after so many snacks throughout the day. So cut down your meal size to smaller portions; even if it means eating more frequently, it will end up being easier on your body.

109. I want to help you through this time so that your body and baby get all that they need. So put a little time and prayer into caring for yourself, and you'll see that it will make a difference and will positively affect other areas of your life as well.

The sacrifices are worth it for the eternal gain

110. (Jesus:) Oh, how I love the creation of new life! It is with such satisfaction that I nurture and develop each little one. It's a beautiful time of transformation in a mother's life as well, a time when you bond with your baby even before you see him or her. And in many ways it also provides you with a closer connection with Me, because you see the awesomeness of My handiwork and creation taking place in your life—within you.

111. Such a beautiful creation doesn't come without its aches and pains, and I'm proud of you for bearing them bravely, for keeping your chin up and letting Me work in your life in this way. You find yourself astounded at times that I can actually create life within you to such perfection. It's not that you didn't think about this before, but going through the experience yourself has given you a new respect for the skill with which I bring each new life into the world. I put such loving care into the development of every baby, because each one is so precious to Me. The growth of a little one has always been and always will be one of the highlights of My creation, one that brings great satisfaction to Me.

112. At times it might seem like you, the mother, have to give a lot of yourself in order for that little life to flourish. And while it is a sacrifice and has its difficulties, when you step back from the present and look at the big picture, you see that these bodily sacrifices are so worth it for the eternal gain you'll experience in life. You will have a child to love and care for, to cherish and to train in My ways. You'll come to know the love of a parent in a greater way, and to find such joy in this new calling. The present tests and adjustments will vanish when you hold your little one; any pain and difficulty will disappear with the rush of love and contentment that will fill your heart.

113. You're embarking on a new part of life's journey, My love. It's hard for you to know or understand all that it will change in your life, but I'm proud of you for embracing it and letting Me work in your life by giving you a baby. Knowing that you have wanted a baby for so long makes this gift that much more special to you, and I love the fact that you have allowed Me to work in your life in this way. It's an experience that is going to enrich your life, more adequately prepare you for all that's ahead in your service for Me, and also teach you to love and care for others with greater concern and understanding.

114. Thank you for welcoming this little one into your life. I'm proud of you for accepting the adjustments that it has required of your life and work, and for learning to adapt your lifestyle in order to give your body and the baby the care that you both need. Thank you for not neglecting your physical care during this time. I know you feel you could've done better, but you have done well, My love. Because of your diligence and concern for the care of your little one, your baby has been able to grow and develop well over these months. It makes it that much easier for Me to properly care for your little one when you're doing your part to live right.

115. Taking proper care of yourself when you're pregnant is one of those sacrifices that has long-lasting dividends and is always worth the effort. Just as you wouldn't withhold the proper nourishment and care of a baby in your care, it's of equal importance to provide that same care for your unborn child through taking proper care of yourself in the way you eat, your exercise, your rest, and your overall well-being.

116. Don't worry when you encounter the odd aches and pains in the development of your little one. It can be unnerving because you don't fully understand the cause or why there's discomfort, but if you'll just keep turning your eyes toward Me and trusting Me to care for your little one and you, then I will perfect that which concerns you.

Refill your spiritual stocks every day

117. (Jesus:) It's a law of the spirit that faith comes through hearing and studying My Word. The more time you spend drinking in My Word and storing it deep within you, then the better your faith ballast will be. You haven't been drinking as deeply of the Word in these last weeks as you've needed to. You get a so-so infilling that works to a degree, but it's been a while since you've really taken time in My chamber and allowed the Word to sink into your heart and help to fortify and build up your faith.

118. This is one of the reasons why you find yourself a little more beset by concerns and worries—your faith ballast is a little low and needs solid, consistent replenishing. It's not that you entirely neglect your Word time, but you've allowed it to slip from its priority place as number one in your life. You've put less importance on it because you've felt that the physical demands on your pregnant body have been more taxing and prominent. But don't you see, My love? This negligence is only hurting you. It's making it a lot harder for you to trust Me to care for the baby and you.

119. You find yourself surrounded by so many concerns, and you aren't weathering them well because you don't have as solid a faith backup as you need in order to dispel and counter these worries. Worrying is never of Me, so when you find yourself being sucked into a worry vortex, you can be sure that that's not My plan. I would happily pull you in the opposite direction if you would help Me out by taking the proper time that you need with Me.

120. You listen to My Word, but you don't follow up what you read by hearing from Me faithfully. So your Word time is only so-so, and you don't benefit from it fully. There are also times when I wish you would just sit down and study My Word, drinking deeply of it, without any other distractions or outside disturbances. But you've found that hard to do, and rather than making an effort, even if it is difficult for you, you've settled for less than My best, less than what is best for your spirit as well. And that, My love, is hurting you.

121. You're trying to wait it out in the hopes that when some of the stronger pregnancy symptoms subside you'll be more physically in gear to maintain a better schedule that allows you to get solid Word time before the day begins. But think about that a little: Is that really the right viewpoint? Shouldn't you be striving to care for yourself spiritually just as much now as later? Your spiritual reserves are not well stocked, so it's not that you have endless reserves to dip into. You're meant to refill your spiritual stocks every day, to ensure maximum strength and spiritual vitality.

122. You've been excusing yourself too much when it comes to your times of spiritual feeding, and this is hurting Me, because it has a bearing on our relationship. It affects My ability to help you, to give you the faith to counter the Enemy's worries, and stand strong amidst the daily battles and tests. You're going to need to make a conscious effort to fit in your time with Me regardless of the other demands in the day. If you're having a hard time waking up with your alarm clock, then ask your husband to wake you up by a certain time in the morning so that you're able to fit in that time with Me.

123. It's not that waking up a little later is so bad for you, but the problem is that you have a very difficult time redirecting your day to fit in that time with Me, and that's what I'm trying to highlight with this message. You cannot bump your Word time aside; that'll only hurt you, as it already has been. If you were faithfully making it up, and ensuring at least a solid 1½ hours of Word, better yet 2 hours, then it wouldn't be such a problem; but you're not getting that, and that's what makes Me sad.

124. There'll always be physical challenges around you that make it difficult to take your time with Me, and that will be more so the case as time goes on with a baby. So you have to be personally determined and committed to meeting your spiritual health requirements regardless, so that you're able to manage even if your ideal schedule is blown to the wind. Are you committed enough to do that? I know you want to try, but as the verse goes, "The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak" (Mat.26:41), and this is true in your case. Your physical body is putting more demands on you by being pregnant, but it's not something beyond rising above, though it does require a personal impetus and desire on your part to strive for it.

125. I'm sorry if this little reprimand is a little pointed, but I'm being direct with you because I know you want to strive for the best, and sometimes you just need a little motivation in the right direction. What you feed your spirit has a bearing on all the other things in your life—your work, your emotional and mental stability, even your physical health, because your outlook can either give you the boost to rise above or drag you low.

126. I'm not going to list all the ways that you can fit in more Word time, as I've already laid out a number of plans for you. Now you must determine what you're going to commit to, and then stick with it, come what may. If you need a helping hand, then get your husband's help. You'll probably find that simply asking him to help you will give you more of an incentive to get up in the morning, because you'll have that little conscious prick in the back of your mind, which is always a good incentive.

127. I love you and I can help you through this transitional period. You may not always feel on top of the world, but I can give you a victorious and triumphant spirit, regardless of the battles of the day. And remember, My love, that it is all for a purpose too. There's a beautiful new life growing inside of you, a miraculous touch from My hand on your life. So even though it's requiring a change for you, see it as worth the effort because it's bringing forth a wonderful treasure and sign of My love for you. It's a love gift, and though it initially comes in an uncomely package, as time unwraps this beautiful gift, the little trials and challenges you're facing now will fade into oblivion, washed away by the great joy and happiness that I've placed in your hands because I love you so dearly.

128. Care for yourself, My love, physically, and just as important, spiritually, because I need you in top running order so you can care for and pour into your little one in the days to come. I love you.

Adjusting to the latter stage of pregnancy

129. (Mama:) The following three prophecies were received by a pregnant mother who was going through a number of changes in her life all at once during the latter stages of her pregnancy. She had moved Homes, her ministry was changing, and she also had to be away from her husband for about two months. All of this, coupled with the different challenges of the latter stages of pregnancy, really drove her to the Lord, Who kept her afloat and gave her the counsel and encouragement and instruction that she needed at every turn. I believe that these messages will be an encouragement to any of you mothers who have to juggle a number of changes in your life or situation during a pregnancy.

130. (Jesus:) I've told you that I will use this time of pregnancy for good in your life, but you're already discouraged by it. You don't see where you're going to get the strength to face all that lies before you. There is much that you need to adjust to at this time; being in a new environment and situation is taking time and physical energy. You haven't really ventured into the work yet, and that is an aspect you're dreading because you are so spent and exhausted already.

131. I'm not pushing you to overexert yourself. You need to accommodate the demands on your body; you can't operate as you did in the earlier stages of your pregnancy, because you don't have the same strength. If you push yourself too much physically you're going to find that it will take a toll on your spirit as well.

132. That, in essence, is a little of what's happening now: You've been exerting yourself for quite some time with your move, and your body hasn't always gotten the degree of rest that it needs. Added to that, you're now adjusting to a new situation, which takes a greater toll on your body, because you're caring for not just yourself, but for the little one you're carrying as well.

133. It's not worth it to push yourself unduly; you are going to have to slow down even if it's difficult for you, and it makes you feel a little useless for a while. If you want to recoup your energy, and if you want to lose the exhaustion that you're experiencing, you need to give greater care to your body. No one will judge and measure you by it, and if that's your concern, then you should see that as the spirit of pride. It's pride that makes you assume that you need to push on in your own strength, that you have to equal others' work output. But that's not what I'm telling you or what others will tell you either. So give yourself a break and don't try to push yourself when it's not necessary.

134. You need to care for yourself; that is a responsibility that you bear in carrying a new life. It's taxing on you physically, especially as you enter these last few months, and the better you start taking care of yourself at this stage, the more you'll have within you when you're adjusting to motherhood.

135. I see the twinges of loneliness setting in; you miss your husband, and not having his support nearby has given you the feeling that you're facing it all alone. But you never have to face any challenge alone, because I'm here with you, and your husband is supporting you in spirit, even if he's not physically present at this time.

136. You may be a little more emotionally vulnerable at this time, which is also exaggerated due to your being spent in body, mind, and spirit, but I want to sustain your spirit. I have the means by which to infuse your spirit with the boost that you need, but it comes through entering into My temple, through not dwelling on the have-nots at this time, but praising and thanking Me for what you do have.

137. Even if it'll be some time before you and your husband are together again, those days don't have to drag on painfully or miserably; you can rise above. It's a little more challenging for you at this point, because you are a little more emotional; that's not uncommon in pregnancy. Experiencing all these changes in one shot, intensified by the sheer physical exhaustion, makes the mountain seem a little higher and harder to climb, the weight a little more burdensome than you can bear, and the destination distant and uncertain.

138. You need to recharge yourself spiritually and physically in order to be able to meet the weeks ahead; that in itself will be a boost to you, and will lessen the emotions you're presently being buffeted by. Think on the good, the positive, and the beautiful, and it'll help to sustain your spirit, and even make the time speed by faster. Also, as you take time to recharge your spirit, you'll be more inclined to reach out to others and spend time with them. If you try to do that now to fill the void, you'll only wind up more spent, because you have no reserves to draw from, but if you really strengthen your spirit and also regain your physical strength, the results will affect the other aspects of your life as well.

139. What I want you to remember in all of this, My love, is that I am here to carry any and every load that rests on your shoulders. I don't carry only those burdens resulting from the work, but even those close to your heart, if you'll let Me. I hate to see you struggle in vain, so please let Me bear the burdens with you. I promise that as you do, you'll feel the weights lifting and your spirit regaining the determination and fight that you lack at this time. I love you very much and want to help you to rise above, to feel happy and content no matter what, and it is within My power to do that if you'll open your heart and life to Me in this way.

A wonderful opportunity for Me to draw closer to you!

140. (Jesus:) These have been days of change for you, My love, and the days following will continue to be a time of adjustment and redirection. I know it can be a little disconcerting for you; it's not that you dislike change, but rather that you feel the state of flux has continued on for quite some time, and the fact that you and your husband are going to be apart for some time can add to that. But I want to use this time for good in your life. I don't want you to try to "handle it" yourself; I want you to see it as a wonderful opportunity for Me to draw closer to you, and also for you to bond with others.

141. I'm using this time in your husband's life in ways that will benefit him. Though it's not your preferred choice to be separate, I know that this time apart is going to benefit you both in a beautiful way. It will prepare you for what's in store, and will grow and stretch you in the specific ways that you need at this time, so that when you are reunited and as you prepare for the baby in your lives, you will have gained from the time apart, and it will make you better prepared and suited for what's ahead.

142. I need you to start once again giving Me the priority time of your day. It's understandable that you're quite exhausted from all that's taken place, but rather than just letting the magnitude of what still needs to be accomplished overwhelm you, take the time to commune with Me, to drink deeply of My Words, so that your spirit can be charged and ready for what's ahead.

Things are going to be busy for some time to come, and while you will in time settle in with a bit of a routine, there are still going to be fluctuations of your plan and work, and many major adjustments on the work and personal front.

143. You need to unwind a little, and even psychologically prepare yourself and your surroundings for the baby; otherwise it will come upon you very quickly and you'll be unprepared for it. That doesn't mean you need to work at trying to be super prepared, but even taking time to hear from Me about your new soon-to-be role as a mother and how I want to use it in your life is something that will help to ready your spirit for the occasion. If you've heard from Me on it beforehand, you'll be in a state of mind and heart that will help you to flow with the change much more easily.

144. That doesn't mean that things will be as they are now, even with a baby. You're bound to have to adjust your life and schedule in order to accommodate the change. However, if your spirit has made preparations, then the physical and emotional adjustments will be much smoother and less dramatic, as you'll have made preparations in spirit, which are the ones that have the most dynamic effect on your life.

145. You're not concerned about adapting to the physical requirements. You know that a baby will require much of you, and you're not ignorant of the many physical demands that come with a child. The most important part at this point is adequately recharging your spirit—getting tanked up on My Word so that you have the faith and wherewithal to meet the challenges before you. If you're ready in spirit, then you'll be able to flow more graciously with the physical demands, because you will have done your part to prepare where it counts most.

146. That doesn't mean you leave the physical unattended; you should work to prepare in that way too, but the spirit is what's most important, and it's through time with Me and tanking up on My Spirit that you'll have the fortitude to embrace the dynamic changes this little one will bring into your life. They're going to be beautiful changes, and you will love the end result, but it will be an adjustment.

147. You shouldn't worry about it, though; some things you should prepare for in advance, but others you can let Me disclose to you as they unfold rather than fearing or worrying about them in advance. Remember, My love, that I am the author of your life, of your husband's life, and also of the little one within you, and I am writing a beautiful future for you. Even though it seems a little uncertain right now, things will begin to be clearer, and you'll understand the wonder of My plan in it all. Just wait and see.

You'll flow with this beautiful change easily!

148. (Jesus:) You have so much to be thankful for. I don't say that to minimize the sacrifice that it's been to be away from your husband during this time and in the weeks to come, but if you were to compare with how much harder this time could've been, the greater struggles you could've faced, it puts what you've had to go through in perspective, doesn't it?

149. I am proud of you for being willing to make these sacrifices for the work and for Me. It's good for your relationship, too, and helps to bind your hearts together in greater unity and love. You'll also be wonderfully surprised to find that this time apart is going to be an asset in your individual preparation for the baby. How, you may wonder. Well, primarily it's giving you both time to spend more time with Me. It's not that you were unfaithful in this area before, but when you're apart from each other, it makes your times with Me more valuable. You cling to Me more desperately, and then I'm able to play the role in your lives that I know will prepare you for the many changes that will come about as a result of having a baby.

150. This time is also breaking you out of ruts and set ways of doing things that had started to rule your life. You're both learning how to branch out in your ministries and jobs, to welcome changes, and to fight to find the right balance. Those are going to be invaluable lessons when the baby comes along, as you'll find that things will not always be perfectly structured, and will at times be dictated by the baby, and you both will have to learn to flow with that. But these sacrifices that you're experiencing now are helping to pave the way for that, to make your spirits flexible so that you'll flow with this beautiful change easily.

151. You don't see the extent of the beauty that is going to come about through the changes this little one will bring into your lives, but I want to tell you that there are so many that it would be hard to list them all. You're in a way going through the testing part right now, but already there is a light at the end of it and your spirits are beginning to feel that boost and reenergizing. See, I'm always here to give you the help and strength and stamina that you need when you're doing My work. Your part comes with a measure of sacrifice, but I am ever faithful to give you the aid that will make even the difficult aspects easier; I'm there to carry you through.

152. So thank you for giving to Me in this way, by being willing to sacrifice for the sake of others and for My work. I always repay such sacrifices. Even though you may not see the "payment" at this point, very soon it will begin to get clearer, and you'll see that I indeed do all things well. Just stop and think for a minute on how I've had an active role in the creation of this little one, and have orchestrated the timing perfectly. You've also had a good pregnancy, free from sickness and physical inability, which has helped you to maintain a lifestyle fairly similar to the one you had before the baby. I have kept you on My perfect timetable.

153. Thank you for being willing to give in this way, despite the personal sacrifice. I will repay an hundredfold—I always do, because I love you dearly and keep your best interests in mind.

Me and My ability to override anything and everything in the natural

154. (Mama:) The Lord gave this message to a mother who found out that she had some minor problems with her placenta, which was bleeding a little, when she was about 6 months pregnant. When she took this to the Lord, He explained His wisdom in allowing her to have an unrelated pain in her side when she would walk too fast or do anything even slightly strenuous, such as when exercising.

155. She had had that pain—kind of like a bad stitch—for about a month before she found out about her placenta problem, and was quite discouraged by it. She had prayed, and asked others to pray, but it didn't go away. But she was amazed to later discover that this was the Lord's way of keeping her from doing anything that would compound the problems with her placenta, that she was at the time unaware of.

156. Isn't it wonderful to know that our Husband is in control of everything? Even some of the things that we think are just annoyances or problems are things that the Lord is using in our lives to keep us from far greater problems or complications—as was the case with this mother.

157. (Jesus:) My darling love, I want you to see My wisdom and foresight in all of this. Yes, there is a possible complication. But it's only a possible complication; it's not a reality right now. I have kept the bleeding and contained it so that it isn't causing any serious damage, and so that you and the baby are kept safe. So praise Me for this, and continue to praise Me for My power to keep you. As you do your part to not overdo, and to call on the prayers of others, I will do what you can't do.

158. As far as the pain that you experience when you exercise, I know that this has been a source of discouragement for you. You really want to be able to stay healthy and fit in order to be in good shape to have the baby, and also to be able to recover well afterwards. You didn't do so well in this aspect of your pregnancy with your first baby, so you have wanted to do better this time around. So it has been frustrating for you that you have had this side pain, which has caused you to only be able to do very slow walking and exercising.

159. But, My love, this is something that I have allowed to prevent something worse happening to you or the baby. You see, because you have had this pain, it has prevented you from doing any type of vigorous exercise. This has prevented you from straining yourself or your body, even unknowingly, which could have compounded your placenta problems.

160. If you had not had this pain to keep you in check, then you might have overexerted yourself with your exercise, and this could have caused more bleeding and more complications. So you see, My love, I have given you this pain in your side so that you would not overdo, and that is why the bleeding is not worse than it is.

161. I'm sorry that you've had to have this pain in your side and that it has been an annoyance to you, but it has also been your salvation. If you had felt well enough to exercise more vigorously, you would have, and unbeknownst to you, you would have risked damaging your placenta further.

162. So praise Me even for this pain, which has kept you in check and helped you to only engage in light exercise. This light exercise is fine to continue with, and in fact is very beneficial. You need to do something to move around and get your blood flowing every day, even if it's mild. Because of your weak placenta, you cannot do anything more strenuous right now.

163. I promise you that as you continue to keep this in your prayers—as well as request the prayers of others—and as you continue to do your part and not overdo in any area of your life, and as you continue to praise Me in all things, I will protect you or the baby from any harm or problems.

164. It is wise to let the doctor continue to monitor the situation, and for him to periodically keep an eye on the patch that is bleeding, but do not worry and do not fear. I have kept it from being a serious problem up until this point, and I can continue to contain it. It will keep you desperate, and it should, but it should not make you worry or fear.

165. If you do begin to worry or fear, that's a sure sign that you're looking at the waves of possibilities and possible complications, rather than at Me and My ability to override anything and everything in the natural. Although the doctor doesn't quite know what the problem is, I do, and I can contain it.

Complications and the Lord's love and care

166. (Question from a pregnant SGA mother:) In “Helpers and Hinderers, Part 1,” the Lord says that one way Wolverine attacks us pregnant mothers in the Family is through complications. I grew up without many fears about complications in pregnancy; my mom had good pregnancies and births, as did others in my family, and many mothers whose children/babies I cared for, though they had some rough patches, seemed to deal very well with pregnancy in general.

167. However, over the last few years I've heard many more accounts of women having complications during pregnancy or birth, and I wonder why we seem to be facing so many more pregnancy complications and problems in recent years than, for example, our parents did. Or maybe growing up we just weren't aware of all the complications, although it seems that if there were more, it would've been much harder for our mothers to bear the many children that they did.

168. Are we, today's childbearing mothers, and our babies being attacked more in the spirit than those 10 or 15 years ago, perhaps because the spiritual warfare has intensified? Or has there been more negligence on our part in the care of ourselves that has opened more potential avenues for complications and problems compared to our mothers? It's obvious that the Lord uses different things in each person's life, so perhaps some mothers just face more challenges in pregnancy and childbirth than others because that's their test and the way the Lord strengthens their faith, etc.

169. My question is whether we, as today's childbearing mothers, can expect good, healthy pregnancies overall if we're properly caring for ourselves, or are there greater tests and fights in the spirit against our little ones being born today that we should just learn to face and accept as par for the course of today's childbearing days? Maybe this isn't a concern for other mothers, but I personally would like to know that if I am going to possibly have 4, 5, 6 or however many children the Lord gives, and the spiritual warfare is going to play a greater role in bringing a new life into the world now than it did in the past, then I will need to be much more on guard in spirit throughout pregnancy and childbirth (not in a fearful way, but remaining vigilant), because the Enemy is targeting us in that way.

170. (Jesus:) You know that what I love, the Enemy always fights against. Whatever I am for, the Devil stands against. Whatever I treasure, the Enemy hates. Whatever I carefully create, the Enemy is always seeking to destroy.

171. The Enemy has been given much more power over the Earth in these later years, because his time is drawing near. I told you that in the Last Days, more evil spirits would be released from the deep and would roam the Earth, and thus the spiritual battles would intensify.

172. This is one way that the Enemy has been seeking to do damage, through Wolverine and his underlings. Satan has never loved children. It angers him when he sees the extreme joy and pleasure I derive from creating children and bringing babies into this world. He hates My ability to create new life, to transport a spiritual being from Heaven into the physical realm. He hates My power through procreation. He hates My ability to make something out of nothing, to create love and life where there was none before. Thus, in his despicable nature and anger, he has sent Wolverine on a mission against My children and against My brides bearing more children for Me.

173. I don't say this to worry anyone, but because you need to understand that things in the spiritual realm have gotten hotter and more intense. The battles in the spirit are greater. This is scriptural and it is a sign of the times. That is one reason why childbearing has been a bit more of a fight for mothers, and will continue to be a battle for some: because the spiritual realm is a lot more active and the Enemy is on all-out patrol.

174. This, however, does not mean that the Enemy is above My power or is able to hurt any one of My brides or their children without My express permission. In saying that the spiritual battle has intensified, I am saying that My brides must be more vigilant in the spirit. But in no way does this mean that you should expect difficult pregnancies from here on, or that every time a pregnancy is difficult it is because the Enemy is fighting you.

175. My promise that every pregnant mother or would-be mother can stand on is that if they are doing their part to obey the Word and to care for their bodies and their unborn babies as the Word instructs, then I will do My part to care for them. If you are doing your part to live right, eat right, exercise right, and you are striving to keep a clean, strong spiritual life, and you really believe that you are fighting and doing the right things, then your faith need not be shaken. You are doing the right thing and My complete protection is over you. My complete safekeeping is granted to your baby. My complete care is guaranteed.

176. Then, even if problems come up in your pregnancies, or if there are complications with your baby or your health, you can have full assurance, knowing that this is My will and I have allowed it.

177. Sometimes difficulties during pregnancy are just what I need to use to work in that mother's life and in the life of her mate. Maybe I want to use their experience as a faith strengthener, or as a beautiful opportunity to grow very close to Me before their little one is born and their lives change. Maybe I know that these hard times and disappointments are just what they need to strengthen their discipleship and to help them make progress in their spiritual lives, or to humble them and give them more compassion and love. Or sometimes it might even be so they can be a greater encouragement and “comfort others with My comfort which I have given them” (2Cor.1:4).

178. I do not take difficulties during pregnancy or labor lightly. Anything that deals with children, I treat very carefully, very lovingly, and very, very gently. I counsel over each decision with My Father and Mother, and very tenderly do I apply that extra pressure when it is needed.

179. So if you have had difficulties during your pregnancy or during your labor, you can trust that I had My hand wrapped around that situation and it was completely under My control. I never let one of My mothers suffer unnecessarily. Any difficulty that I allow, I allow because it has the potential to bring much greater good. Whenever that is not the case, I keep the difficulty far from you. But if it will be good for you, and if it will better your lives and your love for Me, then even if it does cause some pain and discomfort or disappointment, I allow it because I know that the end result will be worth it—to both you and Me.

180. Now, there are times when a mother’s pregnancy is difficult due to her lack of care for herself or her baby. Those are very, very sad situations. I could be giving her and her little one so much better care and protection, but if due to her wrong decisions and poor care for her health she or her baby are suffering, then My hands are tied in a way and I am limited.

181. Carrying a baby is a very special responsibility. I know that it is so difficult to sacrifice your body and your preferences for a little life that you don’t even know yet. I know that for some women it is much harder than for others. It’s difficult to eat more when you know that the result could be losing a figure that you’ve worked hard to keep in shape. It’s difficult to slow down your pace or rest when you need it, when you’ve been used to keeping a very energetic and active lifestyle. It’s difficult to make so many personal lifestyle changes and sacrifices for a little soul who is now sharing occupancy in your life.

182. But trading in your image, your lifestyle, your desires for a whole new human soul is worth it, My loves. There is no price too great to pay for the treasure of a life. I paid the price of My blood and My life so that I might gain your life and have you forever with Me. Don’t you think you can pay the price of a little weight, a little less time for yourself, for this eternal life I have to give you? “No greater love hath a woman than this, that she lay down her life for a child.” That’s great love.

183. So please do care for yourself, My beautiful women and mothers! Not only does your baby suffer when you don’t take care of yourself, but I suffer too. I suffer because I’m not able to be as intimately involved in your baby’s health or growth. I’m not able to keep you as strong and healthy, either. When you take matters into your own hands and don’t trust Me to care for you or your child, then you’re canceling out My direct involvement in your pregnancy. Is that trade worth it to you? Would you rather feel more in control of your weight and your lifestyle, yet have less assurance of My protection and involvement during your pregnancy? Or would you sacrifice a bit of your desires, your image, and your pride for living the healthy way and fighting to stay on track spiritually and physically and in return receive greater care, safekeeping, health, and benefits from Me? The choice is yours.

184. This is the synopsis of My answer: Yes, the spiritual warfare has intensified, and this includes the spiritual attacks from Wolverine and Satan on your children and on those bearing children.

185. —However, you also have greater power in the spirit and great spiritual helpers assigned to protect you and your children so you can overcome his attempts, and you can be unharmed and protected from Wolverine's attacks.

186. —I also promise you complete protection and assurance in return for your obedience. And by obedience I mean obedience spiritually and physically.

187. —You are responsible for your spiritual life and walk with Me. When you're pregnant, you're even more accountable because you're responsible for another's life and spirit as well. In some ways you have to fight extra hard, because your decisions now affect another's life.

188. —You are also responsible to obey in the physical. You're responsible to care for your baby's health, even if it comes at a cost to you. You're responsible to do what you can to ensure that the baby is well fed and is growing strong. If your child were five years old, would you keep him from food if he were hungry, simply because you didn't want to eat then? Would you refuse him sleep when he's tired, because you still have so much work to do? Would you neglect to care for him because you'd rather be at a party or fellowshiping with others?

189. If you want to know a secret to preparing for motherhood and parenthood in general, it's that it all starts in the first nine months before your baby is born. It starts with you learning to put this life above your own, before you ever see her face. It starts with learning to live unselfishly, to give your time to your child before you even hold her in your arms. The decisions you make while you are expecting a child help to define you as a parent when your child is born. Are your decisions unselfish, loving, prayer-based, Word-based?

190. I know that it's hard to put another's needs and well-being before your own. But I promise it is always worth it and it is always rewarding.

191. —And lastly, if you are being faithful and obedient to Me, both physically and spiritually, and yet you still encounter difficulties or complications, don't worry. Realize that this is

My hand lovingly touching your life with just what I know you need. I'm in control of the situation and I've allowed that complication for a very good and special reason. This is just what I am using to work in your life. It's not because you're bad or not as good as another mother who had an easier pregnancy or labor or whatever. But it's because I love you and I know that I can trust you to keep loving and trusting Me even through the difficulty and the complications.

192. Most of all, I don't want the Enemy scaring anybody out of having children. This is his goal and what brings him satisfaction. His attempts on the lives of My unborn children have been upped, but so has My power and My resources to protect, secure, and deliver them! Just as there are greater consequences for disobedience in these latter years, so are there greater benefits for obedience—and the blessing of greater protection and safekeeping during pregnancy is one of them.

193. I will stop at nothing to bless an obedient bride. When I see one who puts her heart and life aside to obey My will and to please Me, I go the distance to pour benefit and blessing upon her. Maybe it won't always be in the form of no complications or no difficulties during childbearing; instead it might be in adding extra health to the baby, or in gifting the child with a quicker, sharper mind, or in answering other prayers of the parents regarding their child's personalities or gifts, or in blessing the mother with quick recovery after labor, or in bringing sweeter closeness between the mother and father, or in giving the mother a special victory over a certain area of her life that she's long fought in and prayed for. The options for benefits are limitless! As I said, I will go the distance to pour benefit and blessing upon My obedient brides.

194. I love to give children, and I won't stop regardless of the Enemy's attacks. And neither should you, because the guarantees and promises that I have given you will withstand, overcome, and completely defeat anything the Enemy tries against you. His power is puny. He can't stop Me from creating My passions. Your obedience, linked arm in arm with Me, will overcome him any day.

Flow with the stages of development!

195. (Mama:) This next prophecy was received by a mother in her third trimester who was experiencing some sharp pains in her abdomen. When she took this to the Lord, He not only let her know that it was nothing to be concerned about, but also gave her some practical tips to improve things. You may find these tips helpful during your pregnancy too! Or better yet, ask the Lord for His personal counsel for you.

196. (Jesus:) I don't want you to worry about this pain you're experiencing, because it's not anything serious; it is just one of those "growing pains" of childbearing. You're getting into the last stages of your pregnancy, and as the baby grows, there's less space for her to move, and also less space for all your organs. It's not uncommon for it to be a little cramped inside, which often brings a set of discomforts different than the ones you experienced in the earlier stages of pregnancy.

197. Something you need to understand is that with each stage of pregnancy you have to adjust aspects of your personal care to meet the needs of both you and the baby at that particular time. Of course, there are some standards in proper care, such as maintaining a healthy diet, getting adequate rest, and ensuring that you're exercising, but there are also little "tweaks" that you need to make throughout your pregnancy as well, in order to flow with the stages of development.

198. One of the reasons you're experiencing this pain in your upper abdomen is because you need to adjust the quantity and frequency of your meals and snacks, so that your intake is less than it used to be. Your digestive organs are being pushed up in order to make room for the growing baby, and if you're eating portions that are too large, it can cause increased discomfort and pain. You also should take a break from your desk more often throughout the day, as sitting for long periods of time is not healthy, and if your posture is not correct at all times, you're more susceptible to aches and pains both in your abdomen and in your back.

199. Now that you're also in your later stage of pregnancy you have to slow down with your exercise. I know you sometimes just feel the urge to run or exert yourself, but you have to take it a little slower now that your tummy is bigger and you're heavier overall. Quick jerks and jolts can cause more pain, and if you're doing exercises that are a bit too strenuous for your body, it will bring on cramps and other aches and pains. So you need to start slowing down a little. That doesn't mean you should stop exercising; you shouldn't. Consistent exercise throughout pregnancy is a must if you want to stay fit and healthy and have the energy that you need for the delivery; it also helps your body stay healthier, which then aids you in a quicker recovery after the birth.

200. Exercise in moderation. Work with your body, and take the hints and checks that your body gives you. Just because you had the energy to do a certain exercise one day doesn't mean you'll have that same stamina the following day, and you need to adjust your physical exertion accordingly. If you push yourself too hard, your body will bear the brunt of it, because there's so much that it already has to deal with during the final stages of development with the baby.

201. So don't worry about this pain you're experiencing right now, because it's not anything serious, and is caused by things being cramped and squished inside. But you can help your body cope with it by adjusting a few things in your daily living. Here are some ways to help relieve this discomfort:

202. • When you get up in the morning, take a little time to stretch. Your muscles are often cramped and achy after a night's sleep, so take five or ten minutes before eating or drinking anything to stretch your body and get your blood circulating properly again.

203. • Limit the amount of food and liquids you take in at one time; have a mental “max” of what your body can properly digest at one time. You often don’t feel as full as you are until 15 or 20 minutes after you eat. Stop eating or drinking before you are full, and then your stomach won’t have to deal with trying to digest too much at one time.

204. • Get up and walk around more often throughout the day. It’s especially important that you do that after eating, as when you sit, it pushes the baby up a bit, and she cramps your stomach and digestive organs, making it harder for them to do their work.

205. • Frequently empty your bladder, even if you don’t feel a pressing urge.

206. • Drink more liquids, primarily more water, but you can also get some of your necessary fruits and veggies through fresh juice.

207. • Don’t overexert yourself in exercise, even if you feel you could do more. It’s better that you take it slower in your exercise in this final stage, so that you don’t hurt yourself or wear yourself out physically. If you push yourself too hard in exercise, while you may not feel it immediately, it may wear on you the following day if it was too much for your body to handle. Always faithfully stretch and cool down after exercises.

208. Most of all, My love, know that I’m caring for you and your little one, and I won’t let anything adverse happen to you. You’re in My loving care; I am your Physician, your loving Caregiver, and all that you could ever need. So trust Me to bring this beautiful creation to completion. Keep your eyes stayed on Me, and commit any worries to Me in prayer and praise, and see how I’ll wipe them away, and also give you direction on how to make it better.

209. Some things you may just have to go through, as they’re a part of this creation process, but even then, I can give you the grace and stamina to bear them gracefully and with the confidence that I’m caring for you. I am ever by your side through this beautiful experience, and

I won’t let go of you. Thank you for letting Me use you as the vessel to bring another life into this world!

Spiritual, emotional, and physical preparations

210. (Jesus:) Getting ready for a baby is life-changing; you don’t always feel the difference while you’re pregnant, but the day the little bundle of joy is in your arms, there are dynamic changes that are felt the rest of your life—good changes that when seen through My eyes are received with joy and thankfulness.

211. There are a few ways to prepare yourself for the baby, which I’ll list here, and if you’re faithful to do these things, then you can leave all the rest in My hands with utmost confidence, knowing that I’ll do what you can’t. But you must remember that a key to this preparation plan being successful is that you must do your part in order for Me to be able to do Mine.

212. Spiritual preparation: It’s very important to be prepared spiritually, and the best way to do that is by ensuring quality time with Me each day. You need to strengthen your faith muscles, which will help you be ready to flow with the changes of having a little one in your life. Aside from the need for good Word time, it’s important to keep a guard up against fear in any form; even subtle, small worries need to be counteracted immediately. The best weapon to use against fear or worry is praise. If you’re ever worried that things might not go so smoothly in the delivery or that you won’t be prepared for it, take some time to praise and love Me for all the miracles I’ve done so far in creating this little life within you. Praise Me for how I’m going to perfect this good work that I’ve begun, and for how I will give you the strength, fortitude, and resilience that you need to bring this baby into the world.

213. Emotional preparation: While you may not feel particularly emotionally unstable at this time, it’s still good to prepare, so that you can be ready. It shouldn't be a big psychological ordeal, and a lot of it will have to do with how spiritually and physically prepared you are. One way you can prepare emotionally is by reading positive accounts of deliveries and by practicing breathing techniques. Take some time to also commit to memory key promises on childbirth, so that you can hold on to them when you're in labor and delivering the baby. That way you'll have something to focus your mind on, which will help you to remain in control, without fear, and give you faith in My ability to carry you through.

214. Physical preparation: I gave some practical tips for preparing yourself emotionally, which can fall under this section as well. Another way you can prepare for the baby is by getting set up for the baby sooner rather than later. As you get further along in your pregnancy, you're going to have less energy to spend getting ready for the baby, so use time now to focus on that, so that it's not a mad rush at the end. You can prepare by getting her bed set up, organizing your room, going through your newborn clothes so that you're prepared, etc. It may seem a little early for that, but you'll find that the weeks will go by swiftly, and it's better to be ready with time to spare than to leave it all for the last week or two.

215. You should also take time to build up your stamina and increase your energy. It's been difficult for you to get quality exercise on a regular basis, but if you want to be in good shape and have enough energy for the delivery, then you should use these weeks to build up your strength and stamina. I'm not talking about pushing yourself to the limit, but rather faithfully exercising so that you increase your strength, which will make the birth much easier.

Message from an unborn baby

216. (Baby:) Hi, mom! Life is so exciting, especially when it's so new! I'm a fresh clean slate, with a clean heart, clean mind, clean soul, created just for you. I am like a book with clean, white, fresh empty pages for you to write on me Jesus' love, to fill my pages with His care, to pour into my chapters all the love and wisdom that He's given you.

217. As you write on my pages His love and thoughts, then I will be like a testament that other people will read. They will see His handwriting, His care and love, as they see me. I am a testimony that love works, that the fruit of love is love, that love never fails, and that love is beyond understanding. It's just plain wonderful!

218. As you look at me, you'll cry with joy and amazement at my little tiny features and how Jesus made me perfect in every way. You'll cry with happiness at the miracle of a little tiny baby, and you'll feel Jesus' love so perfect and wonderful and so fulfilling beyond anything that you have ever felt before. This is His gift to you, making you the happiest mother. I'll fill not only you but your Home with joy, the wonder of a fresh new life and creation, to fill the Home with newness, with the presence of one newly arrived from the halls of Heaven.

219. I'm a gift of love to all of you—everybody's baby, everybody's reward, everybody's gift from Heaven. I will bring a touch of excitement and freshness and newness. I bring the freshness of Heaven, like dew on the ground. I will bring new blessings with me and the freshness and the life that only children and babies can bring—the laughter and the joy and the unity that seem to follow us wherever we are.

220. I will be a joy in a different and special way to each person and a blessing to everyone's life. Babies have a way of bringing out love and tenderness, and I will bring out these things in those in this wonderful Home that I am so privileged to join very soon. I am preparing to meet you, and as I grow and get bigger, so my heart and my love is growing for you. And so your love will also grow for me and for each other. I love you! See you soon!

Dear Family,

I hope and pray that “A Labor of Love, Part 1” has been a blessing and encouragement to you! And I’m so thankful that the Lord has given me the time to prepare more of His beautiful messages on the subject of childbearing for you. He certainly has a lot to say on one of His favorite subjects: the creation of new life, children, and bringing them into the world!

2. In this GN, we’ll be moving away from the pregnancy topic a bit and delving into an abundance of messages that the Lord has given on the subject of preparations for your baby’s arrival, counsel and instruction on how to handle the hard work that labor is, as well as many beautiful promises of His supply, help, strength, peace, and endurance when you need it most. I believe that you will find these messages faith-building and strengthening!

3. Remember, however, that because these messages were given to quite a few different mothers, with different needs and concerns, the Lord spoke differently in every case. So don’t expect that everything in every message will apply to you exactly. You will probably find some messages very applicable, while others won’t address the specific concerns or battles you face. But within all of the messages I think you’ll find wonderful quotes and promises of encouragement to cling to.

4. You may even want to go through the GN and mark the quotes and promises that speak to you the most, so that you can review them before your delivery, or even during your delivery. There are many precious jewels within these messages that you can claim as your own, as you prepare for the birth of your baby! And, in addition to them, the Lord can and will pour out abundant and specific promises for you personally, and will comfort your heart about any concerns or battles that are unique to your situation. Our wonderful Husband will see you through labor and delivery, just as He promises over and over!

Much love and prayers for you and yours,
Mama

5. (Jesus:) These promises are for you! When I say in these messages that I will keep and protect you, I mean that I will care for you! When I say that I will care for you and your baby, I mean that I will be ever present to assist and aid you! When I say that I will bring you through even difficult times without the smell of smoke, I mean that I will fulfill this promise in your life!

6. I don't expect perfection in order for you to be able to claim My promises of care as your own. I don't ask the impossible. All that I ask is that you love Me, that you endeavor to stay close to Me, that you do your best to be obedient and do the things that I ask of you. You don't have to be on top of everything spiritually. If your heart is right with Me, then you can be fully assured of My blessings and protection for you and your little one.

I won't leave anything undone or imperfect!

7. (Jesus:) You're taking part in what I do best: creating a new life. I love to create, to shape, and to mold. I'm in the business of beauty and building treasures, and you have a treasure that's just about ready.

8. I have everything you need all thought out. I haven't missed a thing that will come in handy during your last month, delivery, and recuperation. Just reach out and take the different items off of My shelf whenever you need them—whether it's strength, a dose of rising above, peace, a miracle, clarity of thought, anointing, love, or anything else.

9. Don't feel like you have to do anything on your own. Not in the least. Besides Me being by your side at all times, and the host of Heaven that aids you, you're surrounded by caring and loving people on Earth, too, who want to help you in any way possible. Let them. They're a physical manifestation of My love for you.

10. As the day draws nearer for your baby to be born, I'm wrapping up loose ends and completing what I started. I won't leave anything undone or imperfect. I'm an expert, a perfectionist actually. You can count on that. Nothing is too small to go unnoticed or be skipped by Me. Everything will be exactly the way it should be. Count on it!

I will finish what I have started!

11. (Jesus:) My dear loves, I have given you this wonderful gift of a new life, and you have done well in caring for him. Even though he hasn't yet been brought into this world, he feels your love and is already growing strong in Me. This child has one of the greatest privileges on Earth—to be born into My Family, and into your family. This is something that very few children have the opportunity to do. Very few children have the amount of prayer and backing that this one has. Very few will grow up with parents that have the power of the keys at their side.

12. I have worked the miracle so far! You have had the power of everyone's prayers behind you, and have been faithful in sharing your specific requests, so that others have known what to pray for. You can't imagine the power that has been generated on your behalf through the prayers of all of your precious mates. And now I will finish what I have started. Have I not said that the hairs of your head are counted and that I will not let one of them fall without Me knowing? So it is with your child. This is My child, and I will bring him forth in My perfect time and way.

13. Fear not. I promise that I will be right there with you. I will not leave your side for a second. That's right, I—your Lover and Husband—will not leave your side, as you bring one of My precious children into this world. I will be right there each step of the way, personally seeing to it that nothing goes wrong or differently than I have ordained.

My promises of complete care!

14. (Jesus:) This life that I have formed is Mine, and so will I do through you what I have promised. Power will be yours through the keys of My Kingdom. I will be right beside you through every moment, through every battle, and every bit of struggle. I will not leave your side for a split second. My arms will always be around you, My voice ready to speak in your ears and to your heart, My love with you through it all, till the little one is born.

15. You will know joy when the child is in your arms, and when you see what I have put into your trust. It's such a compliment of My love to you and to your mate, completing your family more with each new addition. A great cry of rejoicing will be heard in the heavens when you complete giving birth and have this trophy, this prize, in your arms—another soul on Earth who brings a bit more of Heaven, and who will fill your family's life with treasures.

16. Do not worry about the difficult times or how it might be when your time is at hand. For joy you will know, and a greater sense of strength will be yours, My sweet love, because you cling to My hand of strength. I will be with you each moment, comforting you, truly giving you all that you need. Although at times it will seem like quite a struggle, there is nothing that I will not be fully aware of. I will help you. I will be with you. Cling to My words, for they are My promises of complete care.

You will become the mother that I need you to be!

17. (Jesus:) My darling, I look upon you with great joy, knowing that you are willing to let Me work in your life in this way, in letting Me give you this bundle of joy. I know that it will take a little adjusting to, and that it may seem a little scary at first to be all that you think you need to be for this child I am bringing into your life. You feel incapable and you are afraid of not being the parent you know this child needs. But, My darling, I would not have given you this child if I did not know that you would become all that you need to in order to be the best parent for her.

18. You don't know if you will be as good a parent as you wish to be. But know that as you seek Me and work in humility with your husband and those around you, you will become the mother that I need you to be and you will have fun along the way. It may seem daunting and scary, but I have a perfect plan as long as you follow it day by day. You will be happy and you will know that I am working My perfect work in the lives of all involved the way I know is best. I love you and know you will be the best mom that you need to be!

As the life inside of you grows, so do My promises increase

19. (Jesus:) My loves, My brides—come to Me and find all your strength and courage within My arms. It's here, in the safety of My embrace, that you'll each find the stamina for what's ahead. As you each lay your head on My chest, you'll feel the revitalizing energy of peace and comfort wash over you.

20. You're so precious to Me, and this new life that I've given you is the token of My undying love for you. Many times you've heard that proclamation. You've read that children are a gift from My hand, a special treasure. No longer will this be hearsay; this truth will be lived in your lives through this little one I give to you.

21. From here on, the road will be different, a fuller path. It will no longer just be each of you, husband and wife, as individuals walking down life's trail, but you will now be combined as you step forward in this new endeavor, this special path of parenthood, the making of a family. This is our family—you, Me, and the soon-coming little one. It's perfect, as I've always wanted it to be. Everything in your lives has been leading you to this point, a time when I've removed you from your individual paths and combined your hearts and made you one. This little baby is My blessing on your love; it's My wedding gift to you, a promise that you were meant to love.

22. The future may look daunting; uncertainty and clouded vision may threaten to try your faith. But I am here, and I'm keeping the stability of our family. I am the One Who has called you to be one. I have honored your love with this little life you must now sustain. So believe that I will be seeing you through whatever the future obstacles will be. I've planned every step of the future, and I will lead and guide you. I will never leave you without support and assurance. I'm the Designer of this family of ours, the Creator of the life that grows within you. I will prepare a place for you.

23. I've planned what's ahead and I will be with you each step of the way. As the life inside of you continually grows, so do My promises increase, the things of the future that I whisper in your ear, telling you that I have everything under control. I do; everything is timed and measured perfectly. It's all in sync with My design. As you walk forward, rest fully in the support of My words that I have given you. I will be your all in these days ahead.

24. Thank you for accepting this role of parenting, for believing that I would see you through this transition in your lives, that I indeed know exactly how this is all working. Don't worry about the things that are ahead, but trust in Me. Know that I will bring you to the perfect place where you will have this baby; that even now I'm going before you and preparing a place. It's all planned, and as you go forward, believing in Me, even though you can't see it within this moment, I will pour My peace and reassurance upon you.

The key of new life!

25. (Jesus:) My love, My darling, I am so excited! I share your excitement and joy in the completion of this soon-coming new life. I have brought this pregnancy about by My hand and My will. I have kept you safe and healthy so far, and I will not fail to bring the miracle of new life through to completion. During these last days of pregnancy, just keep hanging on and running the race, and you will finish the course soon. You have run the race well, and the end is in sight. Patiently wait on Me and trust in My perfect timing, because soon I will bless you with the reward of your new baby.

26. During these last days, take time to rest and prepare for the delivery by taking extra time in My Word and memorizing key promises that you can claim for the birth. Prepare your heart and mind by letting Me speak to you and give you the faith that you will need, as well as the strength to make any adjustments necessary when your new little one comes into your life. Also, take the time to receive My strengthening words regarding your delivery, for I will fight for you, and I will be the One Who will bring the victory. Just hold on to Me and claim My power.

27. Fret not for the hard work that awaits you. You will be strong enough, and I will help you. You needn't fear the delivery, for I—your Great Physician and caring Husband—will be right there with you. I will anoint every member of the team who will assist in the birth. My angels will occupy the space around you. Many spirit helpers will be there guarding, helping, and anointing those assisting you in the birth. You need not fear, for only the good and the wise and the loving will be in attendance—only those who are from Me and anointed by Me.

28. Rest in Me during the delivery. Do not let any fears enter in, but have faith and trust Me to do the work through you. Call on the power of the keys for the delivery of your baby, and I and the keys will not fail to come through for you. Call specifically on the key of new life, and I will give you the strength that you need.

29. Remember that I will be at your side, calming you, caressing you, giving you peace in your heart that will cast out any fear or anxiety about the birth. I'll be there holding your hand, stroking your forehead, loving you, protecting you, holding you in My arms. Nothing can harm you when I am near, My precious love.

30. I have blessed you greatly with this new gift of love from Heaven. Fear not, for I will perfect all that concerns this child, for it is Mine, and My creation. This little one will give you and your husband great pleasure, and you will be so happy that you yielded to My will in your life to be a mother and a father of My little ones. I love you. Faith and trust in Me will see you through, and soon you will hold your precious gift of love in your arms, and you will be so thankful!

Jesus is in control of every new life!

31. (Dad, speaking to a baby's father:) Hi, son! I love you! I'm looking forward to your baby coming soon. I know you are, too! For your encouragement, I was able to have a little sneak peek inside of the womb, and your little one is not only beautiful, but is perfectly whole and healthy. I don't get those sneak peeks all of the time with every babe in the womb. But I did this time, so I wanted to tell you about that.

32. It seems natural in some ways for parents to worry about their kids, especially the unborn baby, whether it will be all right and have all of its fingers and toes. Mothers sometimes worry a little bit more about that than fathers. It's really an attack of the Enemy, who tries to make things as difficult as possible. He gets people to worry about "what if" scenarios based on absolutely nothing. Or even when it is based on a shred of a possibility, he exaggerates it and really causes parents a lot of worry.

33. Jesus is in control of every new life, so if the Devil tries to get you to lie awake at night worrying about the future, just cast your cares on our wonderful Husband Who will take care of everything. Start praising Jesus for all the good that you can think of, and for all the bad that He's kept from happening. I had to take everything to Jesus in prayer when I raised my family on Earth. I felt the responsibility for my children and my wife, as well as to be a good witness for Jesus and get out His words.

34. Parenthood is a wonderful calling and a beautiful experience from start to finish! So just enjoy every minute of it and don't let that damn Devil take away from the joys of raising your children in the Lord. Sure, there will be times when you're tired, and times when you wonder how things will work out, but you have the greatest source of answers and supply and protection that anyone could possibly have—Jesus, and all of your spirit helpers in Heaven.

35. The Family knows how to pray and call on the keys and avail themselves of their spirit helpers, so they're very blessed when it comes to childrearing. You have a wealth of counsel at your fingertips in the pubs. Plus you have the wonderful reassurance of our Lover's fresh promises and instructions to you daily through prophecy. So there's nothing to worry about. But in case you're ever tempted to worry, just start praising Him for all the good and for how He protects you from the Devil's bad.—And He really does. You can count on it.

36. The Lord has a way of getting parents ready to receive their love gift from Heaven. So if you find you're going through some tests right now, it's part of His plan to get you ready for your little angel. He wants to get you all scrubbed up in the spirit so you'll be able to reflect His Spirit all the more. It's just part of the process to make you the best father that you can be, and that you want to be.

37. It's exciting! I can hardly wait to see how happy you will be. You're already happy, but you're going to be even happier when you see your angel. She'll be worth it all—all the sleepless nights, all the extra work—because the joy you will feel will be so magnificent. You're going to be just popping with joy!

Focus your mind's eye on Me and the keys!

38. (Jesus:) Thank you, My bride, for being willing to bear My children and go through the challenges of pregnancy and labor in order to bring new life into the world. It's so beautiful, and I really honor your sacrifice. I promise that this child will be well worth it, and that every bit of work that goes into your labor, and any pain or discomfort will be forgotten and will be replaced with joy as you hold your little one that I've chosen to bless you with in your arms.

39. When the time of delivery comes, focus your mind's eye on Me and the keys. Don't let the Enemy tempt you with fears, or with any possibilities of defeat. I will pull you through this labor and birth without the smell of smoke. There will be battles and tests of faith, but I promise that if you focus on My power you will be able to rise above any obstacles in your way.

40. Strengthen your spirit beforehand, My love. Spend extra time communing with Me, loving Me, praising Me, and filling your spirit with My anointing power for the upcoming race. Let My keys of renewing fill you with new energy. Let My keys of regeneration give you the boost that you need for this last lap. I'm going to give you everything you need. Reach out for Me at any time, and I'll be there to pull you up and over every hurdle. I will bring you victory.

41. Cast your cares and worries on Me. Let Me bear the weight. I'll be your Main Coach and your Head Doctor, so you can just relax and know that I'm going to take care of everything.

A midwife spirit helper to call on

42. (Jesus:) My love, I am sending a special midwife spirit helper to assist you in this birth.

Each birth is unique, each is special, and each has its entourage of spirit helpers, guardian angels, and ministering spirits on hand to assist. So I thought you would appreciate knowing who will be assisting you in this one—the one in charge of making things flow smoothly, of making sure the Enemy does not come in in any way, of making sure those assisting you are in tune with Me and My Spirit.

43. Her name is Lizbeth. She was a midwife in the days when things were more natural and women always had their children at home. She has helped birth many, many children, and is very skilled at the job. She has the ability to keep a clear head and think quickly. She had a lot of faith, and knew and loved Me when she lived on Earth. She was one of those who lived during the “pioneer days,” when many people traveled from East to West in the U.S. She had a gentle, kind spirit, and did not easily get riled or rattled. She was a nurturer, one who loved to care for others, and she loved children. She could not have children herself, which was a great heartache and sorrow to her and her husband, but I allowed this in her life to keep her heart broken and soft toward Me.

44. She loves to attend the births of Family women, because they love Me and trust in Me and have faith. She also loves to attend because each child that is born in the Family has the potential to love Me and serve Me, and this is a defeat to the Devil. Therefore, she knows she must be extra aware and on the attack against anything that the Enemy might try to use to thwart My will.

45. You can get to know Lizbeth even now, so that by the time you are ready to give birth, you will feel comfortable with her and she will be like a dear friend to you. She can give you advice and counsel in these last weeks as you're preparing for the birth. She can whisper in your ears or give you checks in the spirit concerning anything you need to be aware of. She can give you ideas and inspirations, and be like your own personal counselor when it comes to anything related to the birth or preparation for it. She is happy to be of assistance to you, and excited to be able to help yet another one of My brides give birth to a new, living soul for Me.

I am with you!

46. (Jesus:) The birth is something that I want you to put into My hands. Don't worry or fear it, but trust Me that if I have called you to bear this child, I will help you when the time comes to deliver it. I look at your heart and I know that when you think about the delivery you groan inside, wondering how you will handle it, how your husband will do, and how everything will turn out. But don't worry or fear. I have called you to give birth to this precious little child, and I will pull you through.

47. Birth is not a pain-free experience. So I will not lie to you in saying that it won't hurt, or that you will charge through with no pain, no difficulty, hardly having to push, and just breezing through. Thinking that you're going to look perfect, do it perfectly, and not become weary in well doing, is more to expect from yourself than is possible, and no one expects this of you.

48. You'll be tired. You'll want it to stop. You may even feel like you can't take one step more, handle one more contraction, breathe one more breath, push one more push, and endure any more “torture.” But did you know that I do give grace when the burdens grow greater? I send more strength when the labors—in this case, contractions—increase. To added difficulty, I will add more mercy. To offset multiplied pain, I will multiply your peace!

49. So remember that when things are getting hard, when you're feeling like there's no one that can help you, that you're all alone in the fight and no one understands the pain that you feel. Remember that whatever happens, whatever your body is doing to you and whatever you're feeling, I am with you. And when things are hard, I'm doing My part to give you the wherewithal, both mentally and physically, to endure—and not only to endure, but to rise above victorious and as a conquering heroine!

50. Each woman who gives birth is a heroine in My sight! I look upon you with such love and adoration for your willingness to allow Me to bless you with this child, and then to hang on to Me tightly to carry you through the time of labor and delivery. Look at it as your labor of love for your husband and for your precious child-to-be. You are proving how much you're willing to go through. It is the greatest gift that a woman can give, and this is your love to them. That you are willing to take on the difficulties of pregnancy and the extreme difficulty of labor, and to do so willingly and out of love, is a great gift!

51. Don't worry about how it'll seem to others. Don't worry about how you'll compare to any of the other women who have recently had a child. There is no comparison! There is no room in your heart to be worrying about such things. You must block them out. You must cast these cares away, for they are pressure that will only hinder you and make things much more difficult for you in the end. So set them aside.

52. Lay aside your feelings of needing to prove yourself, that you need to show that you can do this, and that you can have an easy labor, and that you can do so bravely and without any complications. These things are in My hands, not your own. You cannot do this in your strength. Only with Me by your side and by calling out to Me for help and power will you be able to run this race.

53. "But many other women in the world do this all the time, and they don't have to hold on to You, Lord." Yes, that's true. They do have babies, but many of them experience great pain, lack of control, and no peace throughout their labor, and thus are attacked greatly with fear. Fear can cause a blockage between us and hinder My power to help you.

54. Call out to Me, and I will be your help and strong arm to lean on when things are difficult. You will be able to look back and know that I was with you that day and carried you through. The blessings that I will pour upon you for carrying this child, and keeping your eyes on Me through it all, will be innumerable.

55. When you are able to hold that precious baby in your arms, when it looks up at you with such trusting eyes, when it depends on you fully for love, nurture, nourishment, and complete care, then you will feel the blessings that I have promised in tangible ways. You will see My blessing resting right in your arms, as you hold and love that precious little baby. It truly is a miracle of life to receive such a precious gift!

56. Keep your eyes on the goal—the baby—and the victory in your soul, and go all the way with preparation through prayer, and you'll be as ready as you can be. Then you can put the rest that you cannot do in My hands, and know that I will keep My word and bless you with a good and problem-free delivery. I will help you through it all!

Encouragement when complications arise

57. (Mama:) The following prophecy was received for a mother who found out, close to her delivery date, that her baby was not in the correct position. This particular mother has had two babies in the breech position, and both times the midwife/doctor has done a pretty painful procedure to move the baby around so that she could proceed with a natural delivery. Here is the message of encouragement that the Lord gave for her, after the procedure, which can be applied to any kind of complication that may arise.

58. (Jesus:) Claim the key of faith, My love. Remind yourself constantly that I am in control, that I will finish the good work I've begun in you and will bring forth a healthy baby. With Me and the keys at your side, fighting for you, you can have total peace of mind that everything is going to turn out right. Hold on to your faith, My love. Take some time to allow Me to renew your strength and you will mount up with wings as the eagle. You won't be weary and you won't be faint, but you will arise with My healing.

59. This moving of the baby is a test of your faith, sweetheart. The Enemy is tempting you to fear, tempting you to worry, rather than trusting Me that I will take care of the situation. Fret not. I am more than able. I am the God of the universe. I made the world and everything in it in six days. I made that little one in your womb. Be of good courage, I will not fail you.

60. Prayer is powerful, and when you pray, things will change and they will be different. I have heard your prayers, and the prayers of your loved ones. The Enemy will not be able to exact upon your child, for this little one is Mine. The Enemy would like to cause difficulties, complications, fear and worry. That is why it is important to pray and ask for prayer. Then once you have done your part, trust Me that I will do Mine. Put your baby into My hands and I will perfect that which concerns you.

61. During this time when you are feeling tired and wired and jittery, it is important that you do not allow the Enemy to aggravate or agitate your spirit. Come away, sweetheart. Let Me fill you with My seeds of faith, comfort, relief, strength, and peace. Call on these keys, and the seeds of My Word that you take in will be activated. They will be turned to swords to destroy the works of the Enemy.

62. I want to comfort your heart concerning the situation with the baby's position. The Enemy wants to cause complications and fear, but because you have prayed and asked for prayer and are desperate, he will not be allowed to do so. I have assigned two of the baby's angels to be at your side and the baby's side. Their hands are making sure the baby does not move from the proper position for a natural delivery. The hands of My angels are a lot less painful than the hands of the midwife, wouldn't you say? They are able to secure the position of your baby, supernaturally keeping the little one in the right place while not causing you a bit of pain.

63. So be of good cheer, My precious love. All is well with your baby. I will renew your strength as well. Now is the time to prepare in heart and spirit for the delivery. Strengthen your faith. Receive My comfort and peace.

64. You are so beautiful, My love. I am excited at the approaching day of the birth of our child. I commend you for being a willing vessel to bring forth fruit that will remain. It's time to dry your tears and smile! I am with you and will keep you.

I will not tempt you above that which you are able to bear. I am a very present help in time of need.

65. Call on the keys, sweetheart. Use them. Take up the weapon of praise and blast away the boogie man! Don't let his "boo" get to you! That is what the Devil is trying to do—scare you. Blast him away with the keys of praise, and a shower of faith will descend upon you, reviving your body and spirit. I love you, sweetheart. It won't be too much longer until the day I deliver that little one into your arms!

The key of leading faith

66. (Mama:) The next two prophecies were also received for the above-mentioned woman, when she and her mate were praying about what to do—whether to try to turn the baby and wait for a natural delivery, or to wait a while and turn it and then have the labor induced while it was head down, or to try to have the baby naturally in the breech position, or to opt for a C-section. Following are the Lord's beautiful messages of comfort and encouragement for this dear woman.

67. (Jesus:) This is really a case of, "Neither has this man sinned, nor his parents, but that the glory of the Lord may be made manifest." That means in your particular situation and case, My dear loves, that "this baby is doing what I have caused it to do, and you, the parents, are not doing anything wrong, and I shall be glorified through this." So you can rest in peace, My sweet loves. As you are faithfully following My leads, checking in with Me as you go, I will lead you in the way wherein you should walk; I will be glorified and victory will come forth!

68. Of course, in situations like this, a great deal has to do with faith.—How I lead you as the parents to proceed according to your faith; what the midwife can and cannot do within the boundaries of her profession and her faith; and also what the doctor has the faith for. So faith really is the key here. And there are of course many different details as well as levels of faith to factor into the equation.

69. That's why I want you to claim the key of leading faith. This key embodies following My lead in the situation according to your faith. Through actively claiming the insight and direction of this key, it has the power to lead the faith of all parties involved in the matter.—That means you, My dear parents, the midwife, as well as the doctor. My will in the matter is then perfected and accomplished. And if you're claiming this key and following its lead, you need never worry or be concerned that you are missing My mark. So long as you are willing to follow—and sometimes that means changing course or direction because of a new factor in the equation—then you have My assurance that you are in My perfect will for you. Isn't that comforting?

70. At this point, My loves, I would suggest you consider waiting a little longer—allowing Me, prayer, and key power the opportunity to work. Then, if need be, turn the baby in the hospital, induce the labor there, have the baby head-down and naturally.

71. You could also go with trying to have the baby naturally and breech if all seems well and the doctor has the faith for it. But that will depend on your faith and the doctor's faith. And for this option your faith needs to be solid faith—not what you think anyone else is expecting of you, but faith that stands on what I have shown you personally and how I am leading you.

72. For this particular option, in claiming the key of leading faith you'll be able to trust that if I am not giving the doctor the faith for this option, then I am leading otherwise. This is the power and beauty of claiming this key. It will lead you into My perfect way, and you'll then be able to walk in that way in full faith.

73. In the meantime, My loves, be specific in your request for prayer from your mates, and call upon their effectual, key-empowered prayers! Through prayer and calling on the keys, My will is performed, and I can cause this baby to turn naturally even at this late date and stay in the head-down position. There is no limit to the power of the keys. All things are made perfect in the power of the keys—and that includes your new little one and the way it will be delivered. And just as I have formed this baby perfectly in your womb, the keys will also deliver this baby perfectly into this world! You have My promise on that.

74. Through this, you will not only gain a beautiful new soul and treasure, but you will have gained priceless lessons in faith, which, along with your little one, you'll be able to take with you into eternity.

75. This promise is for you, My dear loves: “The key of leading faith is able to take all of the factors and circumstances in any given situation—even different levels of faith—and make My will perfectly clear. This key will lead you into My perfect will and way!”

Choose to let Me do the miracles

76. (Jesus:) My love, this is a test of your faith. I am asking you to trust Me, to put your life, and the life of your baby, into My hands. I am asking you to say to Me, “Not my will, but Thine be done.” I promise you, My love, that if you put your full weight down on Me, if you give everything to Me—all of your concerns, all of your trials, all of your fears—that I will take care of you and your little one in the very best way possible.

77. The Enemy wants you to worry and fear about what might be. He wants you to entertain the possibility that I might fail you. He wants you to feel like you have to know the outcome in order to be at peace. However, I want you to rest in Me, to have peace, and to know that even if you don't know how all of the details will play out right now, in the end My will is going to be performed.

78. I have your best interests at heart, My love. I know what will be best, even now, and I'm going to lead you to discover that plan as you follow Me step by step. You can be assured that if you're depending totally on Me in this situation, that the way your baby comes into the world will be the best way, the safest way, the way that is according to My plan.

79. In everything you do, My love, and in every decision, choose the road of trust. Choose to allow Me to work. Choose to give Me some space to work. Choose to let Me do the miracles I need to do to bring this baby safely into the world. I promise you that I am in control, so don't try to control the situation yourself. Just relax and let the details fall into place as I know best.

80. You won't have to wonder if you're doing the right thing. When choices present themselves to you, you will be clearly shown what choice is best. I will be leading and guiding you if you are putting your full weight down on Me, if you are trusting Me completely in your heart, if you are confident in My ability to bring you through this difficulty as I know best.

81. My love, this trial of your faith is not a punishment. This trial is precious to Me—more precious than fine gold, more precious than beautiful diamonds, more precious than anything this world has to offer. Do you know why this time is so precious to Me? It's because your faith is being strengthened, and when your faith is strengthened, it is a wonderful, wonderful thing in My sight.

82. So many people wish for their faith to be strengthened, but they're not really willing to go through the difficult times that are necessary to do so. They want Me to wave My magic wand and give them strong faith, just like that, without them having to do anything. But that's not how faith works. Faith is built, it grows, and it is strengthened—not through comfy, non-problematic, peaceful times, but through uncomfortable, difficult times.

83. I'm using this difficult time to strengthen the most valuable gift you possess: your faith. And if the strengthening of your faith was not of utmost importance to Me, then I would not be allowing these tests. Your faith is important to Me. Your faith is what your whole spiritual life for Me is built on, and it must be strong. It must be strong enough to withstand the fears of the Enemy. It must be strong enough to trust Me, even when circumstances and conditions are not perfect.

84. This situation will work together for good—this is My promise to you. I will care for you, My love, and support you, and help you. I will do every single miracle you need from this very second until you hold your baby in your arms. Do not doubt for a moment that I am in control. And no matter how things turn out, even if it's not exactly as you had imagined or hoped, remember that I was in control.

85. You are My darling bride, My sweetheart, the mother of My children. I will not fail you. I will not let you fight this battle on your own. I will make the pathway of this journey as pleasant as possible by lining it with My miracles, with My grace, with My peace, with My supernatural faith, with helpers from the spirit world, as well as helpers from Earth who will be anointed by Me. You have nothing to fear. I am in control. All things will work together for good, My darling, because you love Me and I love you.

86. (Mama:) The happy ending to the story with this particular woman is that the Lord did the miracle, just as He promised. He led her to have the doctor turn the baby, and all went well, and she was able to have the baby naturally, in the head-first position.

87. Although you might not be faced with exactly the same circumstances, you can apply this counsel if you are faced with any type of complication in your pregnancy or are having to make difficult decisions. Just as the Lord led this woman, He will lead you as well, and will bring forth your baby with the utmost love and care, according to His plan.

Watch Me perform the miracles!

88. (Jesus:) It is important that you continuously call on the keys to surround you and your baby through this last stretch of your pregnancy, and through the birth. Pray that I will bring the baby in My perfect time, and that there will be no complications. I know exactly when the baby should come, and exactly how everything should go. And if you're faithful to pray, you can trust that everything will go perfectly according to My plan.

89. Draw close to Me, and let Me hold you. Don't worry, just trust. Just do your part, and I will do the rest. Your part is to pray and commit everything to Me. Lay everything in My hands and watch Me perform the miracles. I promise that the delivery will go well, and you will have a healthy baby, but you and the others in the Home must fight for it in prayer. There is nothing that I will not do for you when you call on the keys.

I'm the ultimate Care Provider!

90. (Jesus:) My darling love, I promise that I will help you, strengthen you, and give you the grace and faith you need at the very moment you need it. I know you don't feel like you have sufficient faith right now, and you don't, but I promise that it will be given to you in full measure at the exact time you need it.

91. Throughout your delivery there will be times when you will feel like your faith is weak, or you will feel lacking and in need. But when you feel that way, remember that I am right beside you even if you can't feel My presence strongly. Even if you are tempted to feel as if I have forsaken you, remember that I am just as strong and powerful as ever, and will bring you through the battle.

92. Having a baby is a big battle—there's no doubting that. The Enemy hates life, and especially new life; that's why having a baby is often such a fight. But it's also the perfect opportunity for you to see My hand in your life like never before. Though you will feel low at times, I will lift you up. And when the battle is won, you will feel the greatest high you have ever experienced on Earth.

93. When you feel like you can't take the battle anymore, when you're at the end of your strength and human abilities, that's when I'll deliver you. When you feel spent and like you can't fight anymore, that's when My miracle-working power of deliverance will come through for you swiftly—and not a moment too late.

94. Having this baby is something we will do together. It's a time in your life that you're never going to forget, because it's a time when you will experience a miracle, a really big one—the miracle of life!

95. Make sure that you do your part to prepare—by soaking in the Word from now till the delivery, pondering and reviewing My words to you, and receiving further personal instruction as needed—and then you can trust fully that I will do My part. Prepare a detailed prayer list, because this is very important. If you don't feel comfortable sharing all of the nitty-gritty prayer requests with everyone, choose a prayer team that consists of those you feel closer to and more comfortable with, and ask them to pray with you and for you.

And then ask others to pray for the more general requests.

96. As long as you have done everything necessary in the physical, I will see to the details that are beyond your reach and power. Don't worry about the details that are in My care, My love. Just commit them to Me. I'm the ultimate Care Provider, the best Doctor in the universe, and certainly the most qualified Midwife. Human doctors and midwives only know what they can see with their physical eyes and what they have learned from past experience. But My expertise goes far beyond that. I see and know everything in the physical and spiritual.

97. Believe Me, My darling, that by committing your delivery and labor into My hands you're making the wisest decision possible. You're in good hands—the best, most capable, skilled, dependable, reliable ones that are available to assist you. You don't have to worry about a thing, because I've got it all under control! It won't be long now. I can hardly wait!

The fire is not going to burn you!

98. (Jesus:) Tell Me what you'd like Me to help you with, and what you'd like Me to do for the delivery. I might not answer each request in exactly the way you think they should be answered, but by making your requests known and specific to Me, you will have committed each aspect to Me in prayer, and then you can trust that I'll be fully in control of everything that happens. Write up your prayer list and start praying for it now. Also send it around to a few of your friends as your due date gets closer, and specifically when you go into labor.

99. Memorize some more keys, so that they can be flowing through your mind. If you have a few that you've memorized well, these can be something you focus specifically on as the contractions start getting heavier and difficult to cope with.

100. Compile some inspiring instrumental music that can play in the background, which will help to provide a calming effect. You could also have things on your MP3 player, though it's probably better toward the end not to be too shut off from everyone by having headphones on.

101. When you first go into labor, listen to or read some faith-building Word, something a little more “meaty.” Once your labor progresses, you won’t be able to concentrate as fully or absorb as much—although, of course, you will be able to read, or have someone read to you, quotes and verses on faith, as well as key promises. It’s good to be prepared with a few things to do to fill in the time between contractions. Be prepared that your labor and delivery might take some time. It’s nothing to get uptight about; it’s just the way it goes. Most women do labor for some hours before the baby is born.

102. You can pray for a quick delivery, but then you need to trust that I’ll be in control of the timing. I know your body and what it needs. I know how long your body needs to be in labor for optimum results. I also know what your spirit needs. So if your delivery is longer than you would have hoped—and for most women, it always seems longer than they would like—then you just need to trust that I’m in control. Claim the keys of endurance and faith, and keep fighting.

103. This whole experience is going to strengthen your faith and your spirit in many ways. It’s going to be the most challenging physical experience you’ve faced to date—and even spiritual, because it’s a very spiritual experience as well. But it’s not going to be an ugly experience in any way. If you keep reminding yourself of the purpose behind it, and of the new little life I’m giving you, it will make it worth it. Picture holding your little baby at the end of the battle. Picture her little eyes, her little cry, her tiny body, and that first moment when you bond with her. That’ll help to keep you going, and to relax and work with the contractions, not against them.

104. It’s worth it all, My love, not only for the new life, but also for the growth you’ll gain in spirit as a result of going through this beautiful experience. You’ll feel like you’re walking through the fire for a bit, but the fire is not going to burn you, and you’ll come out the other side perfectly whole—along with a healthy little one to show for it.

105. Yes, some of My children go through very difficult labors and have complications, but I always pull them through and work things together for good. So there’s no need for you to worry whether or not you’re going to be one of those women who have it more difficult. My grace is sufficient for you, and I’ll give you grace equal to the trial when it comes, not before. So rather than thinking about the unpleasant side, you should try to imagine what it will be like in a good scenario.

106. It’s good to prepare by picturing yourself working through the difficult contractions during the transition stage and then the pushing. It’s good to try to imagine yourself relaxing and coping. Though you can’t predict your reactions, it still helps to mentally condition yourself, and to prepare.

107. I’m going to see you through, and your little girl is certainly going to make it worth it all. You’re going to be so happy with her, and you’ll make wonderful, caring parents.

Meditation during labor!

108. (Mama:) The following prophecy was given by a particular mother’s spirit helper, and I wanted to share it with you because it’s a good example and reminder of the wonderful spirit help that is available to each of you dear mothers. Although this particular spirit helper would not be aiding you, as she was a guardian and helper for this specific baby, you are certainly not lacking in the spirit help department. The Lord blesses all of you women with a wonderful entourage of helpers when you are having your baby, because it’s such an important event and a major happening in the spirit world.

109. There are spiritual midwives and doctors available to aid you. Your baby’s three angels—the prayer angel, the protector/guardian angel, and the heart and conscience angel—who are assigned to him or her at conception will no doubt be there. (See ML #3325:32–38, GN 930.) Basically, whoever you need, the Lord will provide for you. So it’s worthwhile to take the time to find out who is assisting you from the spirit world during your delivery. Get to know them. Ask them what they’ll be doing and how they’ll be helping you. It’s wonderful to know that you not only have Jesus right beside you helping you every minute, but that there are many more spirit helpers playing different roles as well.

110. These spirit helpers can also give you very practical tips that will make your labor easier, just as this spirit helper did for the mother she was helping. So please take the time before your delivery to connect with the spirit world. Whether or not you find out about those who are assisting you, they'll still be there to help you. But how much better to know, so that the awareness of their presence can give you even greater faith! Also, you'll then be able to call on them specifically, by name, which will enhance their power many times over!

111. (Spirit helper:) Hi, beautiful mommy! I've been around since the conception of your little one, and I've been helping you with the pregnancy. You've done very well during your pregnancy, taking good care of yourself for the sake of the little babe you're carrying. I'm so happy about that, because this little one is my charge, and I am one of her guardians and helpers. And part of my job, of course, has been to help you during your pregnancy, and now with the delivery. I've also helped to see to the needs of your little girl, so that she has all that she needs for a healthy development and entry into this world. She's going to be such a joy to you and your husband, and I can't wait to see you interact as a family, and to watch her grow under your care and nurture. You're going to make a good mom!

112. Don't worry about the delivery. It's all going to fall into place, and it will happen, I guarantee you—and that sooner rather than later. I know it's a little hard to wait and to be overdue, but you just have to trust that your Husband, Jesus, has everything under His perfect control, and she's going to make her entry when she's ready and you're ready, okay? So keep being patient and trusting, and do your part to get good nourishment and rest while you can, and then things will kick into motion at the right time. You're going to know when it's getting serious, so don't worry about that either.

113. The delivery is going to be a lot of hard work, and I know you're prepared for that, but just remember that you don't have to do it alone. You've got Jesus and a band of His heavenly help around you, and we'll infuse you with the strength, grace, and endurance that you need. We'll make it smooth, and it will go according to the Lord's perfect plan. So although you can do what you can to prepare, the best preparation of your heart is to trust the Lord for each aspect, even if things come up that you weren't expecting, or it takes longer than you'd hoped, or whatever. I can't tell you everything now, because it's part of your walk of faith to put it all into the Lord's hands and know that He'll take care of you and the baby. So just tell the Lord what you'd like Him to do and help you with. But most of all tell Him that you have perfect faith that it's all going to work out, because you know He's in control, okay?

114. To use the principles of meditation will be a great help to you during labor. It will help you to focus on something—whether it be a key, or the Lord's face, or my helping you, or a beautiful thought or scene, etc. And music will help you to do that, and to remain relaxed and work with your contractions, letting them open you up and giving you perseverance through each one. So don't be afraid to “check out” and enter into a place of meditation and rest of spirit. Find what works for you as far as focusing on something positive that will help you to ride each “wave” and bring you safely to “shore.”

115. I'm looking forward to the birth of your baby as much as you are. We're in this together, and it's going to be fun—fun, because you won't remember the pain for the joy that you've brought a new little life into the world. Stay positive and upbeat, and go into the labor and delivery with that frame of mind.

I am present at the birth and I am all-powerful!

116. (Jesus:) I am He Who hath delivered, Who doth deliver, and Who will yet deliver. I am the Great Deliverer. One area of My expertise is in the delivery of children. And for you, My Family mothers, it's no small operation, with all of the angels who are personally assigned to be with your baby, the spirit helpers who join your child at birth, your personal angels and spirit helpers, the key craft that is activated, the spiritual help that is given to the doctors or midwives, the force field that is erected to provide protection against the Enemy's attacks, and so much more. I am in control of all of these things. I know everything, I am present at the birth and I am all-powerful, providing whatever is needed at the moment it is needed.

117. I will be with you. I will hold your right hand, telling you when to push and when to wait. I will be a very present help in your time of need. I will be there to give you strength when you are tired. I will be there to help your cervix to open at the precise moment it needs to for your little one to pass through. I will give you peace of mind, heart, and spirit. No good thing will I withhold from you. I will give you the endurance that you need. I will anoint the hands of those who will assist you in the delivery. I will comfort and protect your little one, and anoint your husband to speak just the right words at the right time—words of love, words of faith, words of trust, My words.

118. I love you, My darling wife, and I'm looking forward to the birth of our child. She was chosen by Me, and she chose to come to be your child on Earth. She will melt your hearts, give you great joy, and deepen your love for Me. She will be a blessing! Though it will be a lot of work to raise her, as is the case with all children, you will never regret that you allowed Me to fulfill My will for you through conceiving her. Thank you, My precious love. I am with you to keep you each step of the way.

Engage the battle with all the fierceness of a warrior!

119. (Mama:) This next prophecy was received for a mother who was about to give birth to her second baby. After having been through one delivery already, she knew that it was a lot of hard work, she knew what to expect, and she wasn't exactly looking forward to it. So she asked the Lord to come and give her a "pep talk," something that would give her the courage and the strength that she needed to deliver her baby. The Lord may not speak to everyone like this, but He obviously knew it was what she needed to give her a boost of spiritual energy and faith for the battle.

120. (Jesus:) All right, it's that time! This is going to be a wonderful experience for you! Yes, I know you're saying under your breath, "Yeah, but You don't have to do it!" I know. I realize that. But I'm going to go through the whole process with you. I'm not going to let you go on this adventure without Me. You've got to be kidding!

121. It's like we're going on this extreme hike! It's going to be hard. It's going to be tough. It's going to really test your limits of strength, but it's a challenge. It's exciting! It's even exhilarating and empowering! But I understand that you're a little apprehensive about it, and you don't want Me to just say, "It'll be beautiful," because we both know that there's going to be a lot of work involved in getting that little munchkin out.

122. Let's look at it practically: The labor is going to come no matter what you do about it. You can't stop it. You can't postpone it. You can't get out of it. So you're just going to have to go through it, grit your teeth, and endure the pain as a good soldier. But it is worth it! You know that just from looking at your first child. But this one is going to be even more special to you, because there's something different about it.

123. I'm not talking about huge complications or terrible things going wrong. What I'm talking about is the fact that it's your second child, a second beautiful blessing from Me. It wasn't enough for Me to just bless you once. I want to do it again. I want to touch your life with the love of another child. It's really a very big compliment, and it shows that I'm very happy with you. I'm giving you My touch of love in your life again, because you have made Me happy.

124. Having a baby is certainly never easy. But, soldier, it's going to happen, so you might as well get used to it. It's not going to be anything that you and I can't handle together. It's going to be tough, but together we'll make it, and we'll come out just fine. Okay? Don't start thinking about the pain or the hard work. That's no way to look at the battle. Of course it's no fun. This is war. War is never any fun. But it's worth the victory, right? You just have to strap on your pack and start hiking. We're going to make it, and there won't be a moment when I won't be able to help you make it through the pain or the struggles. I'm going to be there to help you at every turn.

125. I know I don't have a coward on My hands. I know I've got a pretty tough fighter who isn't going to shrink from this one! Hoo-ah? You've got what it takes! It's going to be fine. You don't have to worry. Fight the good fight, and count it as part of your service to Me. Count it as your personal tribulation. You're not going to give up when the Enemy is making it tough for you in the Tribulation, are you? You're going to fight through and come out as the victor on the other side of the battle! So don't give up on this one! Hoo-ah?

126. So, soldier, are you ready to move out?

Are you ready to engage in this battle with all the fierceness of a warrior that I know you've got? It's just like another battle; you've got to fight to make it through, but the victory will be worth it. And the good thing is that you're armed to the teeth. You've got backup, air support, and all you need to be fully armed for this battle.

127. You're a tough woman. I know you can take it. I know you'll be a soldier and fight through to the victory, the fulfillment of the promise. And I'm right with you, so don't you quit on Me. Don't give up even before the fight! My goodness, you're tougher than that! Give it all you've got! Go into it with nerves of steel, and a mind set on doing whatever it takes to get this victory. You want it, right? You'd love to get the little rascal out, wouldn't you? You know it's got to happen, right?

128. You can face the labor in two ways: You can panic, fear, and have it catch up with you; or you can grab it by the horns and take it for a ride. You can catch up with it and make it run from you, because of your ferocity. Either way, it's going to happen. But the way you face it is up to you. You can and probably will, if I know you, grit your teeth and make it wish it never knew you! You're going to hit it with so much force and power of My Spirit that labor isn't going to know what hit it!

129. Yeah, that's My girl! Hit it like the Irish warrior I know you to be! Get down with some serious spirit power, and I'll get you through it, and you're going to be so thankful for the little baby you'll hold in your arms. So don't run out on Me! Don't let the labor take control of you. You take control of it and make it work for you. It's going to happen—you can't escape that; but you sure can make the most of it and come through with flying colors. Amen, soldier?

130. All right, now no more of this dread! You've fought the battle before, you know what to expect, but you also have the power of positive thinking, willpower, the keys, and My help. With all those things we're going to get through this just fine. The pain will only challenge you, not crush you. You'll overcome as the victor in this one! We're in it together, and the fight is ours! Let's take this one together. Rely on Me to strengthen you, and let the keys be your defense against the lies of the Enemy. Keep the positive vision! The results are positive; you've just got to do your part to make it happen.

131. I'm counting on the fight and guts I've placed in you to kick in and overcome the fears the puny Enemy would like to scare you with. He can't stop the birth from happening! The room is going to be so full of spirit help that he won't be able to squeeze through without being pancaked by the guards I'll have around you. I'm assigning a special detachment of warriors whose job is to help you through childbirth. Outside that circle is a set of warriors who will protect you against Wolverine and his attacks. Then outside that ring are the hosts of Heaven cheering for you and rooting for you.

132. So I'd say you're pretty well stocked up on spirit help. And in the physical there'll be all the help you need to get the job done. We're going to hit this one with a bang. It's not going to be more than you can endure, and you'll come through fine.

"New mommy" spirit helper teams!

133. (Dad:) Did you know that there are special "new mommy" spirit helper teams? Yes, special teams of helpers specifically assigned to help out you dear mommies during your pregnancy and delivery. They are all veteran mothers themselves, so they know a lot! Whew! Some of them have had more kids than you can imagine, so they really know what they're talking about! But most of all, they're especially in tune with the Lord, and can pull down quick answers and counsel concerning any questions you may have. So utilize them. These gals are just waiting to help! And, of course, the Lord is always ready and willing to give you anything that you need, and provide an answer to anything you ask. He's the Answer Man!

An enormous extravaganza!

134. (Jesus:) This bundle of joy that you bear is a love gift, a present from My heart to your hearts. My gift does not end simply with the delivery of the life within you, but it continues for always. So know that I will perfect My gift to you. I will bring you to the place of My will where this baby will be born. Even now I have selected those who will assist you in the delivery, and all those who will aid you. Up here everything is in motion—the planning of the coming events, the preparations for where this little one will be born, and even the continual training of My helpers who will assist you in your time of labor.

135. The birth of a baby is no small occasion to Me. It's a fine celebration, an enormous extravaganza! Not only is it the welcoming of another living soul to Earth, but it's the full making of a mother and father, the beginning and continuing of a family. I will show you how special this time is to Me, how much I treasure the sacrifices you're willing to take on to parent this new life. This is a sacrifice you will never regret making. So don't let fear or apprehension seep in, for all is running as I have planned. Just believe that I will see you through, and I will give you the strength to continue on. I have chosen the place for you and those who will care for you during this time.

136. The delivery of a baby into the world is no small undertaking, and you will have a host of angels to stand with you during this time. I will be there for you. I will be your pillar of support, and the words of courage and strength that you will hear whispered in your ear during this time will flow from My lips. So relax and let Me run this show. Let Me take care of the details, for this is My job. I am in control.

Don't give way to fear

137. (Mama:) The following message from our Lover was given for a mom whose previous babies had been delivered by cesarean, due to weakness in her uterus caused by surgery before she started bearing babies. As she was preparing to have another baby, also scheduled to be born by cesarean, the doctor who was caring for her was concerned about possible complications, and this message contains excerpts of the Lord's words of comfort to her, which you can apply to any fears or concerns you may be faced with.

138. (Jesus:) Today is the day of attacking initiatives, and you have done well in asking for prayer and asking someone to receive My words for you. Wolverine wishes to frighten you, so that you go into the birth tense and afraid. He knows that when you are tense, your body won't be able to react as well to Heaven's healing elixir. Tension blocks My Spirit, and this is what he's out to do—to block My Spirit.

139. Whenever the doctor presents his counsel about what could go wrong, Wolverine is gleefully trying to get in to cause fear. That's one major thing to be on guard against: fear. I will pull you through any type of delivery. What is most important is that you do not give way to fear. You are taking a proactive step against this fear by asking for prayer and for My words in prophecy. Continue taking proactive steps and continue to hear from Me. By giving way for My words to flow through you in an unending stream, no fear can take root in your heart.

140. You will be tempted with fear. That is human. That is part of the earthly life. But you do not have to give way to fear. Don't feel guilty when you are tempted with fear, and then fear "fear" itself. Instead, when tempted, turn to Me with praise, and let My power flow through you. Praise, the keys, and prayer will give you the victory over and over and over again, both before the birth and during the birth.

141. Occasionally there are complications, and when that's a possibility, your doctor has to prepare you. That's his job. Ask Me what to do and whether it's wise to follow the doctor's advice, and I will show you what's best. Sometimes I'll tell you to do as the doctor says, or maybe I'll change the doctor's counsel somewhat, or I might lead you in an entirely different direction of care. But whatever the case, you are in My hands and I will take good care of you and your baby. You do not have to fear, for I'm in full control.

142. Wolverine is looking to cause fear to stop My healing power from being effective. So shore up your defenses. The major step for shoring up your defenses is through praise and the Word. Coming to Me to hear My counsel now, and after talks with your doctor, are the best ways to ensure that fear does not get ahold of you. Be prepared. Find out from Me, as well as in counsel with your doctor, if there are any practical steps you need to take to ensure a safe pregnancy and delivery. This will help to shore up your heart and spirit against fear. It also will help to protect the doctor from fear.

143. Pray for the keys of peace and trust for the doctor and his staff; that way they too will be protected from Wolverine causing them to fear or to misread something that happens during the birth. I have Dr. Koger and others of My doctors ready to assist your earthly doctor and his staff. Claim the keys. They will bring peace, faith, wisdom, and knowledge to your doctor and his staff attending to you.

You can't let anything shake your faith!

144. (Mama:) The following counsel from the Lord was given for a woman whose doctor explained the risk and complication she was facing, as he saw it, and the possibility that she would need a hysterectomy after the birth of her baby. When we asked the Lord about sharing this with all of you, dear Family moms, in light of the fact that you could be tempted to worry and fear if you should face any type of pregnancy risk, and in view of the fact that Wolverine is always on hand to cause as much fear as he can, the Lord still encouraged us to share it with you.

145. He said: "I can't only give one side of the picture—the easy and complication-free pregnancy or delivery. That wouldn't be balanced counsel, and could cause women to question 'Why?' if they should have some type of complication, instead of understanding and having faith that no matter what I choose to do, I'm in control, complications and all. So it's good for the Family to read some messages that I have given for a mom with potential complications, so that no matter what I choose to do—whether it's the miracle of bringing a mom through without the smell of smoke, or Me safely pulling a mom through with medical procedures—each mom will have a peace of mind about it and won't be tempted to feel condemned or worried. I'm in control of each of My brides' lives, and the lives of My babies are in My full care, and I will not fail to protect and keep."

146. So whatever your situation is, ask the Lord for His counsel for you, as this mother did. He might not tell you exactly the same thing, but whatever He says, His words will encourage you no matter what you face.

147. (Question:) How does the Lord see this situation and the possible complications or risk? What is the Lord's perspective, and how does He want us to look at it? Do we just need to pray against it (the complications and the hysterectomy) and trust Him that it's not going to happen, or is there some way that He wants us to prepare spiritually?

148. (Jesus:) My loves, have peace, have faith, have trust, and know that I do all things well. I am happy to give you many children, for you are parents that I am proud of. I am happy to send My bundles from Heaven to you. For you to keep your womb and be able to bear more children for Me is My highest will; it's what I've ordained you to do, even through the complications and difficulties that I've put before you. If you didn't have these problems, or these possible worries, then you wouldn't value each little life that I give you so highly. Although you would look at them through the eyes of thankfulness, it would not be with as much as you have now.

149. These problems that you both face make you better parents; they make you more appreciative of what it takes for a new life to be added to your precious family, and all of these things are important. I've given these problems to you for a reason, and it's because I want you to learn to fight your fears, punch the Enemy, and go on. You both have your strengths and your weaknesses, and I've given those to you to balance one another. When one is down, the other can lift up his or her fellow, and then you will be able to fight on.

150. My will in this circumstance is that you bolster your faith. Faith in Me will win the battle and turn the tide. Yes, there is the chance that you will need to face what you dread, that you will need to have this happen, because of what your body needs and how your body reacts. But things that seem to be don't need to be! What seems inevitable can be changed, and the outcome can be drastically altered by My hand and My power.

151. Move My hand in prayer. Move My hand in faith. Move My hand through your determination to hold on through any and all bleak advice, and the shaking of the head of your doctor. I am the greatest Doctor. I am the One Who will heal you through insurmountable problems and health issues. Nothing is too hard for Me. Rally together in prayer, fight in prayer, and fight for your own faith, praying that it fails not. I want to answer your prayers, and I will hold nothing back from those whom I love and cherish. Don't for a second wonder if that holds true for you—it does. Don't doubt Me. Don't worry. Don't fret.

152. So many things hang in the balance, so you must pray. I will rally your mates behind you in prayer, and bolster your faith. And you can call on the prayer warriors of Heaven to support you in prayer as well. I want you to get a tailor-made course on faith and connection with Me. You can't let anything, good or bad, shake your faith at a time like this. You need to know beyond a shadow of a doubt that you're in My capable hands and that I'm here with you, holding your hand, helping you, carrying you, anointing the doctor, leading the tests, helping each aspect of this to turn out well.

153. Even the most simple and complication-free pregnancy can have problems at the time of delivery. So no matter what you feel you need to expect, or what might come at you or not, it's still My counsel each and every time that you take extra time with Me, making it the most important thing you do each day in the weeks before delivery.

154. It's not an optional thing; it's paramount and imperative that you take this time with Me, separately and together as a couple, to bolster your faith and to get your hearts right with Me. Seek Me more and more as you receive any more details from the doctor, so that you have the faith to face whatever comes. You can have the faith; you can meet this battle head-on and overcome it. Again, it's not My will that you receive this hysterectomy, so fight it in prayer. So much hinges on your prayers and on every "ball" being in the right place for My will to be performed. So pray!

155. I love you so much! You're going to make it just fine, My love. You're going to be a queen mother and have many other beautiful babies—miracle babies—for Me! Thank you for being willing. Thank you for wanting children. Thank you for laying down your life so that others may live. Thank you for hearing My call and answering with not only willingness, but with joy, desire for new children, and the love that cares for each and every one of them! Your quiver shall be full! Believe in My promises, have faith and peace and trust, and pray most of all! I love you!

156. (Mama:) The wonderful news is that our Husband fulfilled all of His promises to this dear woman. Although she had some complications at the time of her delivery, He brought her and her baby through miraculously and cared for them each step of the way. And in the end, she did not need to have the hysterectomy that the doctor had originally anticipated.

157. All glory to our caring and concerned Heavenly Doctor, Who did all things well for this woman and her baby, and Who will also see you through any difficulty you will ever face!

I will not give you more than I know you can handle!

158. (Jesus:) My darling bride, My love, I'm right here beside you and want to take your hand. I want to, in fact, hold you to My bosom and hug you tightly as I whisper these words to you. I want you to close your eyes and open your heart and soul. Listen, and take My words of encouragement deep inside you. Let them take root and soothe and comfort your troubled heart.

159. I know your frame, My love. I know exactly how I formed you. I know how much you can take, and I promise you here and now that I will not give you more than I know you can handle.

160. I know you've trusted Me so far with your babies, and you've trusted Me for when I knew it was the best time to give them to you. And now I've chosen to give you yet another blessing in the form of this baby you're carrying. It is indeed My love gift to you.

161. I know you may be tempted to wonder at My wisdom at the news of possible complications, but, My love, this is when you have to look to Me, and listen only to Me and to the voice of My whispers in your heart, and not anything else.

162. I know exactly how much you can take, and I want you to know that I'm in perfect control of every detail. Don't you think that if I could form this new life within you and breathe the breath of life into this new being, My brand-new creation, that I can also handle every detail of bringing another of My precious little ones into the world? Indeed, it is all in My hands and it is already determined and done in the spirit.

163. I need you to only trust in My words. Don't look to the right or to the left, to past experience, to doctors or nurses, or to anything else, but only to Me and My unfailing love for you and My promises to you.

164. The best preparation is always a preparation in the spirit. All the preparation in the physical cannot equal the preparation of heart and spirit, of bathing in My love and trust; that's the best preparation there is.

165. I know you always like to be prepared in spirit and you value and esteem My words above all. So now I ask you, My love, to once again forget about anything else and just trust in My love and care for you. My words are spirit and life, so hold on to only that and know that I will come through for you yet again.

166. Don't allow yourself to worry or to start thinking about anything else, any other possibility, any words of man, but only think and meditate on My words as you go into the delivery.

167. You have to keep your eyes on Me. Focus on Me and My love, and then you'll be perfectly prepared. You'll have all that you need in the spirit to go through it; you'll have perfect peace of mind and heart that I'll deliver you once again and will bless you with a beautiful little one to love and cherish.

168. It's very important for your preparation that you keep your eyes on My promises; that you trust Me and don't listen to the Enemy's lies or his temptations to take your eyes off of what I've already said to you.

169. I know that in times of trial and difficulty, the human temptation is to try to fix things yourself, to look for solutions in the human realm, to want to do something yourself, so you can "feel" like you've done your part and are prepared. But in this case I encourage you to just throw yourself fully on Me. In this case, your part is doing things in the spirit, not in the physical. Leave the rest to Me.

170. The solution is in the spiritual realm, not in the physical. Where the physical capabilities end, My miracles of the spirit begin. Your part in this is to fully yield and to let Me work through you; to fully trust in My capability to deliver you without the smell of smoke. It has to be in the spirit. The solution, the answer, is in trusting in My Spirit to come through for you, and in relying on My love and promises to be fulfilled and work the work in the physical.

171. You have to first accomplish what I ask you in the spirit, and then you will see the manifestation of it in the physical. The physical is only a reflection of the spiritual. So as long as you keep committing everything to Me in the spirit and letting Me work, trusting Me fully without worrying, then everything will be right in the physical too and I'll take care of it all. This is My promise to you, My love, and I want you to hold on to it, to cherish it, to let it sink deep into your heart, and then you'll be prepared.

172. Let the doctors do their preparation in the physical; you prepare in the spirit, My love. That's your part. I want you to look to Me and Me alone, and remind yourself often of what I've done for you so far. Meditate on it, and be encouraged that I'll do it for you and through you. I know you feel incapable and weak in yourself, but know that I am strong in you, and in your weakness My strength can come through. Remember, it's not you, it's not your own strength, your own work. It's not by your own might, your own power, but by My Spirit that it'll be done.

173. Remember, I have delivered, I do deliver, and will yet deliver again. My promises are so strong; they stand the test of time, and will come through for you. Indeed, you can stand on them, and even stake your life on them.

174. So now that we've established the basics, will you just rest in My arms and not worry about it all, and let Me take care of every detail? Please, My love, let these words encourage you; let them envelop you; let them show you My love; let them do the work in your heart and spirit, and let them prepare you. Don't you worry about anything; just let them do the work for you.

175. Remember, My words work. By My words the world was made. I spoke and it was done. Imagine that! Well, I know it's hard to comprehend how My words could create the world, but if they could do that, rest assured that they can also bring you through this delivery and give you a beautiful new life. Rest now and wait for My words to be fulfilled.

I don't expect the impossible!

176. (Mama:) The next prophecy you're about to read was received by a pregnant mother a few weeks before her due date. At the time she was feeling a bit discouraged, as she didn't feel she was doing so well spiritually. She was battling with the regular battles that many women face toward the end of their pregnancy—feeling tired, lacking in energy and strength, etc.—and because of this, she felt like she wasn't on top of things spiritually either.

177. She felt like she was hardly keeping up, that there were so many things she wasn't doing, or wasn't doing well enough, when it came to her spiritual life. She felt like she wasn't doing all that the Lord expected of her, and it was weighing on her. As her delivery wasn't that far away, she wanted to be right with the Lord so that she could be assured that He would take care of her and answer her prayers, and give her a safe delivery.

178. She wanted to be in a good position for the Lord to bless her, knowing that she was being as obedient as she could be, but she didn't feel like her faith was strong. She felt like she was in a spiritual slump. So she asked the Lord to speak to her about anything that she needed to do to draw closer to Him, to revitalize her spiritual life, and to be ready for the delivery. She wanted to do what she could, so that she could have full faith in the Lord's promises.

179. I want to share this with you because I know that the Enemy probably hits many of you dear pregnant women with similar feelings—that you're not doing well enough spiritually, that maybe because you're failing in certain areas of your life, the Lord won't bless you, or He'll allow something to happen because you weren't close enough to Him, or you're not as strong a disciple as you feel you should be.

180. I believe that our wonderful Lover's words will be an encouragement to you if you've battled this or something similar. Although the details and specifics might not all apply, the basic principle that the Lord doesn't expect perfection, and that He understands your frame, and will care for you and yours as long as you're doing the best you can within your capabilities and situation is true across the board. He loves you. He's your Husband, and He will bless you and fulfill His promises to you.

181. (Jesus:) My love, I know that in the spirit you're beating yourself over the head, because you don't feel spiritual enough, because you feel like you're failing. But I want you to know that I'm not beating you over the head. I have compassion on you. I understand your frame. I remember that humanity was created out of dust, and that you're not perfect. I'm your loving Husband as well, and My mercies for you are renewed daily.

182. I know that you aren't at the peak of your spiritual performance. There have certainly been other times in your life in recent years when you've been much more on top of things—when you've been faithfully memorizing and reviewing, when you've had better Word time, when you've taken more time to love Me intimately and praise Me, when you've been more faithful with your personal P&Ps. But at such times, you weren't necessarily closer to Me. I know that may surprise you, but it's the truth.

183. It's like the story about the Sultan and Satan. The Sultan used to get up religiously every morning to spend time in prayer, but one morning he slept in, and Satan awoke him. It seemed odd that Satan would wake him up, but the reason he did was because he knew that his perfect track record would make the Sultan self-righteous and proud. Whereas, if he missed some time in prayer, he would be more humble and dependent on Me.

184. That's the way it is with your relationship with Me at times. Sometimes the Enemy really wants you to be so on top of things, because he knows that at those times you can tend to become more self-righteous, or a bit more self-reliant, or more proud of your relationship with Me. Whereas, the times when you go through a slump, when you're not quite as on top of things, those times keep you humble. You know you're nothing, that you need Me, and that you're far from perfect.

185. I want you to know that I take all things into consideration when it comes to your relationship with Me, and I don't expect the impossible. I know that at this time in your life, it's much more difficult for you to keep up with everything. You are about to have a baby soon, so your body feels tired and weary most of the day. So of course you're not going to be as on top of everything—not so on top of your work, not so on top of things physically, and not so on top of everything in your spiritual life. I don't expect this to be a “prime time” in your life.

186. At times in your life when you've had it within you to be very on top of things—when you weren't pregnant, when you didn't have a little baby to care for, when you had no extenuating circumstances—then I expected that of you. I expected more of you, because you could give more. That was for a time, but this time in your life is different. I know you can't forge ahead full steam on every front right now. I know that all of your Word times are not going to be high-powered. Sometimes all you'll be able to do is just rest in My arms while you're lying on your bed and listening to something devotional and relaxing—and that's fine. That can be quality time in My arms.

187. I don't expect the impossible of you, My love—I just expect that you will stay close to Me, that you will desire to love Me, that you will take as much time with Me as you can—and this I know you are doing to the best of your ability.

188. I know that you have felt discouraged that you haven't been very faithful with your personal times of P&P every day. And while that is something that you should try to do better in, again, don't expect the unrealistic of yourself. It's okay to not do it officially some days, as long as you're faithful to commune with Me in your heart, to stay in step with Me, to seek Me. This might not be My counsel to you at all times, but this is My counsel to you at this time, because of all of the changes that you are going through physically and spiritually.

189. I want you to know that I'm going to bless you and your baby, and I'm going to bring you through the labor and delivery. That is My promise to you. I'm not writing down a list of all of the requirements—whether or not you're memorizing, whether or not you're having enough quality Word time, whether or not you are hearing from Me every day in prophecy—to judge whether or not to aid you. My care for you is guaranteed as long as you are doing what you can.

190. When I say, “as long as you are doing what you can,” I mean just that. As long as you are doing what you can every day to stay close to Me, to be grounded in My Word, to keep your connection with Me strong, that's enough. I'm not waving a list of to-dos in your face. As long as you are doing what you can within your present circumstances, then you will have My full blessing. That's being right with Me. It has nothing to do with how many keys you memorize, or whether or not you have had loving Jesus time that week.

191. If your heart is right with Me, and I know that it is, I will be able to bless you fully and answer your prayers. It's the Enemy who wants to discourage you, to give you yet one more concern to worry about, something to fear. That's his aim, and why you must rebuke him.

192. Of course he would like nothing more than to have you worry during these last few weeks that you're not doing enough, that you aren't spiritual enough, that your faith isn't strong enough, and thus you can't know beyond a shadow of a doubt that I will keep you and bring you through the labor. He wants to plant seeds of doubt in your heart, which is what he has begun to do. So I'm glad that you have come to Me so that I could set the record straight and let you know what I expect, what I desire, and how you can be assured of My full blessings.

193. Something that I want you to do often over the next few weeks is to listen to loving Jesus music. Listen to those songs as often as possible, because they remind you of My great love for you—the fact that I am your Husband and you are My wife, and I'm not going to let anything bad happen to you. I also want you to reread the prophecies that were received for you as often as you need to, so that the promises I gave you within them can be firmly etched in your mind and heart.

194. If you want to memorize a few key promises that you can claim during the delivery, or receive some new ones to claim, that would be good. But, again, don't feel pressured by this. If you can, that's great. If you don't get to it, you can use some of the key promises you already know, or just call on the keys, plain and simple. Again, I'm not asking the impossible of you. I just want you to do what you can, and I will do the rest.

Focus on the baby! Focus on the goal!

195. (Jesus:) Birth is a wonderful, marvelous thing, and what you need to remember is that it won't last forever, even though at the time it does feel like it will never end. But believe Me, My love, it does end. You will be delivered, and a beautiful child will enter the world!

196. When you're weary, tired, and don't even have the strength to look up to Me on your own, don't be afraid or feel that it's a sign of weakness to lean on others' strength and connection with Me. This is a time when through your weakness you will be able to receive more strength, fortitude, and power than would otherwise be possible!

197. It's not easy to give birth. You know that, but so does everyone else. It's important that you go into this realizing that every moment won't be your best, and you may say or do things that you wouldn't otherwise. But give yourself some leeway. Allow yourself some slack. It's okay to cry. It's okay to be so tired that you don't know which end is up. It's okay to be feeling unable to continue. It's okay that you'll feel annoyed with those that you love. You will sweat, huff and puff, be working very hard, and be so tired.

198. You just need to realize that while I give you strength for the hour and grace for this big race, it is still a race. So remember this, My love, and please be easy on yourself. I will help you through this birth. I will be there, right beside you, holding your hand. I'll be next to your mate too. I'll be with both of you—helping you, coaching you, comforting you, blessing you, anointing you, and most of all, giving you extra grace and strength that will carry you through!

199. When you're weary, when you're feeling on the verge of losing it, just call out to Me and say, "Jesus, You're my strength!" "Jesus, You're my helper!" "Jesus, help me through!"—and I will! When you acknowledge Me in this way, I will give you double strength and double power to make it through.

200. Focus on the baby. Focus on the goal. Focus on the joy that will cause your heart to swell with love and pride at this gorgeous creation that I was able to make because of your love for one another. Rejoice! You're allowed to cry tears of joy for this great blessing that is coming to you soon! I know it seems so hard to wait. The seconds tick by, the minutes seem to crawl along at a deathly slow speed, but the time will come and you will be delivered!

201. In these days and hours preceding your birth, take time with Me to cleanse your heart. Bring any questions or fears that you may have before My throne so that I may wash away the fears and worries, so that I may comfort you and help you, and so that you might run this race with no burdens to load you down.

202. Unload your cares into My arms and let Me carry them for you. Even worries that it won't be "perfect," or that you'll look bad, or that something embarrassing will happen, are burdens that you must put at My feet so that you can run the race without being distracted by these sideline things.

203. Remember that I wouldn't make giving birth a part of a woman's function if it were not something that I also give her the strength and power to accomplish. I wouldn't give you something so difficult without giving you the tools to make it come to pass. So I give you extra power, extra doses of grace. Your body will work for you, because I made it that way, to help the baby to come out, to help the baby to be born without complication, and to make it a wonderful, natural, beautiful (albeit difficult) time!

204. You will have a good labor if you call out to Me for My anointing and strength. Call out to Me. Pray, and have your brethren pray during the delivery too! It's better to get the prayer that you need than to try to do it on your own because your pride doesn't want others to hear what's happening. Don't limit Me and yourself by trying to do it on your own. I will bless you for taking this step of humility and faith. I will meet every need, answer every prayer, and bring great relief to you when you ask others to intercede in prayer for you, and call on the keys for you!

205. You are aglow with My love and My power, and your little one is soaking up this love and power, so that she will be ready for the birth too. So let her tank up on love and rest, and then she will feel ready to come out. "And a little child shall lead them" (Isa. 11:6). Let her lead; let her come when she's ready. I am whispering in her heart, and we will decide when she feels capable of taking on this task. And then, that is the time that will be the best for her, and when she will be ready to take on the world!

206. What a miracle! What a special gift of My love to you! You won't be able to truly understand what a special gift she is until she's born, but soon you'll see. She is perfect in every way, and I give her to you. I love you!

The beauty of My creation within you will come forth!

207. (Jesus:) You don't know what lies ahead, and that might give you reason to worry and fear—fear that you'll not be able to handle all that this little life will bring. But, My love, I will give you more strength, more grace, and more wisdom with this new little one that I'm bringing into your life.

208. I promise you that the baby will come in My time, and I will not make you wait any longer than I know you can handle. I will also not send the baby before I know you'll be ready for it. My timing is always perfect! Although it is difficult to understand My ways when you are nearing the end of your pregnancy, and you wish that it was all over and done with, I see ahead and I know the exact time that will be just right for you and your baby.

209. Let Me carry you through this time. Let Me walk with you through these last days. Let Me commune with you in spirit. Let Me strengthen your spirit for the delivery that you'll have to go through. It is tiring on the flesh and it takes a lot out of you, but if you are close to Me and you take the time to stock up on My strength, you'll have more than enough to keep you through the delivery. Take heart that the beauty of My creation within you will come forth, and will be a proof of the miracle of life, and also a gift of My love to you.

210. I love you! Thank you for carrying one of My gifts, for accepting it and cherishing it and loving it. Look forward, My love. Know that as you wait on Me, as you turn to Me for My strength—strength to wait the last few days, and strength for the delivery that is ahead—that I will carry you through this time. You'll have the faith and confidence that I am there with you, and that I have sent many angels and spirit helpers to see you through this delivery.

211. So rest in Me. Rest in My love, and rest in the fact that as surely as the sun rises, so will I bring forth this little one in My time.

You couldn't be in a better or safer place!

212. (Jesus:) As the days grow closer to the time you will give birth to one of My children, I will be closer to you. I will help and strengthen you and bring to pass that which I have ordained. This little one that you are bringing into the world will bring you much joy and happiness and will make you and your husband's bond with each other and with Me all the stronger.

213. Do not fear or worry about any aspect of the birth, for I have it all under control. As your loved ones and mates hold you up in prayer, calling on the keys, My hands will be moved, and nothing will be able to go amiss. It is My doing, and I will stay with you till the end. You will see the works of My hands fulfill every promise that I have given you without fail, so put your trust in Me. I will bring forth the child in My perfect time, not a day too early or too late. Every aspect of this birth will be according to My plan and timetable.

214. Thank you for being willing to bring this child into the world. It makes My heart glad that I will have one more child of David born into the Family, with parents who are willing to teach, train, and raise him according to My Word. There are so few who are like you, so every child that is born into My Family with parents that are sold out and committed to Me is a great defeat to the Enemy's plans. He doesn't want any children raised in My nurture and admonition, for he knows that every one of them will be a potential weapon against him. But there is nothing he can do to hinder or stop the birth of this baby, because I have ordained it and I will not let the Enemy interfere with My will.

215. So proceed in faith, knowing that I am with you each and every step of the way. You will not be on your own for a minute, for I will be there. You couldn't be in a better or safer place right now, for you are in the center of My will, doing exactly what I have called you to do, and I will keep you.

I will bring you through the trial of the flesh!

216. (Jesus:) Do not fear and do not fret about that which you cannot see and predict. I will give you My peace that encompasses you in your greatest time of trial—the dark night before the dawn. I will not give you more than you can bear. Lean on Me and look to Me, and I will be your strong Pillar. I will be your Lighthouse.

217. I am the greatest Doctor in the universe. Will I not care for My Own? Yea, I will do much more! I will bring you through the trial of the flesh—this labor and delivery—as fine gold! You will see My hand through it all, and in the end you will see My love manifested to you in one of the most wonderful of ways—a new little one to keep and treasure, to raise and nurture in My love.

218. Your child will be a precious blessing to you. This one will be as My love token to you—from My heart to yours. This little one will bring great joy and light to your lives, in ways that you cannot yet foresee.

219. Stay desperate with Me. Seek Me daily as to the steps of preparation for your baby's arrival. My promise to you is that I will deliver this child in My time, without complications or problems. But you must do your part to stay desperate and in prayer, seeking Me every step of the way. I promise to have My hand on every step, at every crossroad of decision.

220. I will lead you and guide you in the way, and will bring you through the tunnel into My glorious light of a new horizon and turning point in your lives—a new challenge to face together that will draw you closer to each other and closer to Me most of all. I look forward to teamworking with you. I love you, and will always be here to help you.

I will not suffer you to be tempted above what you are able to bear!

221. (Jesus:) Blessed is the fruit of your womb! The little one who waits to join you in your world is blessed by My hand. I ordained him to be born. I ordained that you would bring forth this precious fruit of love for My Kingdom, and that your fruit would remain.

222. Prepare on your end by doing what you can do, and I will do what you cannot do.

Above all else, have faith and trust Me. Prepare not only your physical surroundings and your body, but most importantly, prepare your spirit. Bring your promises and lay them before My throne that I may grant you your petitions.

223. In unity there is strength. Unite your hearts—your mate’s and your own. Commit this birth to Me, knowing that I am with you and I desire to be part of this birth. I will be beside you as you bring this child forth. You will not only have the blessing of your mate, but of all your mates, and of your greatest Mate—Me. I will bless you with great peace of heart. You will know that you are not alone, and that many are beside you in prayer and support.

224. As you ask Me everything, I will answer you on everything. I will direct your paths. I will give you wisdom. I will be a voice telling you what to do, and which way is the best way to go. I will not fail to answer and give you specific direction and guidance throughout the duration of your delivery, as you seek Me step by step.

225. Dear love, as the day approaches that your child is to be delivered, I know you grow anxious for his arrival. He is My love gift, waiting to be opened and to become part of your life. I will bring him forth in My perfect time, when all the finishing touches have been made. Do not worry about your time of labor, for I will not suffer you to be tempted above what you are able. I will make a way that you will be able to bear it. Don’t neglect to bathe each and every step in prayer and trust Me to direct your steps.

226. Although there are millions of babies that are brought into this world, each birth is unique—special in its own way. Never take for granted the miracle of birth. It’s a testimony of My existence! And although the Enemy fights anything that glorifies Me, not the least of which is the birth of a new life, you are Mine and in the hollow of My hand, and you have My full protection at your command. The Enemy’s puny attempts to fight the miracle of birth are no match for Me and My power. I will always come through for you. So look to Me and know that I am the One Who hath delivered, Who doth deliver, and Who will yet deliver.

227. I am the God of all flesh, and without Me you can do nothing. It’s because you have this attitude of desperation and dependence that I can bless and make that which is harder for the unbeliever, easier, smoother, and a joy for you. For after a small time of travail (labor), you will have tears of joy that a child is born who will be with you forever.

228. I love you, My precious wife. Thank you for bearing this, our child, for Me. I promise that as you continue to seek Me and put Me first, I will provide everything that you need.

Mothers from the courts above will sit beside you!

229. (Jesus:) Dearest love who bears this child of Mine—I love you tenderly and ardently, and I won’t let anything go amiss in your preparation for the birth of this young one. Commit each detail to Me, knowing that I will work out the correct timing for each matter as well as supply abundantly all that you have need of.

230. The things that now concern you, I take on as My Own responsibilities. You can leave your concerns and cares with Me, as I know them even better than you, and will work out everything according to My perfect will and plan.

231. I will not make things harder than I know you can handle, with My help.—Although it will take some effort, and things won’t always seem very easy, and in some ways you’ll wonder why I planned things thus. But your faith in Me, through even the rougher moments, will be met by grand applause from those who help fight for you on this side.

232. Your fighting spirit and your perseverance will bring many benefits into your life. Not only will you receive My personal “well done” for seeing this battle of delivery through to the end, but I will anoint you with ample power to be what I need you to be in the next stage of your life—that of caring for and raising this tender young lamb. Keep on, and I will reward you greatly.

233. As the day draws nigh, as the time approaches, I will give you the spirit help you need. Many wonderful, kind, and loving midwives from years gone by that have joined Me above are at your beck and call, and will give aid in this important time. They will speak in your ears and in the ears of those who help you. They will be your emotional support and help to stabilize things for you, not letting one thing get out of control. And that wonderful fruit—that darling newborn—will make all the effort worthwhile, you'll see, and great joy will be yours.

234. Mothers from the courts above will sit beside you, or stand alongside you, wherever and however you are positioned, holding you tightly, whispering in your ears, giving you faith and courage, for they have likewise fought many a battle in the arena of childbirth. They'll hold your hands and give you faith. You will not be alone—not in your heart, mind, or soul—as you brave these final moments of your child's prenatal life, as he enters the big world.

235. You wonder about so many things—the labor pains you will experience, the difficulties or complications that might come up, the strain all this will have on your already weak and tired body. But, My love, all these things are in My hands. I will not allow one thing to be more than what I know you can handle.

236. If I could take away all discomfort and show My love to you in the way of relieving all that hurt, or all that is hard to bear, I would love to do that for you, tender love. But I know that in spite of the hardships that are present as you walk in human flesh, you do trust in My caring hands, and you know that these are just things that one must fight on through. In the end of days you will be rewarded in full for each of these moments of difficulty; they will be but a faint memory, and only joy will be remembered.

237. I will anoint the hands of those who will be there with you in this time of childbirth. I will pour the Elixir of Heaven on their bodies and minds, and they will only act as I know is best. Any difficulties that may arise will be handled competently and wisely, for I will give them anointing to handle it all well. I will mend your body and give it strength and full recuperation.

238. I am your Good Shepherd and will take care of each and every thing you need. My love, My gentle lamb, I will be and am always with you. Never feel that I have left you alone, or that you battle this part of the race all by yourself. You are never alone, and never will be. I'm with you now and always.

239. Keep holding on to My words, and know that these are what will bring you through victorious and with a faith that will shine more radiantly than ever before. Your faith in My care will give you an inner peace that will be a great stabilizing force. I will always be beside you and care for you in all the ways that I know you need Me to. I treasure you greatly, and you'll know My love in even more fabulous ways than you've known till now. My presence will go with you and I will give you rest.

Praise Me...

240. (Jesus:) Praise is the victory, My love! If you start to feel anxious about the delivery, if you become impatient, and if the last weeks of your pregnancy start to wear on you and cause you discomfort, praise Me. Praise Me for the new life that I'm giving you, and praise Me for the good health that you've enjoyed so far. Praise Me for the beautiful blessings you have to look forward to in raising a family. This will help to lessen the discomfort, and it will give you peace and faith that all will be well with you and the little one. Don't worry, sweetheart. You're in My hands and I'm going to take good care of you.

New key promises to claim

When circumstances look bleak, don't worry and fret. I am right by your side. I see your need, and I'm on it! My keys will unlock the peace and comfort that you are in need of at the time you ask for it. You will lack nothing, because everything you need is known to Me.

Claim the keys of destiny for this child that you are bearing, and you will see her grow in the light and truth of My Word. She is My anointed and destined to wear the crown of a princess—My princess.

Claim the keys of destiny for this son that you are bringing into the world, and he will be protected from all evil. He is destined to be a warrior in My Kingdom, and will grow strong in Me.

When you're in pain, call on the keys of anesthesia, and you will be able to rise above any discomfort or pain. The keys will work to either remove the pain altogether or make it easier for you to bear, depending on the situation. They wait to assist you.

The keys of possession will guide the midwife's hands so that her every move is possessed by Me. She will be under My guidance and direction. With this key she will be fully anointed and equipped for this delivery.

If anything threatens your perfect peace in Me, call on the keys of faith, trust, and peace, and they will release to you antidotes that will relieve you of any worry, fear, pain, uncertainty, or whatever the Enemy may try to assail you with. The minute you use these keys, they will flood your mind, heart, and spirit with the promises that I have already given you, so that you will see all things positively instead of negatively.

Call on the keys of strength and endurance, and they will pull you through.

The keys will enhance your strength, make the pain easier to bear, and make your delivery a much better experience than it would be otherwise.

With Me and the keys at your side, fighting for you, you can have total peace of mind, knowing that everything is going to turn out right.

Claim the keys of faith, and remind yourself constantly that I am in control. I will finish the good work that I've begun in you, and bring forth a healthy baby.

Call on the keys to help you to focus on the power and think positive thoughts. Then the time will fly and seem shorter than it really is.

Nothing can touch, afflict, or harm one of My children without My express permission. So call on the power of the keys of shelter, and they will be a strong protective force field around you and your baby at all times.

Call on the keys of completion, and I will finish the work that I have begun—and perfect it.

As you call upon the power of the keys, supernatural strength and grace will be poured upon you during your delivery, giving you the wherewithal to persevere till the end.

When the Enemy comes in like a flood with thoughts of worry, doubt, or fear, call on the keys of the light of Heaven, and the lying vanities will vanish and be dispelled.

I am more willing to give than you are to receive. Let not your heart be troubled, therefore, for what I have promised I will also perform, as you call upon the power of the keys.

Claim the miracle! Commit your fears to Me, ask what you will in the power of the keys, and you will receive your heart's desires.

Believe what I have promised. Put your confidence in Me and in the power you have in the keys, and you will not be disappointed.

When you feel there is no more strength within you and that you can't go on, call upon the power of the keys of vigor, and you will be empowered to persevere till the end.

Call on the keys of endurance, and they will see you through to victory.

Expect miracles! Claim the keys for My grace and strength, and for a beautiful, miraculous delivery. Nothing is impossible with Me!

that it is He “Who hath delivered, Who doth deliver, and Who will yet deliver” (2Cor.1:10). I have been tremendously encouraged by the responses and letters I have received from many of you mothers, and it’s been wonderful to hear that the Lord has used the messages in this series of GNs to strengthen your faith and encourage your hearts during difficult or trying times.

3. Here are excerpts of a letter that I received from a second-generation woman who is pregnant with her fourth child. It’s an inspiring account of the Lord’s love and care:

I’m in the last 8½ weeks of my fourth pregnancy. Our Husband is giving us the answer to our prayers—another baby girl! We’re very excited about her arrival and very thankful for this pregnancy. It has, however, been the most difficult of my pregnancies, because I have been more sick and weaker physically this time around. Yet, thankfully, I can honestly say that my faith and trust (and I believe my spirit overall) are stronger this time than in any of the previous pregnancies, thanks to the Word and these past years of strengthening, and that is more than compensating for the physical weakness I’ve felt.

The last few weeks we went through a difficult period when I found out that some of the discomforts I was experiencing were linked to my blood pressure falling lower than was good. The doctor was also quite worried about the baby because her heartbeat seemed irregular and faint, and she was concerned that the baby was not getting enough oxygen or blood flow from the placenta. Of course, this news along with all the what-this-could-mean scenarios from the doctor worried me. Thankfully I was able to ask for prayer for baby and me. Since getting prayer and going on the attack, my faithful Husband is answering.

Dearest Family,

I love you so, so much! Here are more messages on the topic of childbirth. For some women, this is the toughest part of pregnancy. There is much unknown about your particular delivery and what it will entail, if any complications will arise, how long it will be, if you are strong enough, etc. The Enemy also tries to come in with his lies and attack with fear. However, the Lord is more than able to deliver, and He’s promised us that what He has begun, He will complete (Phil.1:6). That’s certainly the case with the little ones He privileges us to bring into the world.

2. I pray that reading these messages from our dear Husband on childbirth will set your mind and heart at peace, dear mothers, knowing

I was just able to have an appointment with a midwife, and in answer to prayer my blood pressure is back up to normal. She also performed a 30-minute monitoring/reading of the baby's heartbeat and activity, and the reading was very comforting. The baby was doing very well with a steady, stable heartbeat that was within a normal and healthy range. Her activity is also good and regular. I'm very thankful for this answer to prayer.

The past few days I've been reading "A Labor of Love" and it's been so deeply encouraging, strengthening and feeding for me. It's kept my faith up and helped me to have complete confidence in Jesus, and an understanding of how He wants to care for me and how He wants me to trust Him. The messages in this GN give me so much more faith and confidence in what I am getting for myself personally from the Lord, because you have specifically told us that these are promises that we can apply to our own personal lives, regardless of different circumstances. It's one of those cases where my faith does not waver or doubt, because I know that what He's done for others He's promising to do for me too.

The Lord gave many personal promises for the baby and me. Before this recent check-up with the good news that the baby is doing okay, He gave me a vision where He laid His head on my belly and kissed it. Then He went right through my belly to the baby and kissed her and touched her and stroked her face. Then He strengthened the cord and flow of oxygen and blood to her. The next day someone else received a prophecy describing parts of that same scene to us. I was very touched and comforted by this. And then He did it!

I want to thank you for the "Labor of Love" GNs that have helped me so much through this. I'm also so very thankful for the very wonderful GN "Nothing Is Too Hard for Jesus." It's impossible not to have faith for anything and any miracle after reading the messages in there. It has also kept me. (End of excerpts of letter.)

4. I later heard that this dear mother gave birth to a beautiful, healthy baby girl! The Lord kept and protected her and the baby, just as He had promised! And she and her husband not only gained the priceless gift of a new life, but also the added treasure of deeper and stronger faith.

5. Here's to all of you, dear mothers—and fathers too—who have given your all in bearing and caring for His beautiful children! Yours is a job of selflessness and love, and the Lord will see to it that every sacrifice is returned one hundred-fold. You are making investments for eternity! I love you!

With much love and admiration,
Mama

6. (Jesus:) Babies truly are My gift of love from above, Heaven-sent blessings. Oh, that all in the world would treasure them and care for them as the children of David do. I wish that every parent in the world would see what glories and wonders are present in each little bundle of love, awaiting the loving and gentle touch of its parents to be nourished and carefully tended until they blossom. The world would be a different place, for it would be full of different people.

7. These promises of delivery and birth will be very helpful to My children. This Letter will remind them once again how much I love children and them, their parents. It will encourage them before they give birth and give them promises to cling to, and it will strengthen and deepen the faith of many.

A doctor from the spirit world

8. (Mama:) This prophecy was received for a mother who was preparing for her third cesarean. I want to share it with you, because in it the Lord reveals someone from the spirit world who assists in the births of babies, and specifically cesareans, or when there are other complications present.

9. (Jesus:) During the time of your delivery I have a special spirit helper who I am sending to anoint and lead and guide your doctor. He was a famous doctor there on Earth, Christiaan Barnard. You may know him as a heart surgeon, the one who first transplanted a human heart, but when he first began to practice medicine, he also delivered babies and performed some cesareans. He was also a Christian and believed in Me. He had an upbringing in the church and a seed of faith planted within him from a very young age.

10. He will be your doctor's special spirit-counselor during your caesarean, to lead and guide him not only in the surgery, but all the steps that lead up to it, and the aftereffects. Of course, I and your specially assigned spirit helpers will be there too, but Chris will be a "special guest" who has been invited to attend your delivery. Even though he was a famous heart surgeon there on Earth, since coming here, he has preferred to attend the births of babies, especially to assist the doctors in cesareans or in complicated cases, for he has a heart for children and a desire to see them safely into this world.

11. I tell you this to comfort your heart, so you know that you have one of the world's most famous surgeons helping from behind the scenes to ensure that all will go well and that your doctor receives the best counsel he can get. So take comfort in this, My love. Take comfort in the fact that I have anointed your doctor. I have given him an anointed staff to work with. I will anoint the care you receive in the hospital when you recover, and I will be with you every step of the way and not leave your side for a moment, until all is safe and sound and secure.

Christiaan Barnard (1922–2001), a minister's son, was a South African doctor who began his medical practice as a general practitioner in a rural town in Western Cape Province. He didn't spend long as a GP, because he was determined to become a surgeon. He went on to become a famous surgeon, and is known for performing the world's first human heart transplant in 1967. He was loved by his patients throughout the world, hundreds of whom were treated free of charge. He stopped practicing surgery in 1983 after developing rheumatoid arthritis in his hands. He devoted much of his later years to a foundation he established that was dedicated to helping underprivileged children throughout the world.

12. (Mama:) Our Husband said that anyone can call on the help of Christiaan Barnard. If you call on him, he will come to assist you and your doctor during your delivery, and specifically during cesareans. Isn't that encouraging?

Tell Me that you trust Me

13. (Jesus:) I will care for My Own—you, My Own bride, and this little one within you, the fruit of your womb, the fruit of your yieldedness and willingness to bear My children, the fruit of our love. I know that it's a little scary, and you wonder how you can best prepare spiritually for the delivery, aside from the obvious spiritual needs of getting tanked up in the Word and bathing the whole delivery in prayer. Well, My love, if you do this, I promise that I will strengthen your faith and pour a special balm of peace on your spirit. Through your prayers and the prayers of your mates, My power will be fully activated to work in the situation as I know best.

14. You want to know how to prepare? Tell Me that you trust that I'm going to take care of you, and that no matter what happens, you're still going to trust Me, and that you only want My highest will. By making a statement of faith like this, you are not only affirming your trust to Me, but you're making it plainly clear to the Enemy that you won't fall into his traps of fear, worry, or condemnation. By stating that you only want My will, you're leaving yourself open for Me to work in whatever way I choose as best, even if it doesn't seem best to you.

15. Only I know what's best for you. If you go into this delivery in this yielded frame of mind, you won't have preconceived ideas of what you think is best or ideal, but you'll leave yourself utterly in My hands. I can't help but bless such yieldedness. Being yielded in this way will help you not to feel under pressure about things having to go a certain way, but rather you will just flow, and you'll have a lot more peace, grace, and faith.

16. I don't mean that you shouldn't specifically pray for every aspect to go very well and against complications, but once you have done this and committed it all to Me in prayer, then leave it in My hands to take care of the requests and answer your prayers in the way that I know is best—the way that will be best for you and best for your little one, okay?

17. You have nothing to fear. This pregnancy was ordained by Me, the timing was ordained by Me, and your new child was ordained by Me. It's all part of My perfect plan. You've played your role bravely and with grace so far, and I know you'll do the same during the delivery. I will perfect that which concerns you and complete that which I have begun.

18. Your new little one is going to bring you such joy, which will overshadow the physical discomfort and the spiritual battles and tests you have faced. You're going to come out of this all the stronger spiritually, having braved this test of your faith and come through as purer gold. This is going to strengthen your faith in a very deep way, which is a part of your preparation for the days to come. The gift of faith in Me and faith in My promises, faith no matter what the circumstances, is one of the greatest gifts My children can have. This gift of faith is not only for you, but for those you will share it with in the days to come, as you help to comfort others with the comfort wherewith you have been comforted.

19. So, My dear love, don't dwell on the physical circumstances or let the Enemy come in with worry about the "worst-case scenarios." He'd like to play those out in your mind so that it will take away from the strength of faith and spirit that I would like to give you. Instead, dwell on My promises, dwell on My love and care for you. Keep putting all of your concerns into My hands to take care of as I will, and I promise that I will care for you and your little one in the best way possible.

When praise is present...

20. (Jesus:) Thank you for not allowing your mind to worry or fear as far as the upcoming delivery and all that it will entail. Thank you for fighting to fill your mind and thoughts with praises and words of hope and faith. I admire this stand of faith. In fact, because of your praises, I have greater power and room to work within this situation, and believe Me, I am taking advantage of it.

21. When praise is present, all chinks are sealed and all access is given to Me to work My complete will. The Enemy can have no room to disrupt in any situation when praise is utilized to the full. This is why I'm so pleased with your praises. Keep praising, My love, because those praises are paving spiritual pathways for Me and My angels to walk in and do miracles for you.

22. This is what your praises have done so far, and there are many open pathways of miracles available to us now. I want you to know that your delivery room is going to be filled with heavenly power! Anything that happens in those hours that you are in labor is controlled and allowed by Me. I want you to know that.

23. I've outfitted a key craft for this special occasion as well. I've filled this craft with key power to help you through labor, to help you through the difficult contractions and long, patience-trying moments. I've provided keys of fortitude, endurance, wherewithal, hope, grace, and patience. There are special spirit helpers on board as well, who will help you through your labor, and who will ensure that your little one has safe passage.

24. In fact, the very angel who was present the moment you were born will be with you for the birth of your little one. Her motherly arms will hold you and give you physical strength. Her words will help to give you peace, as well as place peaceful images and thoughts within your mind. She'll sing praises to you, so that even when your flesh feels weary, your spirit will continue praising Me as you sing along with her in your heart. She's your birthing angel, and I promise that her presence will be with you on that day.

25. You can call on her in your mind, if you feel you need extra help, or even physical support through the technicalities of labor. You can also claim this key craft and all its power to protect, surround, shield, anoint, strengthen, and help you through each minute.

26. (Mama:) I asked our Husband if all of you dear mothers could expect this same key craft and your personal "birthing angel" to be present at your delivery, and here are His encouraging words: "I will send each mother a key craft with special keys, as well as spirit helpers that are just perfect for her particular situation, that will meet her needs and supply exactly the type of encouragement and strength and help that is needed. Ask Me, dear mothers, to tell you about your personal birthing spirit helper, about your key craft, and the special keys that I have prepared for you, and I'll be happy to let you know all about them."

27. (Jesus continues:) I never take a birth lightly. The deliveries of My brides of the children of David are no small deal for Me! Heaven knows that I go out of My way to make each delivery special, to dispense great and precious power for each situation, and I commission specialized key crafts for each occasion. You're bringing My baby into the world. You're bringing one of Heaven's angels to Earth. You're carrying a new life whom I created with My hands and breathed life into and ordained to be born into this Endtime Family—this is no small thing!

28. Such a great commission, such a great occasion! I will not leave you nor forsake you, not for a moment of this beautiful birth. I will be there holding your hand. My keys will never have been so sensitive to your call. Claim them, darling, whichever ones you want to have. I want to show you what a great Husband I am. I want you to claim miracles and call on the keys so that I can have the glory of fulfilling each promise for you, and thus receive your praise and gratitude. I want you to be proud of Me. I want you to see how far I will go for you.

Baby's angels

29. (Jesus:) Ask Me to tell you about your baby's prayer angel, who already beseeches My throne on behalf of your little one. Your baby's prayer angel bathes your little one in prayer throughout the delivery to keep it safe and healthy. Your baby's prayer angel will pray not only for the physical aspects, but they will pray for the emotional and spiritual well-being of your baby too. Your baby's prayer angel is intimately connected to your little one, for as soon as your baby was created I assigned this angel to pray for your baby, to commit its future and entrance into the world into My hands.

30. I have given your baby's prayer angel a deep love for your child, like the love of a mother, so that they will always beseech My throne on your child's behalf. So you can count on this prayer angel to be praying for your little one now and throughout the birth.

31. There's also your baby's guardian angel, who looks after this little life already, and is commissioned to continue to do so after the baby is born. This angel is a lifelong protector of your child, and will always be there. Your baby's guardian angel will be there to ward off any attacks of Wolverine and of any other imps on your little one during the birth. Your baby's guardian angel is empowered by My Spirit to protect the baby throughout the birth and bring it safely into the world, free from any harm. (Note: Remember to also call on Haven and Watcher, to assist in fighting against Wolverine.)

Trust Me and place yourself in My hands

32. (Jesus:) The medals that I will hand out to you, My love, and to all of My wonderful mothers who have had to go through the difficulty of labor, will be ones of great beauty. Sometimes it feels like you're undergoing death itself in order to bring forth a new life. You have to die to yourself; you have to go through the pain, discomfort, and agony in order to bring forth this life. But out of the ashes comes forth beauty, and I promise that you will not regret having to bring forth this life into the world.

33. I can't promise you a painless delivery. I cannot spare you the ordeal of giving birth to the child, but I promise to keep you through it. I promise to be your strength when you are weak, to be your anchor, to hold you steady, and I promise that in all things I will be by your side. I want to see this baby safely delivered into the world as much as you do. I want everything to go smoothly just as much as you do, and it's hard for Me too when things are hard on you. But I know what is best for you in the end. I know exactly how much you can take, and will give you the strength to endure for however long or short the ordeal is.

34. Remember, just as in any battle or fight, you must keep your eyes on the goal; you've got to keep your eyes on Me. Don't look at the waves; don't look down; don't take your eyes off Me. Sure, the waves might be rough and there might be a tempest, but as long as you keep trusting in Me you will not sink. Okay? Remember that I am right there. I'll be holding your hand, stroking your brow, and answering your pleas for help. Don't ever worry, don't ever fear. Remember that you are My bride, and your life and the life of your baby are in My hands.

35. Your baby is special to Me.—Not just because it is a new little person that I created, but also because it's being born into the Family. I take special interest in the children that are born to you in the Family, as they have a great future ahead of them. This one will have much in store for it, so remember that too; focus on what is ahead, so that you have something to keep your mind on. Keep focusing on Me. Remember that, and keep looking up. Don't look at circumstances or physical conditions, but keep taking your mind off your worries and fears and keep looking up. Then you'll be able to praise Me each step of the way, no matter how long or short it is, and you will be victorious in the end.

36. You can trust Me for this. You can safely place yourself in My hands, because I will care for you and your baby. You can give Me all your worries and fears and you can entrust your care to Me, because I'm going to help you to bring this baby into the world, and I will be with you each step of the way. I love you and I can't wait to introduce you to this new little one that I have given to you. This little one will bring a wonderful new splash of color to your life, and much joy and happiness.

Put your faith in Me

37. (Jesus:) The preparation that I want you to make for this delivery is this: Give your heart to Me. Place all your cares, concerns, worries, and fears directly in the palms of My hands and leave them there. Don't pick them up; just tell Me what's on your heart and know that I will carry that burden for you.

38. The preparation I want you to make is the preparation of the mind, heart, and spirit. I want you to be completely at peace—trusting, knowing, and believing in what I have promised you regarding your delivery. I want you to put your faith in Me and what I have shown you, and watch it all come to pass, My love.

39. Everything will be fine, don't worry. That's what I want to prepare your heart for, that everything will go fine and will go exactly as I have planned it. The Enemy and his minions will not be able to gain entrance or penetrate the heavy walls of protection that will surround you at all times, My love. It will be an impenetrable force field around you and the baby, and nothing will be able to come near you, except for Me and My angelic forces. I will send legions of angels to comfort, to guide, to soothe, to encourage, to rally, to help you fight, to help you persevere, to help you to hang on until the baby is delivered.

A wonderful celebration of life

40. (Dad:) I can tell you with great confidence that you've got a great team working for you and with you. You've got the best! If Jesus is pleased and confident in their care of you, then you can be assured that you have exactly what is needed.

41. Jesus will personally attend to the delivery, too. It's not that He doesn't trust your helpers to tend to everything; He counts it a privilege to personally escort your baby into the world. He's going to be there to personally witness the birth of the beautiful baby He's given you.

42. He's attending in order to honor you. He's attending in order to grace the delivery with His presence and to give everyone an extra boost of His Spirit. We're very excited about it; we're very excited about His attending, because it's going to be a wonderful event both in the physical and in the spirit.

43. We're gearing up for a wonderful celebration of life, a wonderful celebration of joy, as your child is brought forth into the world. We're gearing up for a big party, celebrating the birth of your little baby. We're going to throw our own "baby shower" where we'll shower your new one with our blessings and virtues, and the Lord is going to personally kiss your baby with His beautiful kiss of blessing.

Enjoy the miracle

44. (Jesus:) Remember to call on the keys of patience and perseverance and to pace yourself as though it was a race, a lengthy workout, or some challenging physical ordeal. The way you get through the delivery is to keep your eyes on the goal and to take it one moment at a time, one breath at a time. Don't worry about how long you have to go in order to get there. As you are focused on the goal and each step you are taking, each breath you are breathing, it will be over before you know it.

45. My promises of help and strength are there for you to grab onto and hold on to. Your spirit helpers will also be by your side and will specifically help you to focus on the goal, to keep your mind steady and trusting. They will also give you patience and help you to be able to relax and to allow Me to do it through you.

46. Every time I bring a child into the world, it is a miracle. So enjoy this miracle and the beauty of life that I have given you, and praise and thank Me for giving you such a treasure. Then, as you go through the delivery, you'll be able to go through it all with the knowledge that it is worth the pain and the discomfort, that joy will come in the morning, that a life will be born, and that you will have your baby at last.

Pure love

47. (Jesus:) The joy of giving birth is about as close as you'll ever come in this life to the joy you'll experience when you see Me face to face, because your baby is pure love.

I tell you this now so you'll have this promise to hold on to during the difficult hours and final minutes of labor: The pain will pass, but the love will last—and what love! As soon as the worst is over, the best begins and never ends!

48. How I love to watch over Family mothers and their new babies! There are very few women in the world who approach their pregnancies with such faith and thankfulness, or with such a firm connection with Me and My Word. You Family mothers make it much easier for Me to take care of you, because you take such good care of yourselves and your babies. How could I not give you My very best?

49. Yes, it will be difficult, but I won't allow it to be any more difficult for you or your baby than I know is best for you both. Here's another promise to focus on when the going gets rough: The difficulty is part of the bonding process. It not only bonds you with your baby, but it also bonds you more closely with your husband and even with Me. This event will deepen your love for each other and for Me.

Take your pick of spirit helpers

50. (Jesus:) I will take care of all the details leading up to the delivery, during the delivery, and after the delivery. I will also be right there with you assisting you, calming you, and anointing the midwives as they help to bring this child into the world. My presence will be in the room. And though it is a difficult thing to go through—a struggle, a fight, and taxing on the flesh—you can still be calm and peaceful in spirit, because you will know that I am there with you.

51. You can ask for the help of any man or woman from history that comes to your mind that had to struggle through great physical difficulty, to come to your side, to rally you on, and to encourage you through the difficult moments. You can have your pick, My love, and as a special service, they will come to your aid for this time.

52. The birth of one of My precious children is a very important occasion to Me, and I do all within My power to see that you are given all the help you need in order to do this great and monumental task. It is a cause for great rejoicing whenever a child is born, for each child is special and unique and holds a special place within My heart, so I wish to see to it that they get all the help they can to be brought into this world.

53. So ask what you will, for it is My desire, My greatest pleasure to give you what you ask for when your time has come. I love you, and you are greatly honored for your role as a mother and for all that you give in order to bring these little ones into the world. Thank you, My wonderful wife, for yet again giving Me the pleasure of unfolding to the world another one of My unique and beautiful creations. I promise that you will enjoy her, for she will bring much joy, happiness, laughter, and a special touch into your life.

Strengthen your faith
in preparation for the battle

54. (Jesus:) It is My promise to My children that I never give them anything more than they can bear. I will not give one grain more than is needful to My brides. So know and trust in your heart that because I have given you this child, I will also give you the strength, the grace, and the faith to bring it forth into the world.

55. Yes, it is a battle. It is an expenditure on your part—a great expenditure—but you have to look to Me. If I send you into this battle, then I know you can do it. You can face whatever obstacles you may meet. You will be strong enough to fight and win as long as you look to Me.

56. Strengthen your faith, for your faith in Me is what will see you through and will give you the courage to not simply go through the battle, but to face the battle bravely and without fear or dread. Give your heart and mind fully to Me. Let Me possess you and speak words of encouragement to you that will strengthen your heart, boost your faith, and prepare you to march into battle feeling fully armed and knowledgeable of My promises that will see you through to victory no matter what you encounter.

57. Give your fears to Me. Let Me replace your fears, your concerns, and your apprehensions with faith. Let Me give you the faith needed to walk with head held high, and bravely charge into the fray, fearing nothing, seeing only My face.

58. I wish to strengthen your faith in preparation for the battle. This is an important part of preparation. So take the time needed; it will give you the strength you need when the time comes. Rest in My arms and look to Me. Tell Me of each of your concerns. I know you have them; you don't have to be ashamed of them. It's natural to have some feelings of dread or anxiety. However, give each one to Me and let Me replace it with My balm of love, trust and faith.

59. I will be beside you. I will be very near and dear to you. I will see you through this battle, and in the end you will look back and feel strengthened. Your faith will have grown, for you will have seen Me do miracles; you will have experienced My strength when you are weak, and you will know and be more fully persuaded that what I have promised I am able also to perform.

Preparation for delivery!

60. (Mama:) The following prophecy was received for a mother who was asking the Lord: "Is there anything in my heart, mind, spirit or life that I should work on and change in preparation for the birth?" This, or a similar question, is something worth asking the Lord as you are preparing for the birth of your baby. It's important for your peace of mind to know that you're doing all that the Lord is requiring of you, and that your heart is right with Him, so that He will be able to do what you can't do—bring your baby safely into the world. When you're about to have a baby, it's a wonderful time to tone up spiritually and to build your faith.

61. (Jesus:) I know the road you've walked has not always been easy, My love. Yet now I want you to see that as this road you've come down takes a turn, all those rough spots you've passed through, all the hard, nearly impossible places you've trudged through, all this is going to work for your good in tremendous ways. These difficulties you have experienced have worked to prepare you for motherhood.

62. There are many qualities a good mother must possess: love, patience, faith, insight, wisdom. And, a good mother must be a fighter! This is what you have truly become, My love—one of My genuine fighting brides, one of My tried-and-proven woman warriors.

63. I tell you this, My love, because I want you to know that you are more prepared than you think. All the lessons, all the months of holding on, all the times you've come to Me for direction, all the times you've chosen to do the humble thing, all the praying you've done, as well as the asking for prayer from your mates—all of this has prepared you, dear love. All the days, the nights, the weeks, the months and years that have gone into the making of this woman [you] has brought you to the point where you now stand, ready to bring this newborn babe into the world, ready to embark on the greatest voyage you will ever take—that of parenthood, of mothering the little life I give you.

64. I have blessed your womb, and I will continue to bless the fruit of your womb—My little one that I put in your care. My blessing is upon you. My anointing falls upon your shoulders, to nurture, to teach, to train, and to bring up this little one in My ways.

65. You ask what you must now do to prepare in heart, in mind, in spirit? What must you work on, what needs to change in order to complete your preparation to bring this child into the world? Dear love, I ask that you continue down the track you are already on. You've made tremendous progress, now you simply need to keep it up; keep moving forward in the things I have emphasized to all My brides:

66. ▶ Look to Me for all things. Depend solely on Me, leaning your full weight on Me.

67. ▶ Don't make a move without getting My explicit and express instruction and guidance. Make Me the focal point of everything in your life. This includes your marriage and your mothering.

68. ▶ I have given you the gift of heavenly thought power, so keep endeavoring to use it at every opportunity. Put on My mind, practice your gift of heavenly thought power—for in knowing My mind on every matter, you cannot go wrong in mothering your little one.

69. ▶ Stay right with Me.

70. ▶ Stay open to Me in every area of your life. Flow with Me. Receive the leading of My Spirit in all things—then you will be assured that you're on the right course, doing the right things.

71. ▶ Keep moving forward by checking in with Me every day, by asking Me what I have for you that particular day, by asking Me everything. Don't make a move without hearing from Me.

The calling of a mother

72. (Jesus:) I have put a mother's heart within you. I have already poured the anointing of a mother over your spirit. This anointing is blessed with qualities of sacrifice, endurance, patience, faith, hope, unconditional love, youth, zest, strength, and understanding. And because your new calling will come with tears—tears of joy, tears of sadness, tears of disappointment, tears of pain, tears of perseverance, tears of tiredness—I have also tinged this anointing with strong qualities of resilience as well as perseverance. You can dip into this power as often as necessary, for I know the needs of every mother, and oh, how I make provision—bountiful provision—for each one.

73. I have said it before, and I will say it again, there is almost no greater calling than the calling of a mother. While it is a joy and it is an inspiration, it is also the calling of greatest sacrifice. You give and you give and you give, expecting nothing in return. Your life is no longer your own. Your life has become the happiness of your child, the well-being of your little ones, the security and protection of those who call you “mom.” You give for their gain. You live for their smile. And when the day of giving is done, you give them to Me in prayer. Such beautiful sacrifice—so costly, yet so valued.

74. My sweetheart, you now have it within you to be the best mother your little ones will ever know. I have touched your heart, I have anointed your spirit, I have blessed you with My kisses, and now you are ready. Never forget that your dependence on Me is your greatest preparation and your greatest ability. Never forget that I can and will make up for any lack, for any inability. Just lean on Me. Just rely on Me and rest on My shoulder and I will help you. I will be to you and your little ones all that you will ever need.

Counsel for the first few weeks after delivery

75. (Jesus:) My darling love, thank you for being willing to have this baby for Me. She will be your joy, and already is. But there are also sacrifices that surround her arrival, things that are difficult, circumstances that you wonder whether or not you will be able to cope with. I thank you for being willing to face these things, and for remaining positive and full of faith about them.

76. When you have your baby, it's going to radically change your life. I know that you realize this, but it still never quite hits you until it actually happens. Most new mothers have unrealistic expectations of what they think they will be able to do after they have their baby, and this can then cause discouragement when they're not able to do everything they imagined they could do. So I'm glad that you're looking at things pragmatically and trying to prepare yourself in advance—both physically and spiritually—so that the changes don't come as too big a shock to you.

77. Many of My brides have very high expectations of what they think they'll be able to accomplish after they have a baby. It's a real temptation to try to keep up with those who don't have children, or even with those who have one child, or children who are older. The last thing you want is to be considered a special case, or to not be able to "carry your load," or to feel less useful than you've felt in the past. So it's very tempting to try to push yourself after you have a baby, which—believe Me—is not recommended.

78. When mothers push themselves to do more than they're physically capable of, more than I have ordained for them to do, after they have had the baby, they end up paying for it. Usually they pay for it personally, because the stress builds up and there's no release—the stress of all of the work, the stress of having to care for the baby, the stress of trying to keep up. There are usually physical penalties too, such as prolonging the recovery from the delivery, excessive bleeding, losing your milk, or winding up with other physical ailments or afflictions.

79. Pushing yourself to do too much after you have a baby can also really take a toll on your marriage. You're trying so hard to do everything, and then take care of the baby, that you don't have any time for your husband. And, of course, the baby suffers too, because you're not able to give it the time and attention and affection and bonding that it needs and deserves. Then, last but not least, your spiritual life usually suffers too, as you use all of your time and energy working and taking care of your baby and you don't have time for Me.

80. I've seen this happen to so many well-meaning mothers, My love, and I want to do all that I can to protect you from such difficulty. It happens all too easily. Many new mothers have unrealistic expectations, or they push themselves too hard, thinking they can handle it, or they're afraid of what others will think of them if they can't keep up the same pace they used to, or they don't pace themselves. There are so many reasons for this type of situation and it's easy to fall into, so you must be on guard against it right from the beginning—right from even before the beginning, before your baby is born.

81. You have to realize that these are the priorities, My love: First comes your time with Me; this must always be in first place. Then comes your baby. She needs you, especially during the beginning weeks of her life. There's nobody else who can care for her like you can. There's no one else who needs to bond with her like you do. There's nobody else who can make her feel at home, make her feel loved, and help Me to usher her into the world, except for you. You are the one—the only one. Yes, you have your mate too, but the bonding between a mother and a child is different than the bonding between a father and a child. Both are important, but your role cannot be filled by another.

82. What this means is that if you don't take the time that you need with your baby, if you don't "get it right" during those first few weeks, then who will? Nobody. And you and your baby will feel the loss. Now, I don't mean that you have to spend 24 hours tuning in to your baby and not doing anything else. Of course you'll need to keep up with other things, but your priority is your baby—pouring into your baby, bonding with your baby, loving your baby, learning about your baby's needs, getting used to caring for her and feeding her and sleeping with her, and all the rest. All this takes time and energy, and it takes a lot out of you.

83. Don't make the mistake of putting too many other things before your baby. Your baby is your work. Right now, your baby is safe and sound inside you, but as soon as your baby comes out, it will become the most important work you'll have to do. Your baby won't be able to take second place to other things, and because of this, you'll have to ask Me for the keys of wisdom and juggling, to be able to fit everything else in, and do those things well, while also continuing to give Me the time that I need and deserve.

84. You will need to multitask more when it comes to some things, but I don't want you multitasking so much that you never give your baby your full attention. Sometimes you'll need to be there just for your baby, not thinking about other responsibilities. But at other times you can do more than one thing at once. For example, try to fit things in while you're nursing. It might not be best to do this immediately, as you'll have to wait till both your baby and you get the hang of it. But once your baby is nursing well, you'll find those pockets of time can be useful for a number of things.

85. You can get in a good amount of your Word time and communion with Me while you're nursing. You will be able to redeem those moments. You can meditate and commune with Me, take your prayer vigil, or even hear from Me in prophecy. You might not be able to officially write everything down while you're nursing, but you can still receive My instruction and answers.

86. When you're nursing, it's also a good time to pray about things and plan. For example, you can redeem the time by making notes of things that you need to do, or things that you need to pass on to others to do. Or I can give you ideas. You'd be surprised how much you can get done while the baby is nursing, if you redeem the moments and have things on hand to do—reading material, topics to think about, things to plan, etc.

87. There will, of course, also be the times when your baby is sleeping, which you can use for a lot of different things. In the beginning, your baby will sleep quite a bit, so you'll be able to redeem those moments. But I caution you to be sure that you get enough sleep. Especially during the first weeks, you'll need a lot more sleep than you're used to, in order to recuperate from the delivery. So be sure to use some of the times when the baby is sleeping to rest and sleep as well. Don't try to push yourself and use all of those sleeping moments to get your other work done, because you'll wear yourself out and be no good to anyone.

88. As a mother, you will have to live with not being able to spend as many hours on the things you used to before the baby was born. But that doesn't mean that you can't do as much, if not more, than some people who don't have children—not right away, of course, but with time. You will learn to make the best use of any time that you have, making each minute count, and because of that, you will still be able to accomplish My priorities. You might not get to your wish list or everything you'd like to do, but you'll be able to get to the things that are the most important, and that's all that I ask of you.

89. A key will be in prioritizing, My love. Prioritizing will be your salvation. It will keep you focused and it will save your sanity. And don't just prioritize in your mind; prioritize on paper. This is one of those things that you can do when you're nursing the baby. Grab a pen and paper, pray and ask Me for My divine leading for the day, and then write down everything that needs to be done. Then put a number beside each point, prioritizing it according to importance. Then start with number one, then do number two, then three, and so forth.

90. Then, no matter how much you get done in a given day, you will know that you have done the most important things. Even if there were ten to-dos and you only did the first one, you will know that you did the most important one, and that's what matters. Then you can come back to working through the rest the next day. Some days you will get more done, when the baby is happier or perhaps sleeps more. Other days you will get less done. But don't fall into the trap of gauging whether your day was a success by how many things you were able to get done. Realize that some days it will be more and other days it will be less.

91. When you have a baby, a successful day is gauged by so much more than accomplishments. A successful day is when you and your baby are happy and at peace. A successful day is when you and your baby have your needs met—for good nutrition, sleep, exercise, and time with Me. A successful day is when you are able to do what you can and trust Me for the rest. A successful day is when you are able to cast all your cares on Me, knowing that I care for you. Gauge success by all of these things, My love, not just by how much you accomplish; because if you use that as a gauge, you'll be feeling pretty unsuccessful most of the time.

92. I love you, and I want you to be able to enjoy the first few weeks and months of your baby's life. So often My brides let these weeks be marred with frustration, discouragement, condemnation, stress, and other unhappy feelings, when, if they would just relax a bit more, if they would just enjoy life—and the new life I have given them—a bit more, they would be so much more at peace. There will come a time, and there always does, when things will be more structured. When your baby is older, your schedule will be more predictable. But don't hold your breath until that happens; enjoy each day as I intend you to.

93. Be happy. Be at peace. Trust in Me. So what if hardly anything else gets done in those first few weeks. If there's no one else to do them, and you can't do them either, then you just have to trust that I'm going to take care of it all. But don't push so hard to get the things done that you think must be done—and even that everyone else thinks must be done—when it's not My will. Your baby will be your most important work, and can't be pushed aside in favor of other things.

94. Don't worry or fear, My love, because as the future unfolds, I will give you the grace for it. I will show you how to best juggle things, how to multitask, how to give your baby your best, while also keeping up with the most important to-dos. This is My doing—and I will give you the strength and wisdom for it all. You don't feel like you have the grace for it now, but you will have the anointing when the time comes. I never give you more than you are able to bear, so when the new circumstances arise, I will help you to adjust and adapt.

95. Look forward to what is ahead, My darling! You will have what it takes to be the mother that I need you to be. You don't feel like you're "that woman" yet, but that's because I haven't asked it of you yet. Soon you will be thrust into that new world, but in that very instant I will give you what you need to be the best mother that you can be. You will not lack for anything if you stay close to Me, if you seek Me, if you stay on My timetable and don't push ahead on your own. I have called you and ordained you, and I will anoint you. Trust Me and have faith, because I will not fail you.

Bite-size promises to hold on to during labor

► I have brought you this far, and I'm not going to fail you now.

► No matter how difficult it is to endure the pain right now, it will pass.

► The battle will be over very soon, and you will have a beautiful treasure as a result.

► I love you, and I'm going to get you through this.

► If there were an easier, simpler, less painful way, I would do it in an instant. But what I can do is give you the grace and endurance—and I will!

► Billions of women have done this before, and you can do it too.

► There's a priceless gift right around the corner if you'll just hold on.

► It's got to get worse before it gets better, but believe Me, it will get better!

► You can do it, because I will do it!

► Remember, faith doesn't go by feelings! Faith doesn't go by circumstances! Faith believes I will do it because I said I would do it, and I will!

► I got that baby in, and I'll get that baby out!

► It's My baby, and you're My servant, and I'm going to keep all My promises to you, because I always have, so you can trust that I always will.

► It came to pass.

► The keys will pull you through.

► It will be worth it all.

► Just hold on for one more minute.

► My grace is always there, and always sufficient.

► I can pull you through even the roughest of times.

► I will bring you through it all, and great will be your joy.

► You're such a beautiful fighter! I love how you love Me enough to bear a child for My glory!

Promises/Prophecy Vitamins

The warriors of Heaven fight on your behalf, to bring you through triumphantly.

Each detail is now being planned out. Each aspect will go according to what I know will be best for you.

Nothing is being forgotten; each need, each desire, all is being looked into by Heaven. All will go according to what I know is best.

There's nothing that we, together, can't tackle.

There's nothing that I, in My unfailing love and tender mercy, can't bring you through.

Hold on to My hand when you feel things are getting rough. Look into My eyes of tender compassion, knowing that they will always be upon you, taking care of every detail of the birth.

I know every inch of your body, every thought of your mind, every action you take, and every need that you have. I look out for every aspect of your life, for I tenderly care for you.

You are My wife, bringing into this world the gift that I've seen fit to give to you, and I will care for you completely through it all.

I will bring this young one into the world with My gentle, caring hands. As you hold him in your arms you'll know he's been formed by Me and given to you as a dear treasure from Heaven above.

Each bit of pain that you feel will be rewarded with a touch of Heaven's love in the realm above when your reward is given to you in full.

Every time you cry out for My help, I will rush to your aid, to help in whatever ways you need Me to, in that instant.

This child has been formed by My Own hands—every part of his body and soul—and I will bring you and him through to know joys you've only imagined.

Happy and beautiful times are on the horizon. You have nothing to fear. Great peace and joy will be given to you for your faithfulness to Me.

One step at a time and you'll make it over this mountain. You'll find the beauties on the other side even more wonderful than you dreamed they'd be!

I'm there with you when you sleep, when you wake, when you work—guiding you, leading you, and strengthening you. In all that you do, I am there.

Through any and all difficult moments, know that those from the realm beyond walk alongside you and will be there for you. You don't have one need that I don't have a means of fulfilling, in the best time, in the best way.

My peace will I give to your heart, soul, and mind, and you'll know that sweet relief as you lie in My arms, totally abandoned to Me.

Grace is yours for the taking, rest and courage likewise. All that you need, in body and soul, is readily available to you now and in the future.

Hold Me, My love, and I will be the nearest One to you in this time of battling, till your young one is brought forth. The more tightly you cling to Me, the more you'll feel how close I am to you. There'll never be a moment when I won't be the closest I can possibly be to you.

As you run with patience the race that is set before you, I have a wonderful, glowing crown laid up for you when you pass the finish line of bringing forth this wonderful new life into the world. It's the crown of motherhood, and I've fit it precisely to your lovely head, so that you can wear it with ease and honor.

There is no testimony without a test, and I say that this, the test of your pregnancy and your sickness, will bring forth the wonderful and enduring jewel of a new life in the world!

Remember that I formed the little one in your womb. I care very tenderly for him, and I will keep him safely cupped in the palm of My hand until the moment he's safely nestled in his mother's arms—and I will continue to protect him forever after.

There is no treasure greater to Me than a soul, and nothing I care about more than the creation and nurturing of a new little person.

I tend personally to each of your requests for his health, his safety, and his growth.

Do not fear the labor which is soon upon you, for My grace is sufficient. I am the best Midwife and the best Coach. I will bring forth your little one without the smell of smoke, and your joy on that day will know no limits.

Though weeping may endure for a night, joy cometh in the morning. And what joy! There is no joy greater than that of a mother with her new babe upon her breast, and you will have that joy in great abundance!

Billions of women have been through the pain of childbirth, and even those who don't love Me have experienced the joy of suckling their firstborn upon their breast. But because you know Me and are wed to Me, your endurance will be greater and your joy will be even sweeter!

I am the God of all flesh, and there's nothing too hard for Me. Don't fear the coming tribulation of your body, for I have formed you with enough strength of bone and sinew to complete this race with flying colors.

As you do your part to keep both your mind and spirit in shape, I promise that I will do My part in giving you that extra measure of power, strength, and grace.

Thank you for taking on the cloak of motherhood. The initiation for entering the honored position of motherhood is a tough one, but I tell you that it's worth every moment of pain, every hour of missed sleep. The rewards are so worth the tests.

Now you will know what it's like to be a full-fledged woman, and I promise I will give you the strength, the wisdom, and the great love you will need to raise this little one for Me.

You're entering the ranks of some of My finest warriors—My mothers! Only now will you be able to appreciate the strength of spirit and of flesh that all My veteran mothers have developed.

My strength is perfected in your weakness. My little baby, the creation of My hands, is perfected even as you suffer weakness of flesh. Every ache and discomfort is so worth it for this treasure you will soon hold in your hands.

When you feel like you're coming to the end of your rope, cry out to Me, and I promise I will lengthen the rope and strengthen your tired body.

Come, My faithful mother, and rest in My arms, as I complete and perfect your sweet baby.

Endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. You're entering the ranks of motherhood and I don't promise that it will be easy. But I do promise that you'll feel fulfillment such as you've never known, and you'll taste sweet pleasures such as you've never imagined.

I will do that which you feel you cannot do. My power and promises for your protection and safekeeping are all there for you to pull down and claim, and I will answer! I will protect both mother and baby and will keep that which is Mine. I have wrought this thing. I have given this child to you as a special gift from My hand, and I will deliver and preserve My Own.

This is marvelous in My eyes—the birth of a new child into My Kingdom—the birth, the life of an eternal soul who will come to know Me, and not only come to know Me, but bring others to know Me as well. Therefore, fear not, for I will bring it to pass. I, Who have begun this good work in you, will bring it through to delivery.

Do what you can and I will do what you can't. As your Father David wrote, fill up your heart beforehand, and when the time comes, just speak from your heart. The same is true with childbirth, for there are preparations that you can make and there are things that you can do. But when you arrive at labor and at the time of delivery, having prepared yourself beforehand, you will know what to do.

I am the Good Shepherd, and I know My sheep and am known by them. I go before to prepare a place for you. I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert, and I will bring this birth to pass. Therefore have great faith and strengthen yourself in the Word, and prepare Word for this time of delivery. Talk with your coaches. Talk with those who will be with you. Plan, pray, and I will make a way.

There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man. During the delivery, you may think, "This is harder than I thought! I didn't know there would be any actual pain. I didn't know it would feel like this." When you feel this way, remember that it's normal and it's part of the delivery process. So there's no need to be frightened or even surprised. When you feel the labor pains, you can be glad, for soon your child will be born. And as it says in the Scriptures, even the memory of the pain will fade for joy that a child is born into the world.

Although this is a time of testing, many, many, many, many women who have gone through it say that it's worth it. So when you're in the midst of it, remember—remember the joy of the child coming into the world. Remember the joy of your love together that brought about this child. Remember My great love for you that sent this child from Heaven to be with you. Remember all the wonderful blessings that I have promised you together, your little family that is now beginning—or continuing. Remember all the wonderful promises that I have given you, the future that stretches before you as a shining road, which you are just now beginning to walk on.

When you're in the midst of your labor, remember that faith doesn't depend on the circumstances of the moment. It depends on what I have said, on My Word and My promises. And though it may seem hard and you may even wonder if it is too hard, it will not be too hard. For I the Lord will hold your right hand, saying unto you, "Fear not."

Just as this child is My doing, so the childbirth is My doing as well. Shall I bring to the birth and not cause to deliver? You can claim a speedy and healthy delivery, for I am He Who hath delivered, Who doth deliver, and Who will yet deliver!

Rest in My Word. Let your heart feel My arms around you. Lie back in the comfort of My arms. Lie back in the love that I have for you, and I will support you every moment. I will be with you every moment—not just as a coach or a doctor or even as your sweet companion, but as someone who is lying there with you, holding you up in their arms, who will actually help you to bear the pain and push the baby out. My body will be one with your body, and I will cause you to deliver in My time.

Lean on Me. Rest in Me and let Me be your support, and we will do the work together. You and I will deliver the baby, and great will be our joy, and you will say it has been worth it all.

You are My worthy ground in which I have planted this dear, this darling. Yield thy ground.

Yield it, as I have spoken, and let Me do it. For what you are about to experience is something that you will never forget.

All your planning and preparations are good and are needed, and I request that you do them. But truly, before that moment of great victory, you will feel a yielding to Me that you have never felt before. You will have done all that you can, and then you will feel that only I can do it—and I will do it. You have heard, "Do what you can and I will do what you can't." Lie back in My arms and I will do it. These are not mere words; these are commandments. These are promises.

Yield your members, every member, and your mind, heart, and soul to this glorious moment, and I will bring forth from your ground a new soul, a new child for Me, one which will grow up by Me and bring you much joy, and bring others much joy and happiness.

Fear not the attacks of the Enemy, because there's no way I'll let him through your honor guard of angels and helpers to exact upon you.

This birth will be bathed in prayer and the power of the keys. Your baby will come forth beautifully, and you will be happy to behold the wonder of My gift of love to you.

Through your yieldedness to Me you have allowed Me to form a beautiful soul within you. I delight in this miracle of new life and your faith to bear another child for Me.

I wanted to give you a very tangible and priceless gift of love, so I have given you your precious little baby.

There is no greater expression of My love to you at this time in your life than the gift of another eternal, living soul to have and to hold.

There will be pain, there will be suffering, there will be tears, but that's because you're fighting for something so precious, so beautiful, so heavenly. Everything that's worth something costs something.

Don't worry, My love, because I won't allow anything to happen that is more than you are able to bear. The intensity of the battle will not be any stronger than what I know you and I can handle together.

You have a mother's heart that is full of faith. So hold on to Me even when you feel like giving up. I won't fail you, and your faith won't fail.

You're going to be fighting a big battle in the spirit and in the physical, but I guarantee that you will make it through. You will be victorious, and the end result will make it worth it all.

Your baby wants to come out and be with you. Nine months is a long time to have to wait, so he's raring to go. He can't wait to be in your arms, to feel you so close, and to look in your eyes.

The miracle is going to happen! The baby will be born as I have promised! You will be victorious! I will answer your prayers! There's no doubt about it! I will fulfill My promises to you.

I will be by your side at every moment. Though you won't be able to feel Me or see Me, I'll be right there with you. So think of Me when you need that extra boost of strength and encouragement. I won't fail you.

Delivering a baby is part of your training. It strengthens your prayer muscles, teaches you deep lessons of faith and trust, and draws you ever closer to Me.

When you feel like you're at the end of your rope, that you can't go on any longer, that you don't have it in you, that you have no energy left, that's when I'll do the miracle.

My darling wife, I love you so. This is our baby and we're going to have it together. You can do it, because I'm going to help you. You won't be alone—not even for a second.

As your flesh fails, the windows of Heaven will open and I will pour out My strength upon you. When you feel like you can't go on a moment longer, I will deliver your baby into your hands.

I will anoint the midwives in their care of you. They will be anointed by Me, and if need be, I will even possess them with My Spirit. They will be My hands when you need Me, and I will deliver you in My perfect time.

You'll look back on your delivery and be so happy that you did it. Think about the result—the beautiful baby and all the happiness you'll have together.

Thank you for being such a wonderful example of faith and trust and obedience. I will bring you and your baby through victoriously!

This is hard work, bearing a child, and for that reason I am not asking you to do it alone, but I am right here helping you every step of the way.

You are bearing fruit for the future in having this child, and you will never regret it!

Look to Me, not to your feelings, circumstances, or difficulties. Look to Me and I will pull you through and give you a safe and speedy delivery.

This is one of the most important events of your life, and therefore I am sending special angels and spirit helpers to empower you and give you the strength and will and faith to be a wonderful fighter for Me! So keep fighting, because they are fighting with you and for you!

This little baby was planned by Me from the foundation of the Earth, and you are a wonderful sample of faith in bearing it.

Let My mind take you over during the contractions; think of Me, of My power, of My strong arms, and of My mighty strength doing the job through you, and I will.

A baby is one of My most perfect creations, and you are one of My most perfect mothers! I love you!

This is the moment I've been waiting for—the delivery of our baby! It has Me as its daddy too, because of how you and your husband have loved Me together. So I will bring it out safely and in My time.

Thank you for trusting Me, for believing in Me, for resting in Me. I will give you strength that you know not of. Look to Me, concentrate on Me, and I will do it!

It's a big fight, and I love to see you fighting in My Spirit, in My love, and in My power in order to bear this precious baby.

My beautiful mother-to-be, I love you and I promise that I will perfect that which concerns you.

You'll be surrounded by spirit helpers and by heavenly midwives and doctors who know what to do and how to do things, and will be the hands of your earthly midwife or doctor. I'm sending counselors and a whole detachment of My heavenly birthing team who have had thousands of years of experience, and know how to respond to everything.

Give Me a place at this delivery and everything will go well. I will bless it and bring your baby into the world happy, healthy, and every whit whole.

Childbirth is always difficult in some way, but I promise that I will keep you and the baby through the ordeal, and I will strengthen your body and your spirit to bring this little one into the world.

I'm going to give you the very best birth because you are My wife, and I can't have anything less than the best for you.

I am your doting Husband Who delights to give you your heart's desires and wishes—not to mention your needs and requirements! Your wish is My command! I'm at your service! I am the God of the universe. Nothing is impossible for Me to do for you, My precious one! Prove Me now and see if I will not pour out blessings which you cannot even contain, because My love for you is so great!

My precious love, you need not fear your delivery and all that it entails, for I will be with you every step of the way. I will be so close to you. I have promised that I will never leave you nor forsake you. I am but a breath away, a whisper away, and I'll speak to your heart with words of comfort, words of encouragement, and words of love which will give you the peace that will help you to rise above. You may even feel the touch of angel wings, as they ever so softly brush against you, as they minister to you.

Your children are just as much Mine as they are yours. I am more than their father. I am their Creator, and there is nothing that I will not do for them. I will go to the nth degree to protect and keep your children while they are in this world.

As you prepare to give birth to your little one, I want you to put your full faith and trust in Me. I will work out all the details. I know there are some details that are not ironed out and you wonder how you will be able to have a smooth delivery without these things in order, but you will have this child in perfect peace. I want you to reach out for the extra dose of faith and trust that is yours to claim.

I want you to cling to Me during this time, to acknowledge My presence, for I will be with you each step of the way. I am a Husband Who is eager and excited that yet another child is born. I will be at your side, and the minute you call, I will give you anything you need.

Be at peace, for all things will go as they should go. There will be some mystery and some suspense, but I guarantee that in the end, you and your mate will be filled with happiness, joy, and satisfaction of spirit.

Whether your delivery is smooth and easy or has some challenges, My promise is still the same—I will give you the strength to endure and the power to rise above. This is not in you, but in Me, and in the grace I will give you when the time comes.

At this moment you do not need the grace for the delivery, because it's not happening now. But when the time comes, you will have My grace in full measure.

When you think of the love that you have for your children, multiply that many times more, and you still will not know how great My love is for you, My child, and how great My love is for them.

Just take it a day at a time and do your part, and I'll do Mine, which is to bring your children into the world in My perfect time.

I love you and I'm taking care of you. I have My hand on your life and on your body. Everything will happen in My time, in My way, and through My perfect design.

If you have any questions or trials, come to Me, and I will be right there to give you the comfort and strength that you need—at any moment—because I love you and care for you as My wife, and I have your best interests at heart.

Oh, how I love children! It brings Me such joy to bless My brides on Earth with children; it brings Me such satisfaction because I know they are going to be blessed with a good, positive upbringing, one that is superior to any other in the world, for it teaches these little ones to know and love Me from an early age.

Having children is a challenge! It's not a piece of cake. It takes lots of love, patience, and hard work. But it is so worth it. There will be growth and there will be the joy of knowing that I am using you and molding you. As long as you look at it as an adventure in learning all that I have for you, you will have the best time of your life.

This is what you can claim through the keys—the peace that passes understanding that will keep your heart and mind. You can trust that no matter what you may face, I will be there by your side and I will uphold you and I will be very close to you.

You can praise Me for the unknowns. You can praise Me for the things that are different or unsettling, because through them I am teaching you dependence on Me and faith in Me and My promises.

Actively use the weapon of praise. Grasp it and use this birth experience to become more intimately acquainted with it. Praise Me for the ways that the birth experience will strengthen your faith and draw you closer to Me, and then embrace everything that comes along with it as My love for you. Watch what I will do. If you feel as though you cannot bear it, you can throw yourself on Me and watch Me pick up the burden and carry it.

It is always with great joy that I send another little one into the world, particularly to those of you in the Family whom I know will care for them and raise them in My ways.

There is a time of pain that brings forth the beauty of a new life. Just as in so many things in life, one must go through the testing in order to bring forth the new. But after that time of pain and trial, you come through having brought forth that which will last forever—an eternal soul.

I zealously guard and protect each little child I send into the world, and the mother who bears it, for both mother and child are precious to Me. I look after you as the loving Husband that I am, and I am there to see you through your delivery. I am the most skilled physician you could ever wish to have by your side during the birth of your baby, for not only do I seek to make the experience as easy as possible for you, but I also look after your well-being with the concern of a lover.

When you're faced with worries about whether the baby will stay safe within your womb for the duration of your pregnancy, claim this promise: The work I have begun in you, I will complete until My perfect timing. Your little one is safely in My care, and I will bring the baby into the world in good health and when I know the time is right. As you claim the keys of protection, I will guard and protect the life within you; have no fear.

If you're tempted to worry that the birth will be rife with complications or difficulties, repeat this promise and you will see the fears melt away: Hold tightly to Me, your loving Husband and Caregiver. I will not let go of you for even one moment, but will sustain your body and spirit. Through the power of the keys I will grant you the stamina and strength that you need in order to bring this baby into the world. The pain will not last one minute longer than is necessary in order to give birth to your little one, for I will surround you with a mighty aura of key power that will give you the grace to bring this baby into the world.

Whatever you need during your labor and delivery, whether it's physical, spiritual, or emotional, I will meet that need. Ask what you will in faith, believing that you will see miracles, and through the keys you will receive those miracles.

There's a host of helpers surrounding you and attending to your every need, attentive to your slightest whisper of a prayer. During your delivery, the room will be so packed with spirit help, anyone seeing it would be astounded if their spiritual eyes were to be opened. Call on these wonderful ones and they will give you the strength you need, the faith, the encouragement, and the answer to any questions that come up.

I will anoint the doctors and nurses. They will not stand alone, but a host of midwives and doctors will assist them from the spirit world. They will influence your earthly assistants, and will give them the anointing, power, and wisdom of Heaven as they help you to deliver this baby into the world.

I am your Husband, and I will not let go of your hand. As you look to Me, your strength will be renewed, your mind and heart will be at peace, and your body will be fortified by inexplicable and supernatural means.

You are the apple of My eye and the beat of My heart. You are what makes Me tick. I love you and I love our baby. I will deliver our baby. I will be the strong arm that you can hold on to.

Keep your spirit strong, so that when your flesh is tired and exhausted, your spirit will come to the fore and carry you through the last leg of the delivery.

Deliveries aren't always easy, but I have equipped you with the strength of a fighter, and you're a mighty warrior in spirit. So prepare yourself for the fight and get ready in the spirit. Arm yourself with the Word and the spiritual weapons; really practice wielding them, and you will come through victoriously.

When you feel you've come to the end of your rope, you know Who will be there at the other end, hanging on for you with all His might.

Your baby can't wait to be in your arms, and I will deliver this precious gift to you both safely and with great care and tenderness. I have been preparing your heart, mind, and spirit through the keys of motherhood. These keys will carry you through and give you the strength and energy you need, as I deliver My gift of love to you.

A good, strong prayer life is the foundation and cornerstone of good mothering. It will be your child's lifesaver time and time again throughout his life—a mother who intercedes for him in prayer.

You will be strengthened in your use of the keys as you hide the keys in your heart and let them be one with you; memorize them and use them every chance you get. The keys will guide you in your mothering; they will broaden your understanding of all things pertaining to raising your child.

When you're strong in the Word and prayer and the keys, I will do anything for you. I will lead you and guide you in your mothering and in all things. Your faith will be strengthened. You will have My strength and stamina to conquer any impossibility before you. Nothing can stop you, and thus you will be ready to tackle the high calling of motherhood, of shaping the future, of fulfilling My will.

I have scoped out the future for you and I made sure to remove any possible cause for concern or mishap regarding your delivery. I made sure to eradicate all negative potential. I've set My angels in place. There are angels on the roads, angels within your delivery room, angels surrounding every one of those who will touch My little child the moment she enters this world. You're cared for. I've seen to everything that you have not had time to see to, and I promise you, everything is going to be beautiful.

My gift of dependence, which has been cultivated within you through every month of pregnancy so far, will translate into the gift of preparedness and peace of mind and spirit the moment your babe is in your arms. For dependence on Me equals trust, trust brings peace, peace makes way for rest, in rest you find strength, and through My strength you will be all that I need you to be in this new realm of life. You feel unprepared? I say that you are prepared, for My Spirit has made preparations for you.

Written prayers for women in labor

96. (Prayer:) Dear Husband, thank You that You will be with _____ throughout her labor, and thank You for the promises You've given. Love, You said, "Call on the keys of deliverance when your time is come to give birth. The keys will see you safely through labor and delivery." Thank You for the power of the keys! We access their power now on _____'s behalf. We call on the keys of deliverance now to see _____ and the baby safely through the labor and delivery.

97. We also call on the keys of strength and endurance. You said, "Call on the keys of strength and endurance, and they will pull you through." _____ is probably feeling weak and incapable, Love, and in need of a boost of strength. We ask that Your strength will come through for her and empower her. Through the keys of endurance, help her to be able to hold on through each contraction, and give her the strength to push at the right time.

98. Keep the baby, Jesus. Protect him (or her) from Wolverine and any would-be attacks of the Enemy. Put a bubble of protection around them, and don't allow the Enemy to get anywhere near them during this time. Anoint the doctor and the nurses; give them wisdom and skill. Help them to be open to Your checks and Your Spirit, and to be led of You. Should any complications arise, we call on Christiaan Barnard to assist them.

99. We call on Your awesome key craft to protect, surround, shield, anoint, strengthen, and help _____ throughout the entire delivery. Thank You that any key that we need will immediately be forged in Heaven the moment we ask for it.

100. We thank You, dear Love, for this precious gift You're giving us. Thank You for the gift of new life. We call on the keys of life, and we claim their power. We thank You in advance for answering our prayers and for giving _____ a smooth and complication-free delivery. Thank You for Your goodness and tender care of _____ and her new little one. Thank You for helping them through. We love and praise You, wonderful Jesus. (End of prayer.)

101. (Prayer:) We glorify You, precious Husband, for Your supreme and marvelous care for both baby and mommy during all these months. We praise You for Your supernatural love, supply, and careful concern for each of their needs, which You have met so well, and which has kept them healthy and strong in preparation for this delivery.

102. Thank You for the keys of deliverance, faith, strength and stamina, which You have made readily available to us for today. We thank You especially for the key of faith, which we want to claim now. You promised that as we claim this key of faith and remind ourselves that You are constantly in control, that You will finish the good work You have begun and bring forth a healthy baby. You also promised that You and the keys would be present during the delivery and that we can have complete peace of mind, knowing that everything is going to turn out just right. Jesus, thank You for being by _____'s side. We believe in Your promises and count it done!

103. Dearest Husband, we claim a special anointing of strength—supernatural strength and endurance—which we know is ours to claim through the keys. Please empower _____ with the strength and endurance she will need before, during, and after labor in order for this to be a smooth and problem-free delivery. Soothe her body and make it easy for her to bear each contraction, to know when to push and when to rest, and to keep a good breathing pattern. And anoint _____ who is/are coaching her. Please give _____ the gift of support, helps, and an enhanced gift of sensitivity and attentiveness to _____'s needs.

104. We pray too that You will anoint the [midwife, doctors, nurses, medical staff, etc.] with supernatural wisdom and a special gift of peace and calm. Possess them with Your Spirit and fill them with Your love, which casts out all fear, worry, stress, tension, and anything that is not of You. Fill them so that the works of their hands, and their words and spirits, all convey Your Spirit and presence, and not one of haste or fear.

105. To them this might just be another delivery, but to You—and to us—this birth is ushering in another of Your beautiful creations, a child of David—one of Your Endtime prophets and leaders of the future—and we know the Enemy is going to be fighting it in any way he can. But Your strength—through the unlimited firepower of the keys—is so much stronger and able to thwart any of his attacks.

106. We call on the keys of protection and ask You to raise an impenetrable force field around the area where the baby will be delivered. We especially ask for Your protection against the attacks of Wolverine. We thwart, rebuke, and bind his demonic power through the keys of shelter and safekeeping, and we call on the aid and protection of Watcher and Haven to keep him at bay. We pray against any and all complications he may try to cause, and we send for the help of Elixor to place _____ and the baby within a protective force field that keeps their bodies every whit whole, functioning well and as needed for the duration of the delivery.

107. Jesus, our Husband, greatest Doctor in the universe, and mighty Deliverer, we stand on Your promises now and count them done. We ask that today be further testament of Your goodness and mercy, which we are in such desperate need of. We love, praise, and honor You, our precious King. (End of prayer.)

108. (Prayer:) Dearest Husband, we thank You for the gift of new life that You’ve created. It’s a wonderful miracle and a special blessing that You’re entrusting not only to _____, but to all of us. Thank You for this sign of Your love and power. Thank You for having begun a good work; we trust that You’ll complete it till the end.

109. We hold You to that promise, dear Husband, and we claim the keys of strength and deliverance for _____ who’s in labor right now. Please surround her with Your presence and Spirit. Help her to feel You right there with her, speaking words of comfort and encouragement to her heart, holding her hand, massaging her back, soothing any aching muscles, giving her the patience and grace she needs with each contraction, and the strength, through the power of the keys, to deliver this child into the world.

110. You promised, “The keys will carry you through childbearing; the keys will give you strength and energy to deliver this child.” We thank You for fulfilling that promise, and that the baby is going to come at Your appointed time. We ask that the labor won’t be long, difficult, or tiring, but that by the magical power of Your golden keys, You’ll make the time seem shorter than it really is, and the contractions and the natural discomforts that come with a delivery easier to bear.

111. Please send a key craft to hover over the entire hospital (or clinic/room). We ask that the keys of wisdom, skill, and anointing will be with the doctor (or midwife) who is helping to deliver the baby. We ask that You’ll fully possess him (or her), and fill him (or her) to overflowing with Your Spirit. Please remove anyone or anything that the Enemy might want to use to hinder or obstruct the miracle that You’re working right now.

112. We also pray for _____ (names of Family members with the mother at the birth), that You'll give them strength and grace. Please send Aphrodite and the Love Fairies to be with them and to help them to be the conduit of Your love, Spirit, and confidence that's needed at this time. We claim this promise that You've given us: "I will give you unity with your partners and the midwives or doctors. As you look to Me and claim the keys, I will make you all of one mind, one heart, and one spirit, as you work together to bring forth this new life that I have blessed you with."

113. We call on the help of Haven and Watcher, and ask specifically that you'll bind the power of Wolverine and anything he might try to do to cause problems. This baby is Your child, Lord, and You always care for Your Own. We hold You to Your promises. You're _____'s Husband; she's Your bride. We call on the keys of intimate love to manifest Your personalized care, power, and love for her right now. We pray against any complications during the delivery, and ask that it will be as smooth, easy, speedy, peaceful, and problem-free as possible. As we gather together in Your name, agreeing on this request, we know that it's done.

114. Please fill her heart with Your peace and faith, and the knowledge and assurance that You're in complete control. You're attuned to every detail of this birth, every angle of the situation, both physical and spiritual. You're in charge. You're the Great Physician, and we know that You'll bring forth this baby.

115. We praise You for the miracle You're going to do, wonderful Love. Thank You that we can be a part of it by calling on the keys and by upholding our mate in prayer. Thank You that all the angels in Heaven rejoice every time a soul is saved, and that they're going to rejoice when this "knew" little soul is safely delivered into the world.

116. We know that the Enemy will fight, because he knows what great things are going to be accomplished by this new disciple; he knows that You have a special plan and destiny for this child of David. But we thank You that Your awesome power is far greater than any machinations of the Enemy, and that You're going to surround our loved ones with a great force field of protection that the Enemy will not be able to penetrate.

117. Thank You, too, that You're going to make the baby's transition from Your beautiful world to this earthly one smooth and easy. Thank You that You're going to fill everyone the baby will come in contact with, especially during its first hours on Earth, with Your Spirit of peace and calm. We pray against anything that would in any way make the transition difficult for the baby. Thank You that our little ones always behold Your face, and that the first thing the baby will see when it comes into this world is You and Your beautiful angels and spirit helpers.

118. We thank You in advance for how You're going to help _____ to recover speedily from this delivery. We activate the keys of rejuvenation and health on her behalf, as well as the keys of adjustment to help her to adjust physically and spiritually to having a new little one.

119. Thank You, wonderful Love, for the miracles You're doing. We praise You in advance for the victories that are being won and for answering our prayers. You said that before we call, You answer, so we know that the wheels of Your miracle-working power are already in motion to answer this request. We praise You for that. We love You, our wonderful King and Husband. (End of prayer.)

120. (Prayer:) Darling Husband, thank You for the wonderful gift of new life that You've blessed this dear one with. We look forward to meeting this new child of Yours, and we thank You that You're going to complete the work that You've begun and bring forth a healthy baby into the world.

121. Jesus, we are blessed to have a part in this new little one's life, and we want to intercede on behalf of _____ and her child, who need Your supernatural help, strength, and protection right now. We call on the help of _____'s birthing angel to give her the strength of spirit and body, as well as peaceful images, praiseful thoughts, and comforting and encouraging words that will sustain her throughout the delivery.

122. We commit this baby and _____ to You, into Your loving hands and care, and ask for a non-complicated, easy-as-possible, problem-free delivery through the power of the keys.

123. You promised that You have created the life within, and that You will bring this babe safely into the world, by the power of the keys. So we ask that You surround _____ and her baby with all the key power that they need to go through this delivery and to come out victorious.

124. We raise a force field of protection around them, and pray that it will be impenetrable; that the Enemy will have no power to attack or hinder this baby's safe passage into the world, and for the well-being, health, and strength of mommy and baby. We rebuke and bind the power of Wolverine, and we call on angelic fighters to ward off his attacks and keep them far from _____ and her baby.

125. We call on the keys of delivery. We activate the power of the keys of protection. We cling to the keys of faith and trust. We wield the keys of endurance and strength for _____ so that she will have the help from You that she needs to make it through the delivery.

126. We claim the keys of anointing and wisdom for those who are aiding her and supporting her through the delivery. Give them a real good, strong connection with You, with _____, and with the midwives (or doctors) who are tending to the delivery, so that they can be a support, and have wisdom in any counseling needed regarding any decisions to be made. Help them to have a supernatural dose of faith and trust in You, so that they can impart this to _____ if she starts to get weary, or if something doesn't go exactly as she'd hoped, or if any complications arise.

127. Jesus, we trust in You. We trust that You'll take care of every detail. Even any possible complications are in Your capable hands to take care of, and we know You're going to see both mommy and baby safely through this delivery.

128. Dear Love, we praise You in advance for the victory, for the beautiful outcome of a new life born into the world. We praise You for the heavenly guard and spirit helpers that are surrounding _____ and all those with her right now, who are helping to bring about the answers to prayer. You are wonderful, sweet Lover—the best Husband, Father, and Caretaker we could ever ask for! (End of prayer.)

129. (Prayer:) Wonderful Jesus, Creator and Giver of life, we thank You for this new life that You are about to bless us with. A new disciple and new gift of love to us straight from You—so pure, so perfect, so beautiful.

130. Darling Love, we ask that You will be with both _____ and baby during this time of trial, this time of deliverance. We know that You are there with them as they labor, that Your strong arms are holding both of them, giving them the strength, endurance, and patience needed to bring forth another of Your crowning glories, a perfectly beautiful masterpiece, a jewel from Your hands. We thank and praise You for this gift, this little bundle of love from You. We couldn't ask for a more perfect gift.

131. Dear Husband, You said, and we claim: "I have created the life within you and

I will bring this babe safely into the world, by the power of the keys.” So we know that You are going to do the miracle of bringing forth this little life safely without any hindrances.

132. We ask You to give _____ all the strength, faith, and energy that she needs right now in order to push this little one out into the world. We claim the key: “The keys will carry you through childbearing; the keys will give you strength and energy to deliver this child.” Lord, there is nothing too hard or difficult for You, but we know that this is not an easy task for a mommy to do, so we ask that You would take over and help strengthen and protect her as she is in labor.

133. We rebuke any fear or anxiety. We pray against any stress, tension, or pressure, either on _____ or baby. We claim perfect peace and calm. We hold on to this key promise: “Great peace have they who love My keys, who use them and claim them. I will take away any anxiety or fear, and you will be blessed with great peace, even in the midst of storm.” Please keep her mind on You; fill her with Your love, peace, and assurance. We are counting on You to do it, to bring forth this miracle of life.

134. We ask that You will anoint the doctors and those in attendance, that they would be mindful of _____’s needs; that they would be godly and in tune with You and Your guidance. We activate this key: “The keys of skill and wisdom will be with the doctor. Claim them as he does his procedure, for the keys can be activated for anyone, even unbeknownst to them, and I will honor the request for the keys to help My children.” Please keep the medical ways of the world from standing in the way of Your workings. Give all involved great wisdom, positiveness, and faith that You are in control and will work everything out according to Your perfect plan.

135. We call on Haven and Watcher, and ask them to stand guard and be vigilant during the arrival of our new little one. We rebuke Wolverine. We bind his power and sic Haven and Watcher on him through the power of the keys. We call on the baby’s prayer angel and guardian angel to be very strong and powerful and present during the whole delivery.

136. Set angels around the rooms that our mommy, baby, and team will be residing in. Protect them from anything that is not of You. Anything of the Enemy that might try to get in—stop it at the gate and blast it back to Hell! Please protect our dear mommy and new baby from any harm, germs, or hurtful things. We know that You will place an impenetrable bubble of protection around them because we have asked You to do it. Thank You for Your care and mighty protection, You are so wonderful!

137. Thank You for counting us worthy to be stewards of one of Your precious treasures. We know that You will deliver this perfect gift to us in Your time. We praise You for this gift, this miracle that only You can perform. We claim speedy deliverance and recovery for both mommy and little one. We thank You for all that You have done! We praise You for the victory! (End of prayer.)

138. (Prayer:) Sweet Love, I praise and thank You for bringing _____ and her baby this far. Thank You for creating this new little life that is soon going to come into this world. Thank You for this miracle of life. Thank You for giving her the preparation of body, mind, heart, and spirit that she needs at this time.

139. Now that she’s in labor we ask that You will finish the good work that You’ve begun and bring forth a healthy baby. We call on the keys of endurance, strength, and stamina. We know that You are in control and that this birth will go the way You want it to. Jesus, she is Your bride and lover, and we ask that You will come through for her. Please be by her side and help her to feel Your presence comforting and soothing her spirit.

140. Labor is not an easy thing to go through. It's tiring, painful, and can sometimes last a long time. But we claim the keys and ask that _____ will be able to focus on the power and on You, and be able to think positive thoughts during this time of labor. Give her the faith she needs and help her to lean on You for her strength.

141. Through the power of the keys we ask that she will have a smooth, speedy, and problem-free delivery. We pray against Wolverine and any of his imps who may try to come in and hinder this birth in any way. We raise up a standard through the power of the keys and ask that You will send Watcher, Haven, and Tola and Tor, to be there and protect _____ and baby from any harm.

142. Thank You for the baby's guardian angel and prayer angel, who are strong and able to assist _____ and baby throughout the delivery. Please fill the delivery room with as many angels and spirit helpers as are needed, so that everything is "covered" in the spiritual realm. Provide angels of strength, angels of comfort, mothers from Heaven, and any other spirit helpers or angels that You know will help to make a big difference in the spirit.

143. Please anoint the doctor (or midwife) and give them the spirit help that they need. We also pray for those who are there with her. Please help them to be a strong support, and to be full of faith, wisdom, and strength. Thank You for the key promise that says: "With Me and the keys at your side, fighting for you, you can have total peace of mind, knowing that everything is going to turn out right." We stand on that promise, dear Love, and ask that You will help everything turn out right. Through the power of the keys we claim it. Amen! (End of prayer.)

144. (Prayer:) Heaven and Earth are moved by prayer. Prayer can induce labor, bring contractions, help the mother to push, give her strength, guide the baby, help it to breathe, and surround both mother and baby with a blanket of love and protection.

145. We want to pray for _____'s strength, trust, and faith as she goes through each phase of labor; that she'll feel Your presence and the aid of the birthing angel whose duty is to help gently push and guide the baby down the canal into its new life, and help it to take its first breath of life.

146. Please give the doctors and nurses (midwife and/or whoever is assisting), a special anointing of love and discernment and an encouraging spirit. And also help _____, who is assisting as coach, to be filled with so much faith that it becomes a blanket of praise and protection for _____ and the baby. Give _____ supernatural strength and confidence to know that all is well and that everything will be just as it should be. We claim the keys of peace of mind for _____ until the baby is safe in her arms.

147. We rebuke all fear and worry. If _____ is tempted to fret or to have any anxiety, help her to immediately see Your loving face, feel Your kisses, and know that You are holding her hand, whispering words of faith to help her relax in the power of Your total control. Every minute of every hour, every birth of every baby ever born, everything in the past, present, and future, is in Your all-capable hands. You always do all things well.

148. Thank You, Jesus, for this new life; we dedicate it to You and to Your service. Thank You for giving us the baby, and now we return it to You for Your service, like little Samuel. We pray that the baby will live its life in service to You, as Your instrument to perform Your will on Earth as it did in Heaven. (End of prayer.)
